Holiday's Death Toll Slacks Off

Some Pickup Again Expected During Weekend Hours

Traffic	193
Fires	21
Miscellaneous	43
Total	257

By The Associated Press

The rate of highway traffic deaths slackened Friday as many Americans went back to a workaday routine after the Thanksgiving feast.

The toll, which had been nearly four deaths an hour during the first 24-hour period of a tally starting at 6 p.m., Wednesday dropped to three an hour Friday.

Pickup Expected

With some pickup expected during normal weekend hours, especially Saturday night and early Sunday when tipplers are most numerous, it still appeared the four-day highway toll might be modest.

The current holiday survey covers the period from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday to midnight Sunday — 102 hours. The accident death toll in a survey made by The Associated Press for a weekend of similar length from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 11 to midnight Sunday, Nov. 15, was 433 traffic fatalities.

During the test period 49 were killed in fires and 100 in miscellaneous other accidents, an overall toll of 582.

Estimate 470 Deaths

The National Safety Council estimated that 470 persons would be killed during a weekend period of four days at this time of year.

Last year, the Associated Press counted 454 traffic deaths during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, 54 in fires and 118 from miscellaneous accidents—626 in all.

The record four-day holiday traffic toll, for Christmas 1956, was 707. Fires and miscellaneous other accidents brought the fatality toll to 884.

Guevara Gets Cuban Bank Presidency

Argentine-Born Leftist Moves Up In Castro Regime

HAVANA (AP)—Bearded Maj. Ernesto Guevara, wearing a dark beret, a rumpled army uniform and a big grin, took over Cuba's National Bank Friday.

The Argentine-born leftist, stepping steadily closer to the top of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's hierarchy, moved behind the bank president's desk, succeeding conservative financial expert Felipe Pazos, an internationally recognized banker.

As head of the National Bank, appointed by the Cabinet Thursday, Guevara will control Cuba's foreign exchange reserves and act as virtual dictator of its imports and exports.

Warns Cubans

Guevara warned Cubans of new belt-tightening to stem the decline in Cuba's foreign exchange reserves.

Guevara, whose political and economic thinking is orientated more toward the Soviet Union than the United States, blamed low sugar prices for the drop in Cuban reserves.

"If sugar prices had been normal from the first, our foreign exchange situation would have been comfortable," he told the Semiofficial newspaper Revolucion.

Guevara said Cuban bank depositors were logically uneasy about his appointment "because I have a certain fame as an extreme radical." Nevertheless, he promised no abrupt changes in government economic policies.

Cubans, he said, can expect continuation and probably even expansion of rigid import controls to preserve dollar balances which Guevara conceded still are declining.

Seize More Land

With the change in bank leadership, the government announced the first formal expropriation of land holdings under the agrarian reform law. Previous land seizures were made without formal reference to the law.

Seized for distribution among landless peasants or conversion into state directed farm cooperatives were the 300,000-acre properties of Hacienda Sevilla in eastern Oriente province.

Officials here said the land—most of it in the mountainous area where Castro first gathered strength for his revolution—was owned by the Cuban Development Co. of Delaware and under lease to a Cuban agricultural firm.

In other developments, military authorities rounded up 250 persons in the Holguin area of Oriente province. Among them is an American sugar cane grower identified as William Fuller.

Parliament's Approval Is Tremendous

Nepal Is Considered Within The Orbit Of India's Defenses

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru won overwhelming approval Friday of his handling of the border dispute with Red China after demanding that Parliament back him up or get a new prime minister.

Only one or two noes were heard in the thundering voice vote.

In debate Nehru boldly declared for the first time that the neighboring independent kingdom of Nepal lies within the orbit of India's defenses against Red Chinese incursions. He said attacks on Nepal and protectorate states nearby would be considered attacks on India itself.

Provides Buffer

Nepal provides a buffer along 400 miles of the high Himalyan terrain between India and Chinese-occupied Tibet. Chinese incursions have come from Tibet where India and Tibet meet west of Nepal, and Chinese forces have been reported on the Tibet-Nepal border.

Closing a three-day debate in the lower house on the dispute in which the Red Chinese killed 12 Indian border patrolmen in two incidents Aug. 26 and Oct. 21, Nehru upbraided the Chinese but said his policy is to settle the issue peacefully if possible.

The affair, he said, "could shake the world" but India's plan is to take a calm approach without giving in. For him, he added, this is "one of those peak events of history when the plunge has to be taken in some direction."

Drawing a sharp distinction between the Soviet Union and Red China, Nehru declared: "I don't think there is any country in the world today which is more anxious for peace than the Soviet Union. I don't think there is any country in the world today which cares less for peace than China."

Dramatic Assertion

He then made this dramatic assertion: "If this house thinks my manner of carrying on in this situation is not adequate then the honorable members are free to choose another prime minister."

"If on balance, this house feels this government and this prime minister have got to face a challenge, then help him, stand by him, Don't criticize him," he said.

Communist China controls some 9,000 square miles of territory claimed by India.

Many speakers had demanded stronger action than Nehru's notes to Peiping. Several urged that India send the army to throw out the Chinese.

Toward the end of his 80-minute speech, Nehru defended Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who was charged with being soft on communism. Nehru said Menon was sometimes wrong but he is "a man of the deepest patriotism and national feeling."

Snow, Rain Hobble Traffic In Northeast

By The Associated Press

Snow and rain hobbled traffic on slippery, slushy roads in the Northeast Friday.

The storm dumped its heaviest load of snow in New York State. The fall reached a depth of 10 inches in Newcomb in the Adirondacks and a foot in Boonville.

The snowfall missed the lower Hudson Valley and Long Island but formed a blanket several inches thick in Syracuse, Utica, and Rome.

Rain spread across most of New York State after the snow. The snow either vanished or turned to slush. The result was hazardous driving.

Three women were killed when their automobile skidded on snow-covered Rt. 11 north of Watertown.

Vermont had its first widespread snow of the season. It formed a 3-inch carpet in the central and northern sections of the state. Stowe, Vt., happy with 5 inches of snow, planned to open a ski lift for the first time this fall.

Snow also swirled in Dixie and the Southwest.

The heaviest snowfall in several years excited attention in the Shreveport area in northwestern Louisiana. The snow melted as it hit the ground. Freezing weather was expected during the night.

Memphis had snow flurries for the first time this season.

Highway crews labored until dawn clearing roads in northern New Mexico after a snowfall that ranged up to 6 inches.

Northwest winds swept cold air across the nation from the Rockies the Appalachians. Temperatures dropped to -6 in Leadville, Colo., -5 in Trinidad, Colo., -4 in Bemidji, Minn., and -3 in Lone Rock, Wis., and Estancia Valley, N.M.

U.S. Marine Guard Kidnaped In India

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Marine guard at the U.S. consulate in Bombay, India, was reported kidnaped and held for six hours Friday by the staff of the Chinese Communist consulate there.

The State Department said the guard had stayed overnight at a beach house with a would-be defector from Red China, identified as the Bombay representative of the Chinese Import-Export Corp.

Sgt. Robert Amstrong, a native of Martinez, Calif., was released after intervention by the Bombay police.

A news dispatch from Bombay said he had been bound and beaten by the Chinese Reds. The dispatch attributed his discovery to an Indian postman. The State Department said only that he had been seen by an Indian citizen was he was being taken, bound, into the Chinese Communist consulate.

State department press officer Joseph Reap called it kidnaping and added: "A high-handed, outrageous thing."

The reported kidnaping was connected, in both the department account and an account provided by a U.S. spokesman in Bombay, with efforts by the consulate to protect the would-be defector, Chang Chien-huh.

The State Department said Chang called at the consulate, inquired about obtaining entry into the United States, and "showed extreme anxiety for his safety."

There were some discrepancies in the two accounts although the report from the State Department admittedly was incomplete.

Chang, the department said, told consulate officials "he had been brooding over the implications of the extremist trend in Chinese Communist policies and was fed up with the increased regimentation of his life."

He wrote out a statement in Chinese and English, requesting asylum in the United States, the department said.

An officer of the consulate, who was not named by the department, was said to have taken Chang and Armstrong to a beach house where they could talk quietly. The cottage was at Jehu, a resort 15 miles outside Bombay, the Bombay dispatch said.

"Since he feared for his safety," the State Department said, "arrangements were made for Chang Chien-huh to stay at the beach house overnight with Sgt. Armstrong."

That was Thursday night, Bombay time. About 7:30 Friday morning, Bombay time, the State Department said, "Armstrong was seen by an Indian private citizen being taken, bound, by Chinese into the Chinese Communist consulate general.

"The Indian national reported this to the local police and to the American consulate general. Our latest information indicates that it was a number of hours later and after repeated interventions by the Bombay police that Sgt. Armstrong was released by the Chinese Communists."

Reap said the department had no information on what happened to Chang, but "presumably he's in the hands of the Chinese Communists."

Reap also said he had no information that Armstrong had been harmed.

The State Department had no information, officials said, about how Armstrong and Chang got from the beach cottage to the Red Chinese consulate, or where the alleged attack on Armstrong occurred.

Teamsters Say Industry Backs 12 Insurgents

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Teamsters charged Friday that members of the industry have given financial aid to 12 insurgent Teamsters trying to oust union President James R. Hoffa.

The union filed a suit in federal court seeking to nullify an anti-Hoffa court action filed on behalf of the 12 members by Atty. Godfrey P. Schmidt.

Schmidt filed a motion in U.S. District Court in Washington nine days ago asking for Hoffa's removal pending trial before a board of special examiners or referees.

The motion accused Hoffa of denying Teamsters members their legal rights and of refusing to cooperate with a court-appointed board of monitors to supervise Teamsters's affairs.

In its counteraction, the union claimed that Schmidt and his 12 clients were working together in a "common scheme and plan" and "aided and abetted by members of industry."

"The now-apparent aim of this scheme was to do disrupt and disorganize the lawful and legitimate operations of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and its subordinate bodies as a labor organization that its internal efficiency as a labor representative for its more than 1,600,000 members would be impeded and obstructed and rendered ineffective," it added.

The union's suit said that money paid to Schmidt and his 12 clients by representatives of industry were paid in New York City.

Named in the suit as among those giving financial aid were the Brass Rail Restaurants, Howard Johnson, the New York Restaurant Assn., Schrafft food chain, the General Electric Co., The Dairymen's League, members of the National Assn. of Manufacturers and the Bickford food chain.

Japanese Storm Parliament To Denounce U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of leftist-led Japanese demanding an end to U. S. military ties stormed into the grounds of the Parliament building Friday. Police and sponsors of the demonstration reported 462 persons injured in clashes with police.

The chanting, shouting crowd of about 27,000 broke through the lines of 5,000 police and waved red flags from the portal that is reserved for Emperor Hirohito and visiting chiefs of state.

It was the first time in Japanese parliamentary history that mobs have broken into the grounds of the white stone building. The Parliament building itself was not entered.

For more than an hour about 8,000 demonstrators stayed on the grounds. They finally dispersed at the urging of their own leaders. Not a shot was fired, but the crowd threw many stones, and police said it was the most violent outbreak since the 1952 May Day riot when one person was killed and 500 injured.

The 1952 riot turned into an anti-American demonstration. It started over a police ban against use of the Imperial Plaza for a May Day parade.

The sponsors of Friday's demonstration were the Socialist and Communist parties, the 3½-million labor federation Sohyo, and Zengakuren, a radical student organization.

They called the demonstration to protest the U. S.-Japan mutual defense treaty, which is being revised through negotiation, and payment of 55-million-dollar war reparations to South Viet Nam.

As the demonstrators were breaking through the main gate, the legislators were resting in the Parliament building from an all-night session at which the reparations pact was ratified.

Police said about 200,000 persons took part in similar "unified action" demonstrations at 190 other places throughout Japan.

Actress Ill With Pneumonia

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor, stricken with double virus pneumonia, was reported doing well Friday.

But hospital authorities said they could not predict how long it would take the disease to run its course.

Double pneumonia means both lungs are infected, while virus pneumonia is a primary type, caused by bacteria invading an otherwise healty person.

"It could last three days, or three weeks, depending on how it develops," said a spokesman for Columbia - Presbyterian Medical Center.

Miss Taylor entered the center's Harkness Pavilion Thursday, after suffering from a persistent cough for two weeks.

Another entertainer, singer Judy Garland, recovering from a liver ailment, was reported "coming along well" at Doctor's Hospital. A spokesman said she would probably be in the hospital another two weeks. She was admitted Nov. 19.

"Republican" Tree Goes To White House

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (UPI) —A 70-foot "Republican" Christman tree Friday began its trip to the White House lawn.

The tree was a gift of Miss Alice Kimball, 81, a life-long Republican who said she wouldn't have given it if a Democrat were occupying the White House.

Hawaii Celebrates Statehood Holiday

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii strutted its stuff for statehood Friday.

On a special holiday, called to celebrate the admission of the islands as the 50th state, thousands lined a broad avenue and watched floats go by. They depicted Hawaii's many racial strains.

Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, and 19 senators and congressmen rode in the procession.

The celebration began Thanksgiving Day.

Sentry Shot By Companion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 19-year-old Marine killed his 20-year-old companion in a fast-draw game in their tiny sentry box Friday.

Pvt. John G. Barton, Tecumseh, Mich., immediately telephoned for an ambulance for the victim, Pvt. Niels Hagerman of Danville, Ill. He said he accidentally discharged his .45-caliber service automatic, at 2½ feet, while practicing drawing.

A Navy board of inquiry met a few hours later to begin questioning friends of both.

Pending completion of the inquiry, Maj. Milton Cooper, commander of the Marine detachment at Hunters Point Naval Shipyard, reported: "There seems to be no question that this was accidental, as Barton said. I'm sure it is a case of perhaps too much TV, boredom at 3:30 in the morning, and horseplay. The boys were not buddies, but there is no indication of any bad blood between them."

Maj. Cooper emphasized the fast-draw practice is strictly banned. He said he had issued orders —supplementing general Navy orders—that a sentry must not remove his gun from his holster except to fire at a person.

Barton was held pending completion of the investigation.

Break In Cover Ruined Moon Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday that films and telemetry records indicate the Thanksgiving morning moon shot failed because a plastic covering over the payload came off about 45 seconds after the rocket launching.

Officials at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the rocket was launched at 2:32 a.m. Thursday, had theorized earlier that the fairing, as the covering over the payload is called, had broken off prematurely.

Ocean Searched For Four Airmen After Jet Crashes

HONOLULU (AP) — Seven planes and three ships searched the ocean Friday between Hawaii and Wake for four airmen believed to have bailed out of a jet attack plane just before it crashed.

The jet, a twin-engined Skywarrior from Whidby Island Naval Station, Wash., took off Thursday from Barber's Point Naval Air Station, Hawaii. It planned to refuel at Wake on a flight to Japan.

A Navy pilot flying over the Pacific got the terse radio word from the jet pilot that the jet was lost and that he and his crew of three would bail out in 15 minutes. That was the last word.

The jet's last position was not known.

Santa Couldn't Read Message

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Three-year-old Ruth Waters visited Santa Claus Friday and handed him a slip of paper with his name on it.

The usually jolly St. Nick frowned and beckoned Mrs. Waters, who was standing nearby.

"What does this say," he whispered. "I left my glasses at home."

Bang-Jensen Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Authorities strove Friday to answer a final nagging question about Povl Bang-Jensen, though they clung firmly to a suicide theory in the death of the former Danish diplomat.

There may have been as much as 48 hours between the time he was last seen and when he apparently shot himself to death in a wooded Queen. park.

Where was he and what was he doing in the final hours of his life?

The American wife of the handsome, 50-year-old Dane believed he had about $10 in his pockets when he kissed her goodby early Monday morning and presumably set out for his temporary job in New York.

But when his body was discovered early Thursday in Alley Pond Park, within walking distance of his home at nearby Lake Success, his pockets yielded only about $4.

Medical authorities could not agree on the length of time he had been dead. One said it was 24 hours or less, another said 24 or more.

If the figure were 24, that would leave the last 48 hours of his life unaccounted for.

Contents of an apparent suicide note found on the body have not been disclosed although investigators said it voiced despondency over Bang-Jensen's loss of a $17,000-a-year United Nations post last year.

Pet Lioness Stalks Youth, Shot And Killed By Owner

RAWLINS, Wyo. (UPI) — Togey, a pet mountain lioness out on a rabbit hunt with her master, stalked and attacked a 13-year-old youth near here Friday.

But the boy, John Woodbury, escaped serious injury because Togey's claws and fangs had been removed. She had only her jaw teeth left.

Togey's owner, Lloyd Woodbury, a taxidermist, pulled the animal from John, his nephew, then shot and killed it with a .22 caliber rifle when it turned on him.

Woodbury said he was hunting with John and another Newphew, Glenn Woodbury, 15, and he allowed Togey to tag along.

"Then Togey started stalking John. She knocked him down and the smell of blood must have set her off. She just reverted, I guess. You never know about wild animals."

Woodbury, who was given the 140-pound animal when it was a cub, kept Togey on a leash in his taxidermy shop but let her go free when he had her out in the country.

"She had never done anything like that before," he said.

A physician reported that John suffered cuts and bruises about his head and mild shock but was in good condition.

Singer Admits Payola Complicity

NEW YORK (AP) — A singer who also owns a record firm told newsmen Friday he had turned over two canceled checks to the office of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan as evidence he had made payoffs to disc jockeys to plug his records.

Don Anthony, 31, was questioned by investigators for Hogan after the Bronx entertainer reported payments to disc jockeys "all over the country."

Also questioned Friday by investigators for the district attorney was Scott Muni, a disc jockey for radio station WMCA and first vice president of the Disc Jockey Assn., Inc., a recently formed organization Muni says has 200 members.

Burglars Met Their Match In This London Household

LONDON (UPI) —Two men bent on burglary sneaked into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Green early Friday. They probably wished they hadn't.

Former fighter pilot Green told the story:

"My wife and I woke up and found two men in the bedroom, ransacking our dressing table drawers. We jumped out of bed.

"I tackled one man and my wife, Josephine, tackled the other. He dragged her down the corridor and escaped, leaving his shoes. I held onto the other man and we were fighting when my daughter, Marlene (18), joined in.

"She coshed him with a tennis racket so hard it broke."

Reinforcements came — the other Green children, Leonard, 10, and Madeleine, 13. Leonard whacked the man with a shoe tree, hard and often.

"I was stark naked," said Green. "Pretty embarrassing."

"I broke the elastic on my pajamas and they fell down," said Marlene. "But I got a scarf, tied it around me and kept hitting him."

The burglar finally escaped. But all were heroes in the Green household — all except Cindy, the family's Alsatian dog. The pet stood placidly by during the entire ruckus.

U.S. Marine Guard Kidnaped In India

Milton Cooper, commander of the Marine detachment at Hunters Point Naval Shipyard, reported: "There seems to be no question that this was accidental, as Barton said. I'm sure it is a case of perhaps too much TV, boredom at 3:30 in the morning, and horseplay. The boys were not buddies, but there is no indication of any bad blood between them."

Maj. Cooper emphasized the fast-draw practice is strictly banned. He said he had issued orders —supplementing general Navy orders—that a sentry must not remove his gun from his holster except to fire at a person.

Barton was held pending completion of the investigation.

Teamsters Say Industry Backs 12 Insurgents

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Brotherhood of Teamsters charged Friday that members of the industry have given financial aid to 12 insurgent Teamsters trying to oust union President James R. Hoffa.

The union filed a suit in federal court seeking to nullify an anti-Hoffa court action filed on behalf of the 12 members by Atty. Godfrey P. Schmidt.

Schmidt filed a motion in U.S. District Court in Washington nine days ago asking for Hoffa's removal pending trial before a board of special examiners or referees.

The motion accused Hoffa of denying Teamsters members their legal rights and of refusing to cooperate with a court-appointed board of monitors to supervise Teamsters's affairs.

In its counteraction, the union claimed that Schmidt and his 12 clients were working together in a "common scheme and plan" and "aided and abetted by members of industry."

"The now-apparent aim of this scheme was to do disrupt and disorganize the lawful and legitimate operations of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and its subordinate bodies as a labor organization that its internal efficiency as a labor representative for its more than 1,600,000 members would be impeded and obstructed and rendered ineffective," it added.

The union's suit said that money paid to Schmidt and his 12 clients by representatives of industry were paid in New York City.

Named in the suit as among those giving financial aid were the Brass Rail Restaurants, Howard Johnson, the New York Restaurant Assn., Schrafft food chain, the General Electric Co., The Dairymen's League, members of the National Assn. of Manufacturers and the Bickford food chain.

Break In Cover Ruined Moon Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday that films and telemetry records indicate the Thanksgiving morning moon shot failed because a plastic covering over the payload came off about 45 seconds after the rocket launching.

Officials at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where the rocket was launched at 2:32 a.m. Thursday, had theorized earlier that the fairing, as the covering over the payload is called, had broken off prematurely.

Guevara Gets Cuban Bank Presidency

Argentine-Born Leftist Moves Up In Castro Regime

HAVANA (AP)—Bearded Maj. Ernesto Guevara, wearing a dark beret, a rumpled army uniform and a big grin, took over Cuba's National Bank Friday.

The Argentine-born leftist, stepping steadily closer to the top of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's hierarchy, moved behind the bank president's desk, succeeding conservative financial expert Felipe Pazos, an internationally recognized banker.

As head of the National Bank, appointed by the Cabinet Thursday, Guevara will control Cuba's foreign exchange reserves and act as virtual dictator of its imports and exports.

Warns Cubans

Guevara warned Cubans of new belt-tightening to stem the decline in Cuba's foreign exchange reserves.

Guevara, whose political and economic thinking is orientated more toward the Soviet Union than the United States, blamed low sugar prices for the drop in Cuban reserves.

"If sugar prices had been normal from the first, our foreign exchange situation would have been comfortable," he told the Semiofficial newspaper Revolucion.

Guevara said Cuban bank depositors were logically uneasy about his appointment "because I have a certain fame as an extreme radical." Nevertheless, he promised no abrupt changes in government economic policies.

Cubans, he said, can expect continuation and probably even expansion of rigid import controls to preserve dollar balances which Guevara conceded still are declining.

Seize More Land

With the change in bank leadership, the government announced the first formal expropriation of land holdings under the agrarian reform law. Previous land seizures were made without formal reference to the law.

Seized for distribution among landless peasants or conversion into state directed farm cooperatives were the 300,000-acre properties of Hacienda Sevilla in eastern Oriente province.

Officials here said the land—most of it in the mountainous area where Castro first gathered strength for his revolution—was owned by the Cuban Development Co. of Delaware and under lease to a Cuban agricultural firm.

In other developments, military authorities rounded up 250 persons in the Holguin area of Oriente province. Among them is an American sugar cane grower identified as William Fuller.

Ocean Searched For Four Airmen After Jet Crashes

HONOLULU (AP) — Seven planes and three ships searched the ocean Friday between Hawaii and Wake for four airmen believed to have bailed out of a jet attack plane just before it crashed.

The jet, a twin-engined Skywarrior from Whidby Island Naval Station, Wash., took off Thursday from Barber's Point Naval Air Station, Hawaii. It planned to refuel at Wake on a flight to Japan.

A Navy pilot flying over the Pacific got the terse radio word from the jet pilot that the jet was lost and that he and his crew of three would bail out in 15 minutes. That was the last word.

The jet's last position was not known.

Japanese Storm Parliament To Denounce U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of leftist-led Japanese demanding an end to U. S. military ties stormed into the grounds of the Parliament building Friday. Police and sponsors of the demonstration reported 462 persons injured in clashes with police.

The chanting, shouting crowd of about 27,000 broke through the lines of 5,000 police and waved red flags from the portal that is reserved for Emperor Hirohito and visiting chiefs of state.

It was the first time in Japanese parliamentary history that mobs have broken into the grounds of the white stone building. The Parliament building itself was not entered.

For more than an hour about 8,000 demonstrators stayed on the grounds. They finally dispersed at the urging of their own leaders. Not a shot was fired, but the crowd threw many stones, and police said it was the most violent outbreak since the 1952 May Day riot when one person was killed and 500 injured.

The 1952 riot turned into an anti-American demonstration. It started over a police ban against use of the Imperial Plaza for a May Day parade.

The sponsors of Friday's demonstration were the Socialist and Communist parties, the 3½-million labor federation Sohyo, and Zengakuren, a radical student organization.

They called the demonstration to protest the U. S.-Japan mutual defense treaty, which is being revised through negotiation, and payment of 55-million-dollar war reparations to South Viet Nam.

As the demonstrators were breaking through the main gate, the legislators were resting in the Parliament building from an all-night session at which the reparations pact was ratified.

Police said about 200,000 persons took part in similar "unified action" demonstrations at 190 other places throughout Japan.

Santa Couldn't Read Message

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Three-year-old Ruth Waters visited Santa Claus Friday and handed him a slip of paper with his name on it.

The usually jolly St. Nick frowned and beckoned Mrs. Waters, who was standing nearby.

"What does this say," he whispered. "I left my glasses at home."

Parliament's Approval Is Tremendous

Nepal Is Considered Within The Orbit Of India's Defenses

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru won overwhelming approval Friday of his handling of the border dispute with Red China after demanding that Parliament back him up or get a new prime minister.

Only one or two noes were heard in the thundering voice vote.

In debate Nehru boldly declared for the first time that the neighboring independent kingdom of Nepal lies within the orbit of India's defenses against Red Chinese incursions. He said attacks on Nepal and protectorate states nearby would be considered attacks on India itself.

Provides Buffer

Nepal provides a buffer along 400 miles of the high Himalyan terrain between India and Chinese-occupied Tibet. Chinese incursions have come from Tibet where India and Tibet meet west of Nepal, and Chinese forces have been reported on the Tibet-Nepal border.

Closing a three-day debate in the lower house on the dispute in which the Red Chinese killed 12 Indian border patrolmen in two incidents Aug. 26 and Oct. 21, Nehru upbraided the Chinese but said his policy is to settle the issue peacefully if possible.

The affair, he said, "could shake the world" but India's plan is to take a calm approach without giving in. For him, he added, this is "one of those peak events of history when the plunge has to be taken in some direction."

Drawing a sharp distinction between the Soviet Union and Red China, Nehru declared: "I don't think there is any country in the world today which is more anxious for peace than the Soviet Union. I don't think there is any country in the world today which cares less for peace than China."

Dramatic Assertion

He then made this dramatic assertion: "If this house thinks my manner of carrying on in this situation is not adequate then the honorable members are free to choose another prime minister."

"If on balance, this house feels this government and this prime minister have got to face a challenge, then help him, stand by him, Don't criticize him," he said.

Communist China controls some 9,000 square miles of territory claimed by India.

Many speakers had demanded stronger action than Nehru's notes to Peiping. Several urged that India send the army to throw out the Chinese.

Toward the end of his 80-minute speech, Nehru defended Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who was charged with being soft on communism. Nehru said Menon was sometimes wrong but he is "a man of the deepest patriotism and national feeling."

Bang-Jensen Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Authorities strove Friday to answer a final nagging question about Povl Bang-Jensen, though they clung firmly to a suicide theory in the death of the former Danish diplomat.

There may have been as much as 48 hours between the time he was last seen and when he apparently shot himself to death in a wooded Queens park.

Where was he and what was he doing in the final hours of his life?

The American wife of the handsome, 50-year-old Dane believed he had about $10 in his pockets when he kissed her goodby early Monday morning and presumably set out for his temporary job in New York.

But when his body was discovered early Thursday in Alley Pond Park, within walking distance of his home at nearby Lake Success, his pockets yielded only about $4.

Medical authorities could not agree on the length of time he had been dead. One said it was 24 hours or less, another said 24 or more.

If the figure were 24, that would leave the last 48 hours of his life unaccounted for.

Contents of an apparent suicide note found on the body have not been disclosed although investigators said it voiced despondency over Bang-Jensen's loss of a $17,000-a-year United Nations post last year.

Pet Lioness Stalks Youth, Shot And Killed By Owner

RAWLINS, Wyo. (UPI) — Togey, a pet mountain lioness out on a rabbit hunt with her master, stalked and attacked a 13-year-old youth near here Friday.

But the boy, John Woodbury, escaped serious injury because Togey's claws and fangs had been removed. She had only her jaw teeth left.

Togey's owner, Lloyd Woodbury, a taxidermist, pulled the animal from John, his nephew, then shot and killed it with a .22 caliber rifle when it turned on him.

Woodbury said he was hunting with John and another Newphew, Glenn Woodbury, 15, and he allowed Togey to tag along.

"Then Togey started stalking John. She knocked him down and the smell of blood must have set her off. She just reverted, I guess. You never know about wild animals."

Woodbury, who was given the 140-pound animal when it was a cub, kept Togey on a leash in his taxidermy shop but let her go free when he had her out in the country.

"She had never done anything like that before," he said.

A physician reported that John suffered cuts and bruises about his head and mild shock but was in good condition.

Singer Admits Payola Complicity

NEW YORK (AP) — A singer who also owns a record firm told newsmen Friday he had turned over two canceled checks to the office of Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan as evidence he had made payoffs to disc jockeys to plug his records.

Don Anthony, 31, was questioned by investigators for Hogan after the Bronx entertainer reported payments to disc jockeys "all over the country."

Also questioned Friday by investigators for the district attorney was Scott Muni, a disc jockey for radio station WMCA and first vice president of the Disc Jockey Assn., Inc., a recently formed organization Muni says has 200 members.

Burglars Met Their Match In This London Household

LONDON (UPI) —Two men bent on burglary sneaked into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Green early Friday. They probably wished they hadn't.

Former fighter pilot Green told the story:

"My wife and I woke up and found two men in the bedroom, ransacking our dressing table drawers. We jumped out of bed.

"I tackled one man and my wife, Josephine, tackled the other. He dragged her down the corridor and escaped, leaving his shoes. I held onto the other man and we were fighting when my daughter, Marlene (18), joined in.

"She coshed him with a tennis racket so hard it broke."

Reinforcements came — the other Green children, Leonard, 10, and Madeleine, 13. Leonard whacked the man with a shoe tree, hard and often.

"I was stark naked," said Green. "Pretty embarrassing."

"I broke the elastic on my pajamas and they fell down," said Marlene. "But I got a scarf, tied it around me and kept hitting him."

The burglar finally escaped. But all were heroes in the Green household — all except Cindy, the family's Alsatian dog. The pet stood placidly by during the entire ruckus.

Commerce Dept. Rejects Steel Stockpile Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department Friday rejected a suggestion by the United Steelworkers Union that steel be stockpiled for defense use if the industry strike is resumed after a Taft-Hartley law injunction expires Jan. 26.

The action came as representatives of the industry and union agreed to resume peace talks in the long dispute here next Tuesday.

Philip A. Ray, acting secretary of commerce, indirectly accused the union of trying to shift to the government the responsibility for any defense lags which might result if the walkout is resumed.

In a letter to Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, Ray said stockpiling would not assure steel for defense requirements.

"Only continued production of steel in all its phases can supply the real needs of defense," Ray said.

"The public interest requires parties to the negotiation to settle their differences at the collective bargaining table, and this responsibility cannot be shifted," Ray declared.

Goldberg wrote Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller a week ago suggesting that the government should stockpile steel.

"While I have not abandoned hope that a settlement in steel will be reached before the 80-day injunction expires. . . . I must advise you in all candor that at the present writing no settlement is in prospect," he said.

Ray, in reply, said, "I am sure you do not intend to leave the impression that you and the parties who you represent are not making every conceivable effort to bring about a settlement at the bargaining table which will truly reflect the public interest."

The union lawyer said he made the suggestion so that, should the strike resume, "any peril to the national safety will not be chargeable to the United Steelworkers of America."

The negotiators will meet with Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service who arranged the new meetings.

Members of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry panel discussed new settlement efforts with Finnegan last Wednesday. The panel members said they would be available to help in mediation efforts later, if they are needed.

Family Overcome By Monoxide Gas

BALTIMORE (AP) —A Baltimore couple, their three children, a grandson and a stepdaughter were overcome by carbon monoxide gas from a faulty water heater Friday.

Three ambulances took them to Johns Hopkins Hospital where oxygen was administered. All seven were reported in good condition.

Police were told that the first ambulance was sent to the home when Thomas Stravino, 47, called to say one of his children was ill.

When the ambulance drivers arrived, they found the whole family overcome and called two more vehicles.

Those treated beside Stravino were his wife Hazel, 44; their children, Thomas Jr., 11, Patricia, 13, and Stephen, 9; the grandson, Stephen Bradshaw, 2, and a stepdaughter, Janice Bradshaw, 25.

Two Men Found Guilty In Attack On Two Girls

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two Washington, D.C., men were convicted Friday of kidnaping with intent to rape two government girls they followed home from a dance.

Sentence was not passed immediately on the pair, Ronald E. Garrison, a 28-year-old father of two children, and Joseph Lee Price, 30.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen called for a probation report before he hands down the sentence. That is expected to take two to three weeks. Garrison and Price were returned to jail.

The defendants could have gotten a maximum death penalty, according to the Maryland law under which they were tried. But the all-male jury, which deliberated five-and-a-half hours, did not recommend it.

Garrison and Price stood silent as the jury was polled for its verdict, but Garrison's wife Jo Ann, who had testified in his behalf, burst into tears.

Garrison and Price were charged with kidnaping a 23-year-old blonde and her 24-year-old companion and taking them across the District of Columbia border with intent to rape them.

The girls, employed as clerks in FBI offices in Washington, testified they were threatened with a knife and raped by the men.

The girls told the jury they saw Garrison and Price at a dance at a firehouse near College Park, Md., the night of Aug. 30. The red haired girl told of having danced with Garrison, who she said persisted in asking for her telephone number. She said she refused the request. The girls left the dance together in the blonde's car.

According to the young women, this was the sequence of events:

At the intersection of Tuckerman and Kansas in Washington, the men got out of their own car and forced their way into the auto driven by the blonde.

Threatening the girls with a switchblade knife or knives, they drove them to a lonely spot near Norbeck, Md., and raped them. The girls were too terrified to put up a fight or scream for help, because the men threatened them. Price drew the knife blade over the arm of the blonde once, making a slight cut.

Garrison and Price drove them back to Washington, where the girls went to a hospital and police were called.

The defendants took the stand and denied they forced their attentions on the girls.

Garrison said the two couples agreed to go someplace for coffee. He testified they later went out to the lane near Norbeck and he admitted having relations with the red haired girl. But he insisted it was with her consent.

"I believe these girls just made up their stories against Price and I," He testified. "We at no time forced ourselves on them."

Price said he and the blonde were intimate. But he said she went along with him willingly.

B&O Railroad Income Drops

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported Friday its net income for October dropped to $228,635, compared to $2,137,779 a year ago, because of the nationwide steel strike and related work stoppages.

Operating revenue of $31,393,204 was down $3,308,695 from October 1958.

Net income for the first 10 months was $11,449,097 compared with $14,833,314 a year ago.

Former State Official Can Practice Law

BALTIMORE (AP)—Charles T. LeViness, former State official, won the right to practice law again Friday after being disbarred 12 years in the wake of an income tax evasion conviction

LeViness, now a graying 57, was convicted of attempting to evade $9,496 in federal income taxes and was fined $10,000. The charges were brought in 1947.

The one-time assistant attorney general had petitioned for reinstatement in 1952. He filed again earlier this year and the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City acted on that request Friday.

LeViness was in the attorney general's office when Herbert R. O'Conor headed it. When O'Conor was governor, LeViness served as chairman of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners for Baltimore City, as chairman and director of the Department of Correction, and general counsel for the Public Service commission.

Several prominent persons testified in behalf of LeViness at the reinstatement hearings. They included four former judges, former bar association officials and the one-time U.S. attorney who prosecuted the case against him.

LeViness told the 11 judges the tax case cost him about $30,000 and that he was forced to sell his Roland Park home. He has worked in a number of jobs since the tax case, most lately in legal research for the State Roads Commission.

Representing him in the reinstatement hearings were attorneys J. Crossan Cooper Jr. and Hilary W. Gans.

Record Jump Holder Planning Another Leap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The red-haired Air Force captain who made the record parachute jump of nearly 15 miles is going to get ready for another leap from about the same altitude.

Capt. Joe Kittinger, the 31-year-old Wright Air development Center's experimental parachutist, made that disclosure Friday in an interview at Wright-Patterson Air Force base.

He said either he or M. Sgt. George A. Post, also of the center, would make the jump, adding that he was going back to New Mexico for more tests. No date for the jump has been set.

The captain, who made the record jump 76,400 feet over the White Sands proving ground in New Mexico Nov. 16, disclosed that he "goofed up" when he stepped out of the balloon gondola to make the jump.

"I had some trouble getting out of the gondola—put the cart before the horse," he said. "The gondola has an extremely small door, and suddenly I found my body outside with my arms still inside. I had go back in to bring my arms out, and that threw the timing off."

Because the timing was off, the drag-chute, a device that keeps the jumper from spinning through space, opened too soon.

Capt. Kittinger said the drag-chute should have opened 11 seconds after he bailed out, but it opened after only 2½ seconds, and his velocity at that point wasn't enough to keep it from fouling.

The airman said that with the drag-chute useless, he found himself whirling violently through space, at an estimated rate of 80 revolutions per minute.

Asked how he felt when the first step in the carefully planned descent failed, Capt. Kittinger replied: "I can say I was apprehensive."

Three Negroes Are Sentenced

TUPELO, Miss. (UPI) — Three Negro youths who banded together for a war against whites pleaded guilty Friday to the unprovoked stabbing of three persons and received sentences ranging from 20 years to life.

Otto Jones, 18, who said he hated all white men, drew the life sentence. T. L. Carruthers, 17, was sentenced to 25 years and J. B. Little, 16, drew a 20 - year term.

Because of the local sentiment, Judge Raymond Jarvis ordered the three transferred to the penitentiary immediately for their own protection.

Pleads Innocent In Wife's Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—A New Jersey auto mechanic pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of killing his wife here by running over her with his automobile.

Edward R. Connor, 47, of Camden, was ordered held without bail for grand jury action.

Mrs. Dorothea C. Connor, 39-year-old mother of six children, was struck by a car in front of her home early Oct. 25. She died in a hospital three hours later without recovering consciousness.

Industry, Businessmen Seek Income Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drive to bring about a quick 3½-billion-dollar annual cut in income taxes was opened Friday among business and industrial men.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce advised members its board of directors had decided to throw its weight behind the Baker-Herlong bill and "will stimulate educational efforts in all member organizations and firms in support of the measure."

The Baker - Herlong bill, which provides for a graduated scale of tax reductions over a five-year period, is before the House Ways and Means Committee which is making a general study of taxes.

The measure endorsed by the chamber was introduced by Reps. A. S. Herlong Jr. (D-Fla) and Howard H. Baker (R-Tenn). The chamber said it would give all individual taxpayers a rate reduction of not less than 25 per cent over five years. The top rate would be lowered from 91 to 47 per cent and the lowest tax bracket would be reduced from 20 to 15 per cent.

Corporate taxes would drop one per cent annually, going down from 52 to 47 per cent. The bill also would make some changes in depreciation allowances, capital gains, estate and gift taxes.

Estimating the immediate loss of revenue at about 3½ billion dollars a year, the chamber's Washington newsletter to members said this could be offset by a temporary sales tax applied across the board at "a low uniform rate."

"Properly applied" the newsletter said, "the reduction would actually increase the amount of government revenues in a short time, distribute the tax burden more equally, promote stability of the dollar, provide both the means and incentive for business to tackle new, and expand going, enterprises and create more jobs for our increasing population."

Youth, 19, Convicted Of Robbery-Death, Sentence Deferred

BALTIMORE (AP) — A youth court jury of five men and seven women Friday convicted a 19-year-old robber of first degree murder in the death of a 66-year-old man.

The verdict was returned against Richard Leon Gross, one of four accused with the robbery and slaying last Aug. 7 of Lawrence D. North on a Baltimore street.

The jury limited punishment to life imprisonment, ruling out the death penalty, but sentence was deferred pending a motion for a new trial.

Commerce Dept. Rejects Steel Stockpile Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department Friday rejected a suggestion by the United Steelworkers Union that steel be stockpiled for defense use if the industry strike is resumed after a Taft-Hartley law injunction expires Jan. 26.

The action came as representatives of the industry and union agreed to resume peace talks in the long dispute here next Tuesday.

Philip A. Ray, acting secretary of commerce, indirectly accused the union of trying to shift to the government the responsibility for any defense lags which might result if the walkout is resumed.

In a letter to Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, Ray said stockpiling would not assure steel for defense requirements.

"Only continued production of steel in all its phases can supply the real needs of defense," Ray said.

"The public interest requires parties to the negotiation to settle their differences at the collective bargaining table, and this responsibility cannot be shifted," Ray declared.

Goldberg wrote Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller a week ago suggesting that the government should stockpile steel.

"While I have not abandoned hope that a settlement in steel will be reached before the 80-day injunction expires. . . . I must advise you in all candor that at the present writing no settlement is in prospect," he said.

Ray, in reply, said, "I am sure you do not intend to leave the impression that you and the parties who you represent are not making every conceivable effort to bring about a settlement at the bargaining table which will truly reflect the public interest."

The union lawyer said he made the suggestion so that, should the strike resume, "any peril to the national safety will not be chargeable to the United Steelworkers of America."

The negotiators will meet with Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service who arranged the new meetings.

Members of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry panel discussed new settlement efforts with Finnegan last Wednesday. The panel members said they would be available to help in mediation efforts later, if they are needed.

Family Overcome By Monoxide Gas

BALTIMORE (AP) —A Baltimore couple, their three children, a grandson and a stepdaughter were overcome by carbon monoxide gas from a faulty water heater Friday.

Three ambulances took them to Johns Hopkins Hospital where oxygen was administered. All seven were reported in good condition.

Police were told that the first ambulance was sent to the home when Thomas Stravino, 47, called to say one of his children was ill.

When the ambulance drivers arrived, they found the whole family overcome and called two more vehicles.

Those treated beside Stravino were his wife Hazel, 44; their children, Thomas Jr., 11, Patricia, 13, and Stephen, 9; the grandson, Stephen Bradshaw, 2, and a stepdaughter, Janice Bradshaw, 25.

Alimony Is Sought For Disabled Men

LONDON (AP) — Alimony for disabled ex-husbands is the aim of a government bill introduced in Parliament this week by Viscount Kilmuir, the lord chancellor. It would let courts make wives pay up to $21 weekly if their separated mates can't work because of age, illness of disability of mind or body.

Two Men Found Guilty In Attack On Two Girls

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two Washington, D.C., men were convicted Friday of kidnaping with intent to rape two government girls they followed home from a dance.

Sentence was not passed immediately on the pair, Ronald E. Garrison, a 28-year-old father of two children, and Joseph Lee Price, 30.

Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen called for a probation report before he hands down the sentence. That is expected to take two to three weeks. Garrison and Price were returned to jail.

The defendants could have gotten a maximum death penalty, according to the Maryland law under which they were tried. But the all-male jury, which deliberated five-and-a-half hours, did not recommend it.

Garrison and Price stood silent as the jury was polled for its verdict, but Garrison's wife Jo Ann, who had testified in his behalf, burst into tears.

Garrison and Price were charged with kidnaping a 23-year-old blonde and her 24-year-old companion and taking them across the District of Columbia border with intent to rape them.

The girls, employed as clerks in FBI offices in Washington, testified they were threatened with a knife and raped by the men.

The girls told the jury they saw Garrison and Price at a dance at a firehouse near College Park, Md., the night of Aug. 30. The red haired girl told of having danced with Garrison, who she said persisted in asking for her telephone number. She said she refused the request. The girls left the dance together in the blonde's car.

According to the young women, this was the sequence of events:

At the intersection of Tuckerman and Kansas in Washington, the men got out of their own car and forced their way into the auto driven by the blonde.

Threatening the girls with a switchblade knife or knives, they drove them to a lonely spot near Norbeck, Md., and raped them. The girls were too terrified to put up a fight or scream for help, because the men threatened them. Price drew the knife blade over the arm of the blonde once, making a slight cut.

Garrison and Price drove them back to Washington, where the girls went to a hospital and police were called.

The defendants took the stand and denied they forced their attentions on the girls.

Garrison said the two couples agreed to go someplace for coffee. He testified they later went out to the lane near Norbeck and he admitted having relations with the red haired girl. But he insisted it was with her consent.

"I believe these girls just made up their stories against Price and I," He testified. "We at no time forced ourselves on them."

Price said he and the blonde were intimate. But he said she went along with him willingly.

B&O Railroad Income Drops

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported Friday its net income for October dropped to $228,635, compared to $2,137,779 a year ago, because of the nationwide steel strike and related work stoppages.

Operating revenue of $31,393,204 was down $3,308,695 from October 1958.

Net income for the first 10 months was $11,449,097 compared with $14,833,314 a year ago.

Former State Official Can Practice Law

BALTIMORE (AP)—Charles T. LeViness, former State official, won the right to practice law again Friday after being disbarred 12 years in the wake of an income tax evasion conviction

LeViness, now a graying 57, was convicted of attempting to evade $9,496 in federal income taxes and was fined $10,000. The charges were brought in 1947.

The one-time assistant attorney general had petitioned for reinstatement in 1952. He filed again earlier this year and the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City acted on that request Friday.

LeViness was in the attorney general's office when Herbert R. O'Conor headed it. When O'Conor was governor, LeViness served as chairman of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners for Baltimore City, as chairman and director of the Department of Correction, and general counsel for the Public Service commission.

Several prominent persons testified in behalf of LeViness at the reinstatement hearings. They included four former judges, former bar association officials and the one-time U.S. attorney who prosecuted the case against him.

LeViness told the 11 judges the tax case cost him about $30,000 and that he was forced to sell his Roland Park home. He has worked in a number of jobs since the tax case, most lately in legal research for the State Roads Commission.

Representing him in the reinstatement hearings were attorneys J. Crossan Cooper Jr. and Hilary W. Gans.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $645,000 loan to Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W. Va., was announced Friday by the Community Facilities Administration.

The money will finance construction of a dormitory for 150 women students and a cafeteria to accommodate 150.

Peron Won't Move

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Juan D. Peron, exiled former dictator of Argentina, said Friday he has no plans to leave the Dominican Republic, where he has lived since early 1958. He was responding to a reporter's inquiry about recent rumors that he intended to move to Madrid, or elsewhere in Europe.

Record Jump Holder Planning Another Leap

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The red-haired Air Force captain who made the record parachute jump of nearly 15 miles is going to get ready for another leap from about the same altitude.

Capt. Joe Kittinger, the 31-year-old Wright Air development Center's experimental parachutist, made that disclosure Friday in an interview at Wright-Patterson Air Force base.

He said either he or M. Sgt. George A. Post, also of the center, would make the jump, adding that he was going back to New Mexico for more tests. No date for the jump has been set.

The captain, who made the record jump 76,400 feet over the White Sands proving ground in New Mexico Nov. 16, disclosed that he "goofed up" when he stepped out of the balloon gondola to make the jump.

"I had some trouble getting out of the gondola—put the cart before the horse," he said. "The gondola has an extremely small door, and suddenly I found my body outside with my arms still inside. I had go back in to bring my arms out, and that threw the timing off."

Because the timing was off, the drag-chute, a device that keeps the jumper from spinning through space, opened too soon.

Capt. Kittinger said the drag-chute should have opened 11 seconds after he bailed out, but it opened after only 2½ seconds, and his velocity at that point wasn't enough to keep it from fouling.

The airman said that with the drag-chute useless, he found himself whirling violently through space, at an estimated rate of 80 revolutions per minute.

Asked how he felt when the first step in the carefully planned descent failed, Capt. Kittinger replied: "I can say I was apprehensive."

Three Negroes Are Sentenced

TUPELO, Miss. (UPI) — Three Negro youths who banded together for a war against whites pleaded guilty Friday to the unprovoked stabbing of three persons and received sentences ranging from 20 years to life.

Otto Jones, 18, who said he hated all white men, drew the life sentence. T. L. Carruthers, 17, was sentenced to 25 years and J. B. Little, 16, drew a 20 - year term.

Because of the local sentiment, Judge Raymond Jarvis ordered the three transferred to the penitentiary immediately for their own protection.

Pleads Innocent In Wife's Death

BALTIMORE (AP)—A New Jersey auto mechanic pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of killing his wife here by running over her with his automobile.

Edward R. Connor, 47, of Camden, was ordered held without bail for grand jury action.

Mrs. Dorothea C. Connor, 39-year-old mother of six children, was struck by a car in front of her home early Oct. 25. She died in a hospital three hours later without recovering consciousness.

Industry, Businessmen Seek Income Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drive to bring about a quick 3½-billion-dollar annual cut in income taxes was opened Friday among business and industrial men.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce advised members its board of directors had decided to throw its weight behind the Baker-Herlong bill and "will stimulate educational efforts in all member organizations and firms in support of the measure."

The Baker - Herlong bill, which provides for a graduated scale of tax reductions over a five-year period, is before the House Ways and Means Committee which is making a general study of taxes.

The measure endorsed by the chamber was introduced by Reps. A. S. Herlong Jr. (D-Fla) and Howard H. Baker (R-Tenn). The chamber said it would give all individual taxpayers a rate reduction of not less than 25 per cent over five years. The top rate would be lowered from 91 to 47 per cent and the lowest tax bracket would be reduced from 20 to 15 per cent.

Corporate taxes would drop one per cent annually, going down from 52 to 47 per cent. The bill also would make some changes in depreciation allowances, capital gains, estate and gift taxes.

Estimating the immediate loss of revenue at about 3½ billion dollars a year, the chamber's Washington newsletter to members said this could be offset by a temporary sales tax applied across the board at "a low uniform rate."

"Properly applied" the newsletter said, "the reduction would actually increase the amount of government revenues in a short time, distribute the tax burden more equally, promote stability of the dollar, provide both the means and incentive for business to tackle new, and expand going, enterprises and create more jobs for our increasing population."

Youth, 19, Convicted Of Robbery-Death, Sentence Deferred

BALTIMORE (AP) — A youth court jury of five men and seven women Friday convicted a 19-year-old robber of first degree murder in the death of a 66-year-old man.

The verdict was returned against Richard Leon Gross, one of four accused with the robbery and slaying last Aug. 7 of Lawrence D. North on a Baltimore street.

The jury limited punishment to life imprisonment, ruling out the death penalty, but sentence was deferred pending a motion for a new trial.

Fike Is Given Jail Term For Burning Elda

Psychiatric treatment will be assured the 20-year-old Keyser area man who was given a term of not more than two years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males when he was tried yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court for setting fire to the Elda Inn.

Emory T. Fike, represented by his court-appointed attorney, Miller Bowen, was told by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris that he would have the opportunity to see if he could learn a trade at the institution.

Fike entered a plea of guilty to arson in setting fire to the Elda on the morning of Friday, November 13.

The defendant stated in his confession that he had decided on the previous day to go to Cleveland. He hitchhiked to Cumberland, then walked to Frostburg, where he changed his mind and walked back toward Cumberland.

Going past the Elda, he decided to break into the building on Braddock Road to see if he could find food and money.

He first broke a window in the front door, but was unable to gain entrance, Mason said. Then he took a ladder from the garage and entered a window in the rear.

Fike gave himself up at the City Police station and later that day signed a confession following questioning by Tfc. Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator, and Sgt. William F. Baker, who is assisting the state's attorney's office.

Fike has no past record, except for a short jail term in Keyser for being drunk and 30 days in Cleveland for being a vagrant.

Bowen pointed out that the only defense for Fike could be insanity, but the psychiatric tests showed the youth to be feeble minded, but able to know the difference between right and wrong.

The defendant has all his mental facilities, and has been judged as being sane, but is mentally classed as a moron.

Harris, before sentencing the young man, said the case was a hard one for the court to decide. While Fike has no criminal record to any extent, the charge was a serious one as property estimated by the owners, Eldred A. Cromwell and Mrs. Daisy B. Cromwell, to be valued about $25,000.

Long confinement would serve no great purpose in this case, and the judge pointed out that in two years the psychiatrists and psychologists will know if they are able to do Fike any good.

County Board Hears Several Road Problems

A number of Roads Department problems were discussed at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Frances S. O'Rourke, secretary of the McCoole PTA, wrote the board to request that Llewellyn Street, which leads into the playground area of the school be widened. She said the street could be widened if a ditch along one side was filled in after a pipe had been installed.

The commissioners will have Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, check into the matter. The responsibility for the work may be that of the Board of Education, according to John J. Rowan, president of the county board.

Commissioner John T. Mason also asked Skelly to check the need for a guardrail on a road into the school property at Cresaptown.

Marvin Sheetz, a representative of the McCoole Volunteer Fire Company, appeared before the board to ask some relief from a condition in an alleyway near the fire nall. He said that a stream which runs through the area could be bridged to provide better access and exit. The alleyway is often blocked, he told the board. The matter was referred to Skelly.

Skelly informed the board the Roads Department does not have equipment for painting center lines on hard surfaced roads. The matter was brought up after Horace P. Whitworth Jr., asked the board last week to have a center line painted on the roadway into Horse Rock Addition at Westernport. He said in time of heavy fog the lack of the white center line poses a traffic hazard.

The board was notified that the three new heavy duty trucks for use by the Roads Department will arrive in about two weeks.

The board authorized the hiring of Robert T. Fletcher as a temporary mechanic's helper for the Franklin Street County garage. He will replace William Getson, who also had been a temporary employe. Getson has taken a job with private industry.

International Relations Group Contributes Nine CARE Packages

The international relations study group of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch of the A.A.U.W. met for its second session of the year at the home of Miss Agnes Howat, Beall's Lane.

Like the planning session, the meeting was designed as a grass roots roundtable with every member participating by offering a headline and a brief probing of its significance. Instead of a single topic, however, the discussion was a potpourri of subjects in which mutually supplementary headlines were brought to the attention of all and briefly explained and commented on. Topics included health and welfare (oil, cranberries, population pressures) technical assistance, education (US-USSR) for international competency, not merely languages, but basic understanding of other cultures; Nehru's leadership in his nation in a situation of border stresses; the UN leadership-especially through its Secretary-General, who is personally investigating Laos' charges of intervention across its border. Many of these subjects were the sort recommended by national headquarters for consideration and policy forming before they become glaring front page crises.

Further initiative was shown in some questions posed regarding how truly accurate was a recent headline about "unchanging Africa," new developments therein being so frequent a headline that this is one of the topics recommended by the study group at its planning session for treatment later this year, possibly at the annual international relations community banquet in April.

A question also was raised regarding where the Cuban Revolution seems to be heading. Concern regarding moral and national responsibility in the oil released to unsuspecting natives abroad was voiced.

A wholly different headline rounded out the international scope by calling attention to the 1959 AAUW achievement award won by Dr. Wee, professor of physics at Columbia University, for her pioneer work disproving the long-assumed, but never proved "law" of parity in structure . . . "number one riddle of atomic and nuclear physics."

Besides scanning the headlines, the group dealt with two further items of international concern.

Word was brought to the group by the chairman that in view of its being now International Refugee Year, several special appeals for books and other library materials for overseas colleges have been received by the college and are under consideration by the college International Relations Club—in addition to the regular yearly work on both the educational and fund-raising campaign for World University Service. Two of these special appeals for books have come from American Friends of Vietnam and from the Korean Ministry of Education. Need is pointed out "for published materials — books, pamphlets, monographs, etc—in the fields of politics, international relations, economics, sociology, American history and civilization and similar areas"—to quote a part of the appeal.

The Korean appeal for books to supplement previously destroyed or non-existent supplies for their 61 colleges and universities with their, 79,565 students, asks for the same sort of materials and adds also the fields of history, general science, medicine, engineering, pharmacy, mathematics, law, agriculture, poetry, foreign language, art and music texts and English and American literature. Except in the case of literary classics, no books published before 1945 should be included. Dictionaries and encyclopedias are also mentioned.

The AAUW international relations group decided to dispatch again this year several CARE packages abroad. Immediately personal contributions were donated for nine such packages for holiday greeting and assistance to nine families overseas—the first lot from this group this year.

Refreshments were served by Miss Agnes Howat and Miss Nan Jeffries.

Next group meeting will be the general branch meeting February 16 at State Teachers College when the group will be in charge of the programs.

Mrs. Joseph Donahue is reported recuperating following an operation in Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Patrick Carroll, Cumberland Street, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Hints For Tired Feet

The face of a woman whose feet hurt may inspire sympathy or pity; but never admiration. There's no greater beauty thief than aching feet. They steal your poise, ruin your posture and take the grace out of your walk.

Callouses can be prevented or eliminated with a weekly foot soaking in warm, soapy water. After ten minutes or so of this comforting dip, and while your feet are still wet, use an abrasive such as pumice stone on the calloused spots. Pay special attention to the back of the heels.

Dry your feet thoroughly on a rough towel, slather them with rubbing alcohol and massage them upward from toes to ankles on top and undersides until the alcohol completely evaporates. Next, rub a little tube lanolin into spots where callouses develop. Use firm, rotary strokes until the residue is absorbed. Dust off with talc or baby powder and you'll find one of your foot problems finished.

For the sake of your comfort and strength of your metatarsals, make a habit of the following exercises:

1. Sit on the floor with your legs straight out. Stretch your feet down toward the floor as far as they will go. Then curl your toes under hard and hold for a count of five. With the toes still curled, bend your feet toward you and hold. Relax for a moment and then repeat ten times slowly.

2. Pick up a lead pencil with all the toes of one foot. (That's quite a job in itself!) Then twist your foot inward and try to write your name on a piece of paper. When you can do it with ease five times daily, the smile in your feet will put a smile on your face.

Over a century ago, secluded in a corner of the Old World, the monks of St. Benedict baked a flavorsome bread of full bodied texture that provided much of the nutritious value so necessary to their austere way of life. This is the tradition that has inspired the new BREAD OF THE BENEDICTS . . . a modern special formula bread developed to recapture for you that traditional full bodied texture and flavor. Hearty, robust, full of honest goodness, BREAD OF THE BENEDICTS is baked with time-honored respect for purity of ingredients.

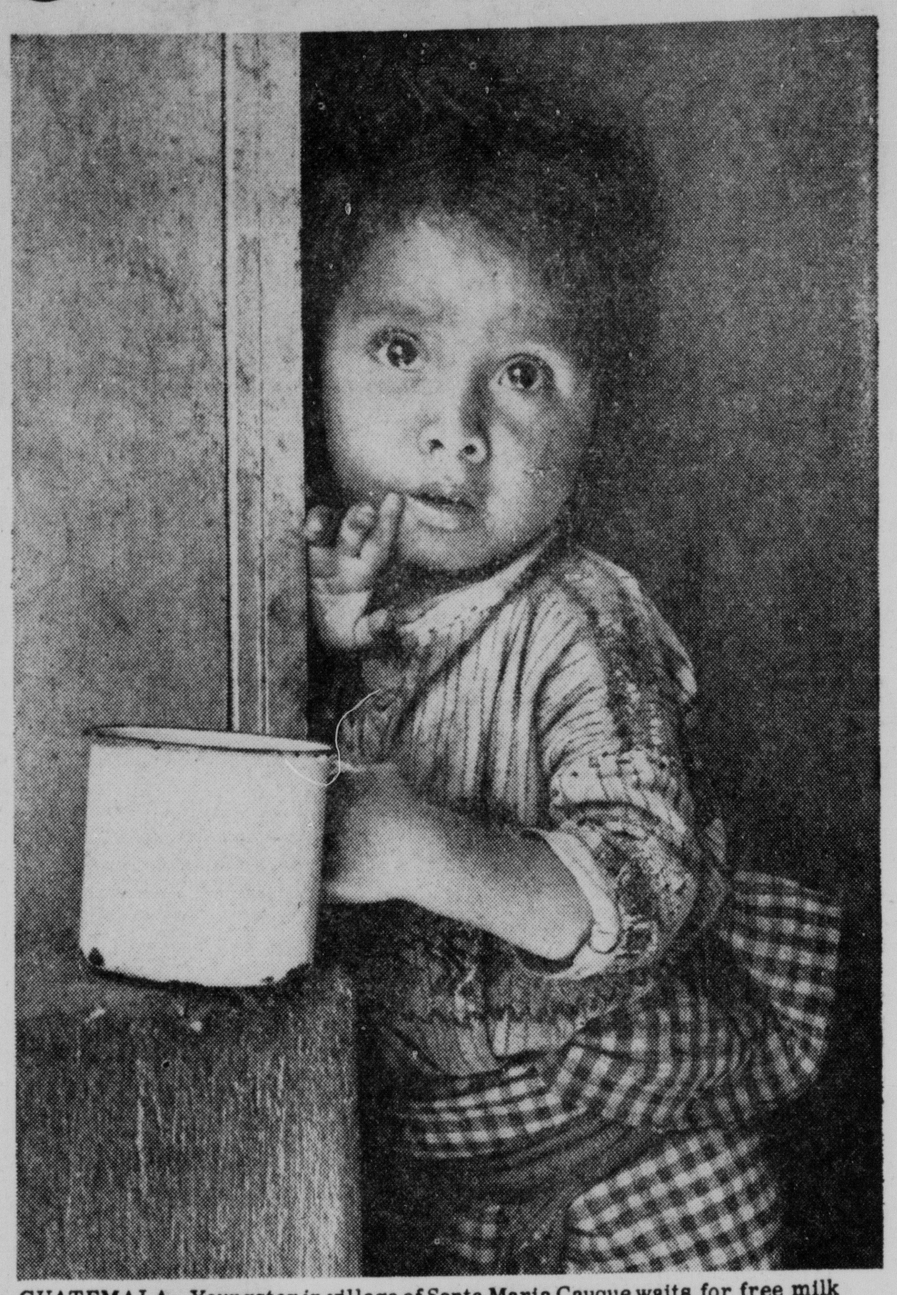
HELPING THE WORLD'S CHILDREN

INDONESIA: Training aide shows an aged midwife correct way to bathe a child. Midwives are also taught to use sterilized equipment.



GUATEMALA: Youngster in village of Santa Maria Cauque waits for free milk given to combat kwashiorkor, a disease resulting from protein deficiency.

INDIA: Recovering from malnutrition, young patient learns how to play at child welfare clinic in hospital at Hyderabad.

The U. N. Children's Fund has reached the age of 13 — a brief life in which it has helped some 250 million youngsters in more than 100 lands.

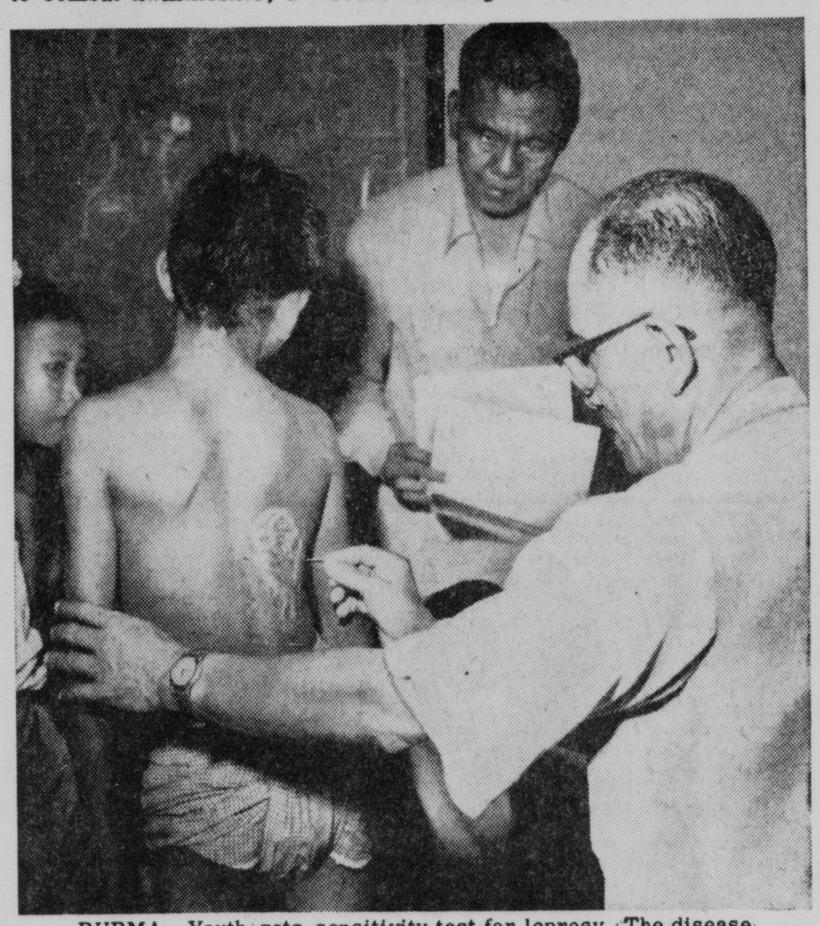
Children around the world — from African jungle dwellers ravaged by leprosy to Latin American kids in need of milk — have benefited from UNICEF's helping hand. Aid is given solely on the basis in need — without regard to color, creed or political belief.

So strong is the appeal of a child in trouble that the response has been universal. Donations last year ranged from 9½ million dollars given by the United States to $116 from the tiny West Indies isle of Antigua. Even the communist countries, known for their distaste for U. N. aid projects, have contributed. For the past five years Russia has been donating an annual half million dollars.

The Children's Fund was born of a U. N. resolution in December, 1946, when the first General Assembly met in London. That year it provided food and clothing to 11 European nations still recovering from World War II. The project has grown steadily. Last year UNICEF spent more than 28 million dollars contributing food, medicine and technical aid.

About 90 per cent of the 1959 budget came from 87 governments. The rest came from individuals, organizations and organized fund raising campaigns. UNICEF officials stress that no contribution is too small to be of help. One cent provides enough vaccine to protect a child against tuberculosis. One dollar will provide enough medication to treat a leprosy case for three years.

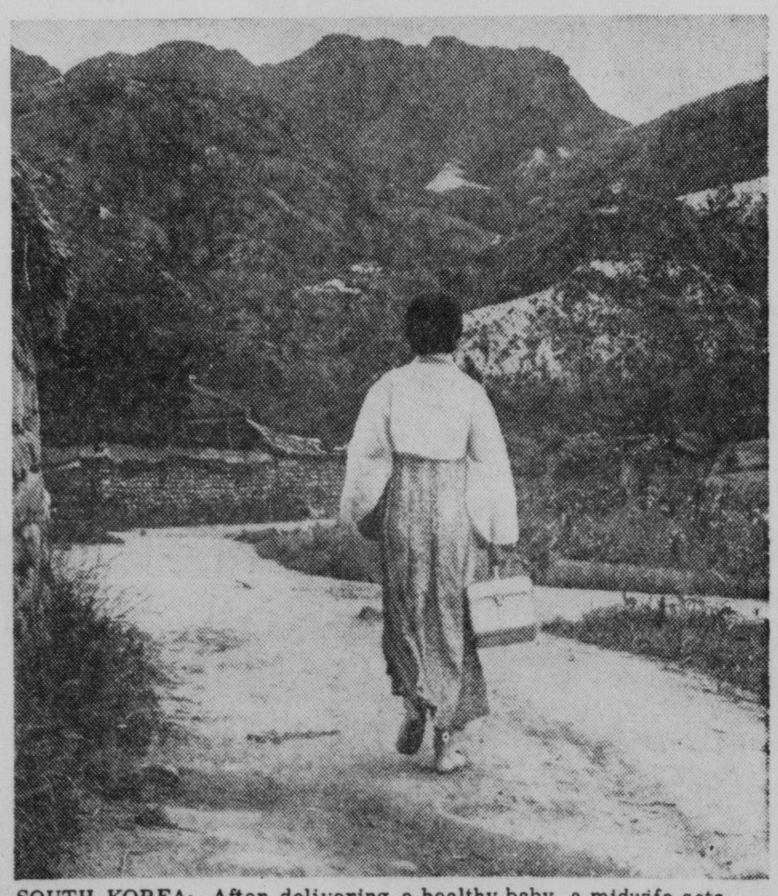
There are an estimated one billion children in the world today and 750 million of them live in underdeveloped countries. Some day UNICEF hopes to help all youngsters in need.



BURMA: Youth gets sensitivity test for leprosy. The disease is fought with use of sulfene medication supplied by UNICEF.

SUDAN: Mothers bring babies to clinic where they get checkup, drugs, vitamins.

THE PHILIPPINES: Little girl in Bulacan Province gets a tuberculin test to determine whether or not she can benefit from vaccination against tuberculosis.



SOUTH KOREA: After delivering a healthy baby, a midwife sets off on her ten-mile journey back to Seoul from Pulkang Ki. The UNICEF midwife kit in her hands is an invaluable delivery aid.

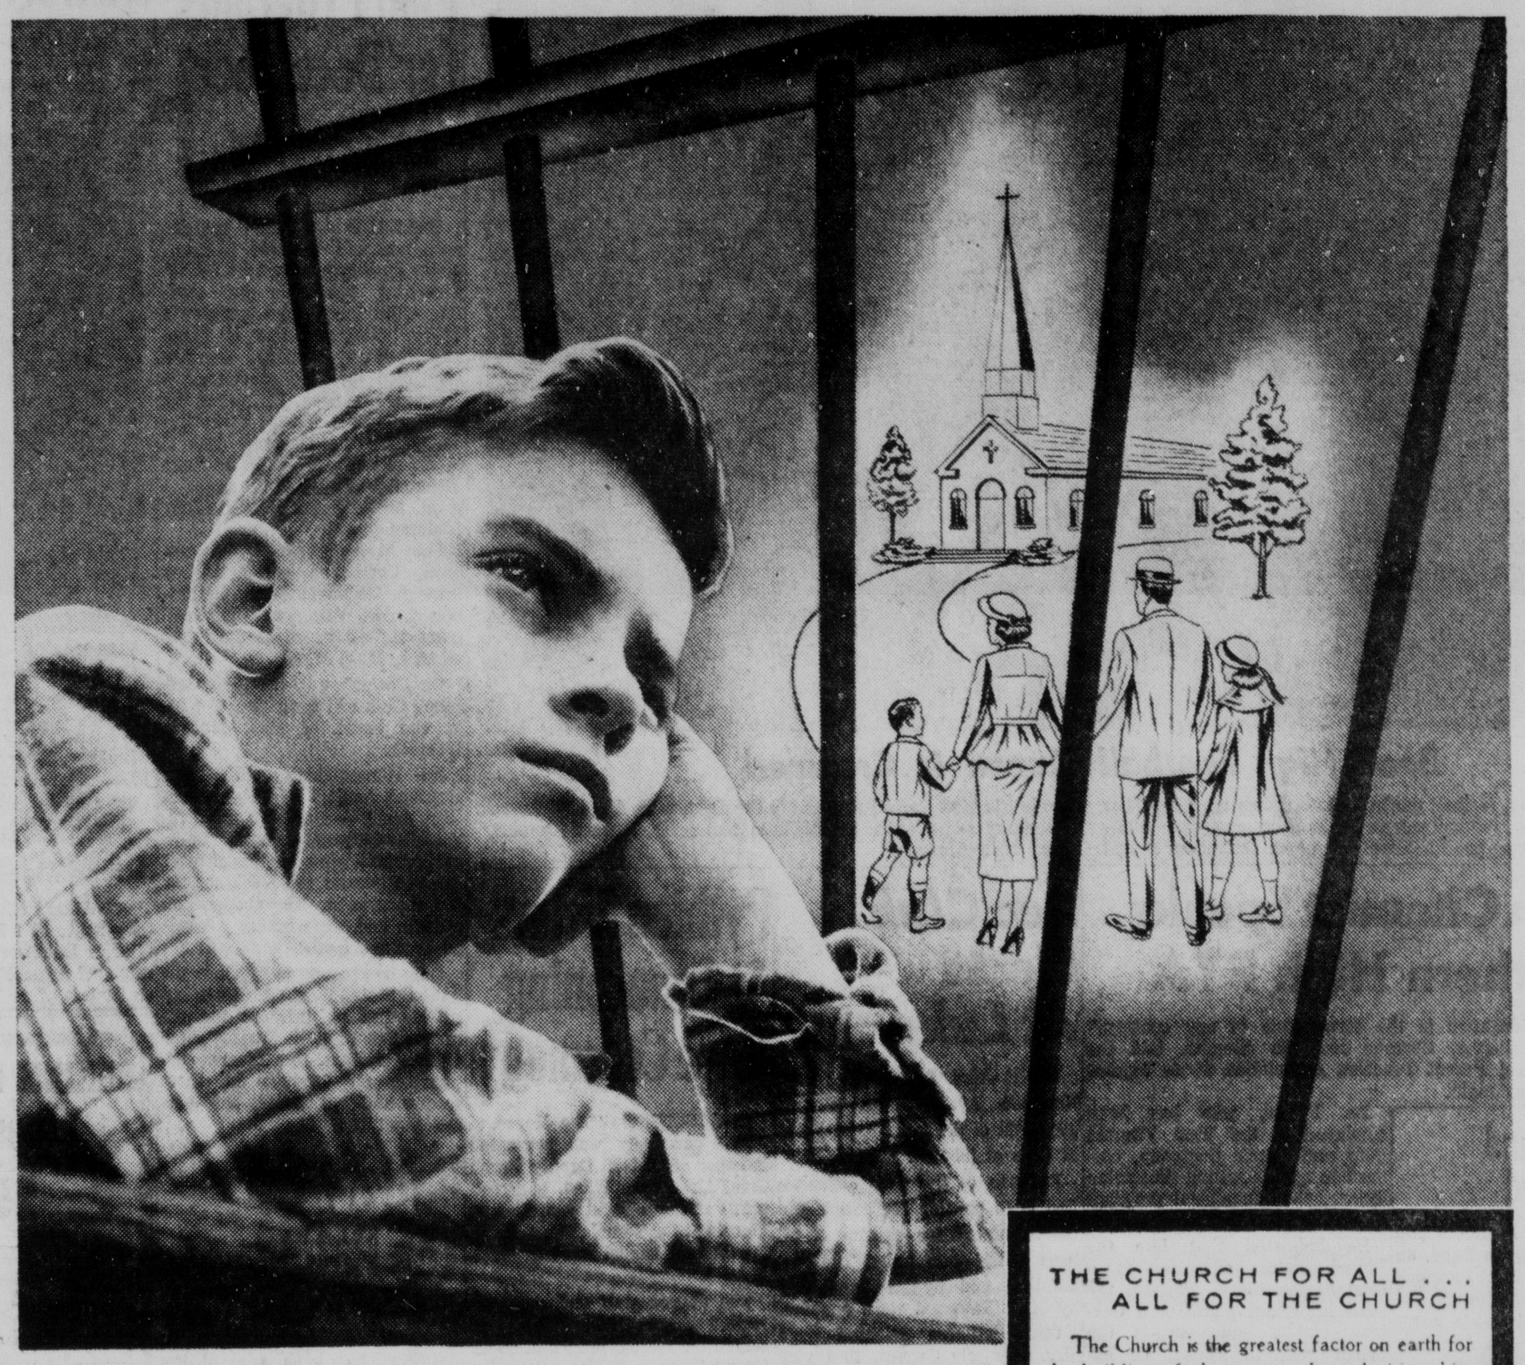
FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL



What do you think of that first night at Reform School?

. . . of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store!

. . . of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells . . . the morbid adventures of the last lagging month.

. . . of the home from which you came . . . and what it might have been!

And you think of God . . . of days when church bells rang . . . and other kids went to Sunday School . . . and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents!

. . . of times when you might have prayed . . . but you didn't know how . . . and no one around you seemed to care!

. . . of questions you once asked about God . . . but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.

The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

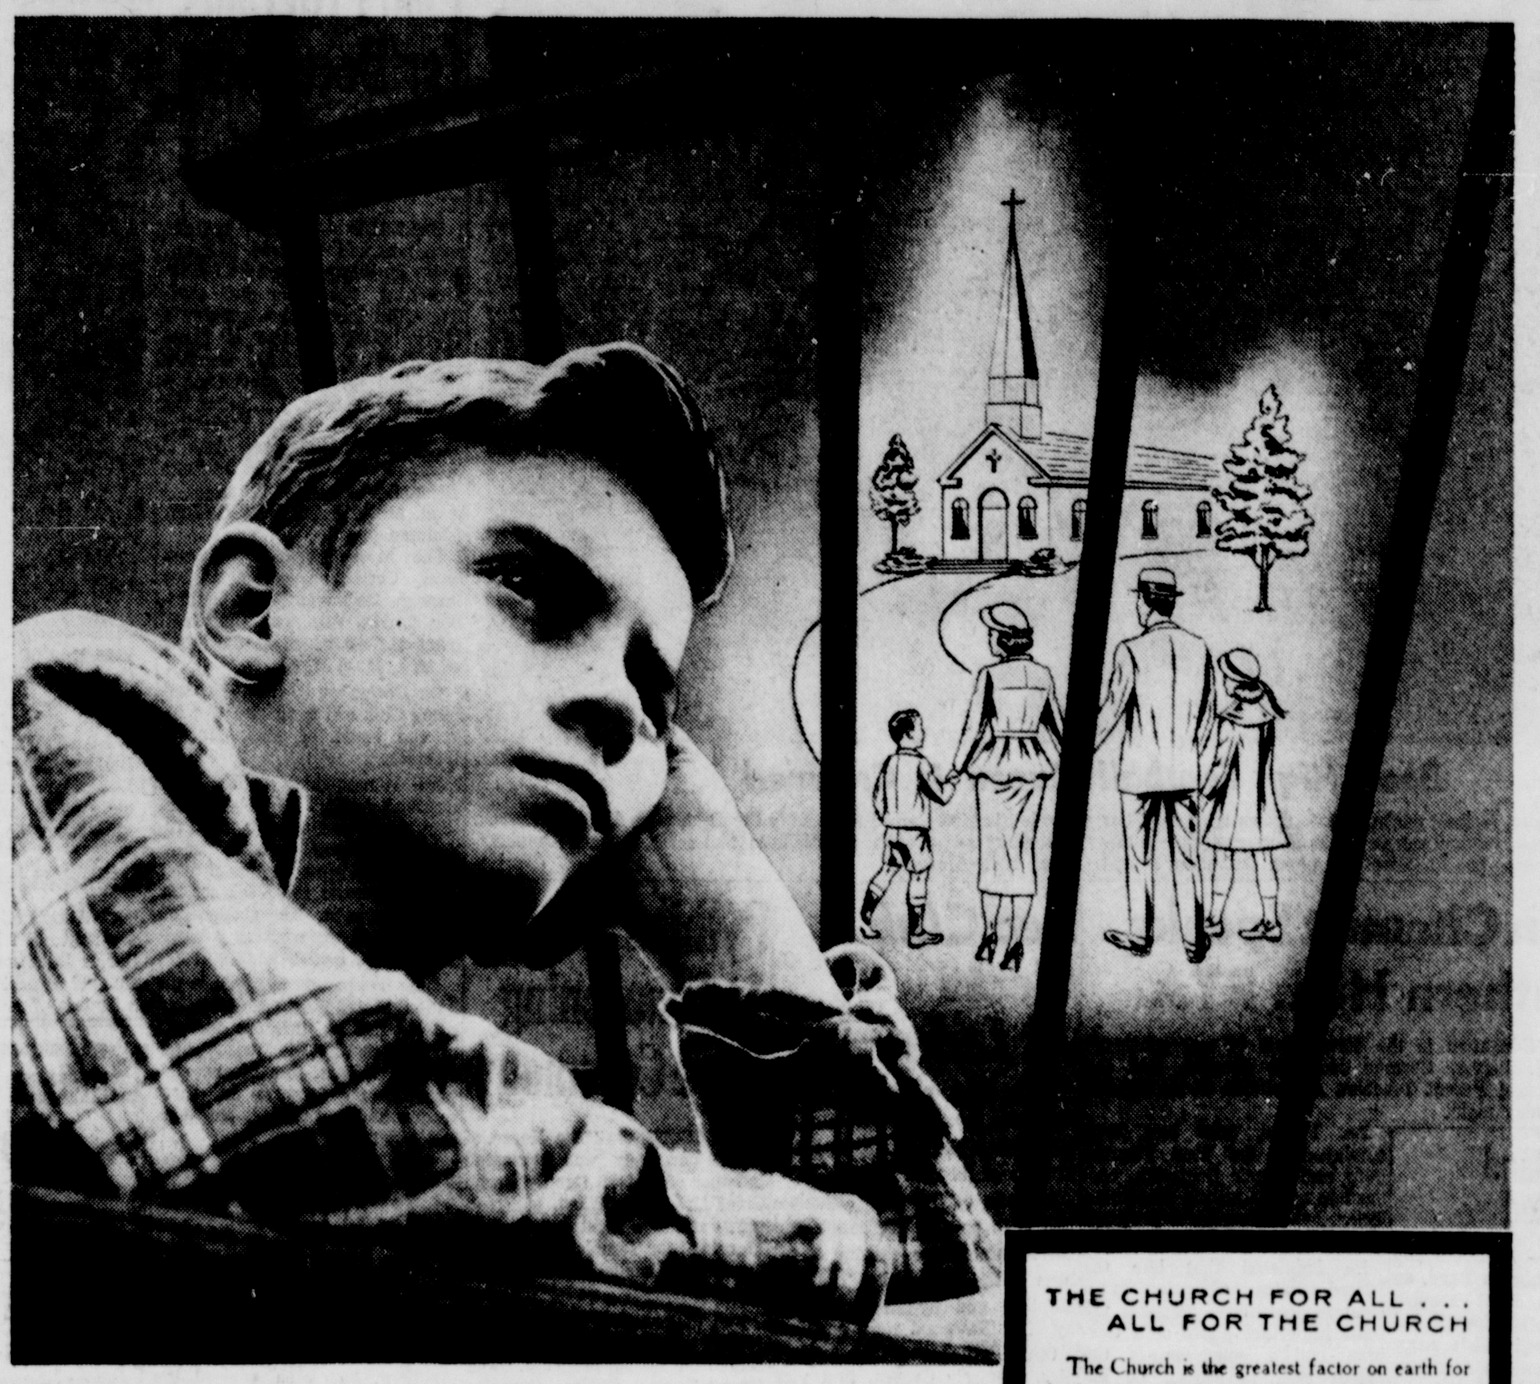
FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL



What do you think of that first night at Reform School?

. . . of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store!

. . . of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells . . . the morbid adventures of the last lagging month.

. . . of the home from which you came . . . and what it might have been!

And you think of God . . . of days when church bells rang . . . and other kids went to Sunday School . . . and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents!

. . . of times when you might have prayed . . . but you didn't know how . . . and no one around you seemed to care!

. . . of questions you once asked about God . . . but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.

The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Commission On The Aging Has Conference

W. Md. Counties Plan Activities

FROSTBURG—James H. Close, district mine inspector for the Maryland Bureau of Mines and Robert E. Ewing, fuel combustion engineer for the bureau, attended a conference planning committee meeting, one of eight of the Commission on the Aging, which met recently at the Coffman Medical Clinic, Hagerstown.

The chairman was Monsignor Leo J. Coady. The meeting was held for the four western most counties of Maryland with four representatives from each of the counties meeting to select a Western Maryland chairman. Richard Anthony, Hagerstown, was chosen and called a meeting of this committee for December 8 at the Hamilton Hotel, Hagerstown, at which time plans and preparations will be made for a regional conference early in 1960. Other Allegany County members attending were Mrs. Aden Everstine and Edward O'Rourke.

The committee revealed that the United States now has fifteen million citizens 65 years of age and older. By 1975 this figure will have climbed to more than 20,000,000.

Because of improved medical and public health services, Maryland adds nearly 10,000 annually to its 200,000 citizens who are 65 years of age or older.

According to the committee, lengthened life span does not constitute a blessing unless it is coupled with economic security, health services, adequate housing, appropriate employment, and recreational and educational opportunities to meet the physical, mental and spiritual needs of the longer life.

In order that aging in Maryland may be as rich and meaningful as possible, the committee pointed out, and in order that services rendered the aging population may be as efficiently administered as possible, the General Assembly of 1959 called for the creation of a state coordinating commission on "Problems of the Aging."

The state act creating the Commission on the Aging was the first law enacted by the new administration of Governor J. Millard Tawes.

All individuals and organizations of the state have been invited to cooperate with this new state commission in its significant work, Mr. Close said.

German Chemist Speaks To Southern High PTA

OAKLAND—"Education is the cornerstone of any country," Dr. Ruprecht W. Pirzer, German research chemist, told the Southern High School Parent Teachers Association at its regular meeting last Monday night.

Dr. Pirzer, who has been employed at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, outlined in an interesting illustrated lecture, the educational program in West Germany.

He indicated that like the United States, education is a local responsibility. Perhaps the most important phase of a German child's education is the fourth year in school, he explained. It is at this point that his future educational program is decided. Four choices are open to the child: a primary school where after the ninth grade pupil will either enter a trade school or work part-time while attending school; a middle school where the student receives a general educational program somewhat similar to our comprehensive high schools; a humanistic gymnasium where a student prepares for college entrance and fourthly, a real gymnasium. The difference between the latter two schools lies in the language and science requirements.

English is taught in all the schools. In the primary school English is an elective course. It is required in each of the other three schools.

Generally speaking their school year is somewhat longer than the American school year. Most pupils attend school eleven months per year, six days a week, from 8 a. m. until 1:15 p. m. each day.

The speaker was introduced by Robert Wooters, program chairman. Dr. Pirzer's wife accompanied him to Oakland from their home in Keyser.

German Chemist Speaks To Southern High PTA

OAKLAND—"Education is the cornerstone of any country," Dr. Ruprecht W. Pirzer, German research chemist, told the Southern High School Parent Teachers Association at its regular meeting last Monday night.

Dr. Pirzer, who has been employed at the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, outlined in an interesting illustrated lecture, the educational program in West Germany.

He indicated that like the United States, education is a local responsibility. Perhaps the most important phase of a German child's education is the fourth year in school, he explained. It is at this point that his future educational program is decided. Four choices are open to the child: a primary school where after the ninth grade pupil will either enter a trade school or work part-time while attending school; a middle school where the student receives a general educational program somewhat similar to our comprehensive high schools; a humanistic gymnasium where a student prepares for college entrance and fourthly, a real gymnasium. The difference between the latter two schools lies in the language and science requirements.

English is taught in all the schools. In the primary school English is an elective course. It is required in each of the other three schools.

Generally speaking their school year is somewhat longer than the American school year. Most pupils attend school eleven months per year, six days a week, from 8 a. m. until 1:15 p. m. each day.

The speaker was introduced by Robert Wooters, program chairman. Dr. Pirzer's wife accompanied him to Oakland from their home in Keyser.

Following the lecture, refreshments were served. Approximately 125 members were present.

Jobless Rise Laid To Strike

BALTIMORE (AP)—State employment officials have blamed the steel strike for a small rise in unemployment compensation payments last month.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Department of Employment Security, said Friday the slight rise in payments during October ran counter to the normal seasonal trend.

He noted that the steel strikers themselves were not eligible for benefits, but that non-strikers laid off because of the strike received payments.

The state paid $3,160,046 in regular benefits last month, up 1.3 per cent over September but 7 per cent below October, 1958.

Some 2,163 Marylanders exhausted their full 26 weeks of benefits under the state program last month, bringing the total for the past 12 months to 31,968.

The Leadership Of Charles de Gaulle

There is hardly a reasonable man left who can doubt that Gen. Charles de Gaulle has been just about the best thing that has happened to France since World War II—or World War I.

When he took power less than a year and a half ago, France was the "sick man of Europe" with one foot in the grave, afflicted by chronic governmental semi-paralysis and convulsed by the beginnings of civil war.

With careful deference to democratic processes, De Gaulle has given France a new constitution that seems to work well and provides a government capable of governing. He has accomplished the difficult; the impossible is taking him a little longer.

Under his leadership the apparently hopeless and insoluble problem of Algeria now seems to be approaching solution. His new appeal to the Algerian nationalist leaders was statesmanlike and generous, and all signs point to their intention of accepting the invitation to talk things over as soon as they are through checking it carefully for gimmicks.

In effect, he has offered Algeria the right to decide its own future once the Algerian War is called off. De Gaulle wants to stall off a summit meeting with Khrushchev in order to give France time to end the Algerian War and join the atomic club. His cooperation with NATO is less than wholehearted.

But despite such differences, isn't it better for NATO to have a member, for the Anglo-American partnership to have an ally, of increased vitality under strong leadership? Disagreements can be ironed out, but weak governments which lack the leadership to solve their worst problems are of minimal value as allies.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Waste

The principal waste in this country is of brains. The "conflict of interest" rule means that some of the best intellects of the country are not available for service to the American people. Another waste of intellect is the system of retirement. When a man reaches 62 in some firms or 65 in others and similar ages in government positions, out he goes no matter how alert, how wise, how experienced, how capable he may be.

This is utter waste. Some of the most capable men in this country are in their 80's. Bernard Baruch will be 90 on his next birthday and he is thinking more clearly than most of our politicians in Washington. General J. H. Doolittle, in an address nearly a decade ago, said:

"Two thousand years ago, the average individual could expect to live 25 years. The actual and projected average life span for white males in the U.S. was 48 years in 1900, 58 years in 1925, and is 66 for 1950 and 71 for 1975.

"This trend is splendid, but it presents several problems. Along with greater longevity, there has been a continuing increase in educational level and a consequent increase in the age at which individuals enter the labor force. There has also been a decline in the relative number of very old people engaged in productive work. In general, the tendency, after a liberal pension plan is assured, is to decrease retirement age . . ."

The waste is not so much that the middle-aged group have to support the oldsters as it is that we lose the advantage of the experience and wisdom of older men and women. We are depriving ourselves of the advantages of their knowledge and skill. We are casting aside years of training and losing billions of dollars of costly education. This is particularly true of engineers and scholars of various kinds.

It has been suggested by Frederick E. Moskovics, himself an oldster still at work, that it would be sound for the government to take on retired men of great experience in an advisory capacity.

Many such men are financially independent or are living on pensions from their former companies and are capable of 10 or 15 years more of top-notch work. This is what General Doolittle had to say about Moskovics:

". . . Fred had practically retired before the war and was absolutely lost. When the war crisis came up, he went back to work as a full time consultant with the U.S.A.F. and not only found happiness, but health and renewed youth. Having had that experience, he now doesn't want to return to inactivity—Fred is 71 years young (80 in 1959). . . . Age and obsolescence should not be measured chronologically, but by competence and productive capacity. This is sometimes difficult to do in business, where an arbitrary 'par for the retirement age course' is often established. It is particularly those people who are at their mental peak and in good physical condition, but who are forced to retire as a result of company ruling, whom we should attempt to retrieve."

Moskovics tells this:

". . . some years ago when I was vice president of the American Standards Association I was closely associated with Bancroft Gherardi, who was vice president and general manager of the A.T.&T. He was at that time president of the American Standards Association and that particular year received the Edison medal for electrical achievements. At 65 years of age he was retired arbitrarily. Physically he was in splendid shape . . ."

To pull a strong, active man away from his work and to tell him to do nothing is to kill him. Even if he does not die, even if he devotes himself to golf and bridge or some other hobbies, he is no longer constructive; he feels death at his heels. In a country such as ours, where brainpower needs to be mobilized in the public interest, such men should not be wasted.

The reasons why the older and wiser men are pushed aside are that pension funds, insurance policies, the demands of younger men force companies and government offices to adopt rigid rules. Age is no longer a barrier to hard work, particularly in fields which involve mental effort rather than physical activity. We need only look at what Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has done for West Germany to realize the great advantage of orderly thinking at whatever age.

Anti-Aircraft And His Magic Carpet

Unions Are Brazen And Public Is To Blame

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — From coast to coast the news has been blazoned across the front pages that the U.S. government has filed suit agaisnt 18 steel companies for alleged violation of those sections of the antitrust laws which deal with "restraint of trade." There's nothing proved yet, but the average man will believe that maybe the steel companies have done something awful or the government wouldn't have sued them.

The sad truth, on the other hand, is that labor unions, which can do more things that are damaging to the American economy than those of which the steel men now are accused, cannot be prosecuted. For Congress has refused to pass any laws to forbid conspiriacies in restraint of trade among labor unions. Employers in a single industry cannot get together to fix prices or to agree with one another not to buy cheaply produced foreign steel products, but a labor union can shut up all the plants in the same industry and demand a uniform wage. This, of course, means a fixed labor cost throughout the industry, which in turn affects the price.

Why doesn't Congress pass such an antimonopoly law to cover unions, too? Because, in addition to their monopoly power in an industry, most of the big unions are banded together in a huge effort to try to "rig" Congress. This isn't unlawful either. The method is to pour millions of dollars of campaign contributions into the election funds of Senators and Representatives who do the bidding of the unions. Many of the most outspoken defenders of labor unions are among those who have benefited substantially from campaign contributions. James R. Hoffa, the czar of the Teamsters Union, has brazenly announced that a big fund is being collected to help defeat all those Senators and Representatives who recently voted to enact the new labor reform law, which is aimed at racketeers.

What are the steel manufacturing and fabricating companies supposed to have done to bring down the official wrath of the Department of Justice? They are charged with having conspired to control the market in seven states for "reinforcing bars" used to strengthen concrete in heavy construction. The complaint by the government says that, in collusion with the steel companies, the makers of the bars allocated the fabrication jobs among themselves, filed identical bids on projects, agreed not to buy cheaper foreign-made bars, and tried to freeze out general contractors and smaller fabricators.

If true, this is a blow at small business. But it is trivial in effect compared to the plight of small steel manufacturers who are compelled by the unions to pay the same high wages as their well-heeled competitors. The steel companies cannot get together and restrain trade, but the big unions can.

If the principal of antimonopoly laws is valid in the case of the employers, it is sound also in the case of the unions.

The unions, of course, label any such proposal as "union-breaking." Certainly it means breaking up monopolies in labor, but there is no more logic in the argument against it than to say that the antitrust laws break up an individual company's right to do business as a separate company.

The basic point is collusion and conspiracy. Workers have the right to join a union in their own plant and to strike if they cannot agree with the employer through collective bargaining, but have they a right to monopolize an entire industry and, by collusion with all the local unions throughout the country, conspire to bring on an industry-wide strike? This is the real issue that the Congress will have to face at its next session, and it may also be one of the most important controversies in the 1960 Congressional campaign.

Already the leaders of the big steel unions are threatening another nation-wide strike at the end of the 80-day injunction recently invoked under the Taft-Hartley Act. They have arrogantly served warning on the government of the United States that it had better get all the steel it needs for defense right away because a continuation of the strike is contemplated by the union.

It is strange to see a body of Americans warning their own government that the interests of a labor union would supersede the interests of the whole country in the event that the employers do not surrender before the 80 days expire. Yet, unless antimonopoly rules are applied to labor unions under federal law, there is a chance that another economic debacle such as the country has just witnessed will ensue in the winter months of 1960. How cocky can any economic group get? As cocky as the indifferent voters of the United States will let such a bloc grow, as some of the members of that group brazenly try to buy the votes of a majority in the Congress of the United States.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

INTERNATIONAL CLIMATE—The attention of the nation's capital seems to be focused most these days on foreign affairs, and the atmosphere is hopeful.

President Eisenhower holds the center of the stage to a greater degree than he has in almost seven years in the White House. His efforts at personal diplomacy has so overshadowed the activities of his secretary of State, Christian A. Herter, that Herter's doings are only briefly chronicled in the current press.

There is a perceptible pause in the partisan bickering over foreign policy as Republicans and Democrats alike await the outcome of Ike's travels, his presummit meeting with other western leaders in Paris, and the summit meeting itself.

It is almost as if Democrats were waiting to shout "me too" if things go well, and to condemn them if they go badly. But even the Democrats, except the handful vying for the presidential nomination, are hopeful for a better international climate.

Officially, the government continues a policy of caution and almost of warning against expectations from the forthcoming tour. As in the case of the Khrushchev visit last September, the administration seems fearful of too much public optimism on a lack of concrete developments.

Among seasoned diplomats, current world developments are considered to be most preliminary and exploratory. To them the road to international accommodation is still long and tortuous. But even they cannot wholly conceal their own hopes that the world is standing on the brink of an easier, more peaceful era.

Candidate For Panama Presidency Plans New Anti-American Rioting

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Another big blow-up is scheduled to break loose in and around the Panama Canal today. It is due to be led by Do. Aquilino Boyd, the former foreign minister who has become the Fidel Castro of Panama and is trying to use anti-Americanism to become president of the little country that sits astride the big ditch.

It was Dr. Boyd who incited the recent riot in front of the American Embassy and who personally tore the American flag to shreds.

Boyd is a rabble-rouser pure and simple, has never passed a constructive law while a member of the Panamanian Congress, but knows, like many other Caribbean politicians that the more he kicks Uncle Sam the more popular he becomes politically.

The problem in Panama, however, goes much deeper than mere rabble-rousing. Actually it boils down to the basic fact that problems should be solved before they become crises, not afterward.

When the United States surrenders or makes concessions under pressure after the problems fester, it weakens American prestige all over Latin America and leads to demands for more concessions.

The basic issue on Nov. 3 and again today is the right of the Panamanian flag to fly alongside the Stars and Stripes on territory of the Canal one. Panamanians argue that the Canal Zone is leased by them to the United States. They collect rent. If they are able to lease land, they own it, they argue. Otherwise they could not collect rent.

Many moderate Panamanians who are stanch friends of the United States, argue that we are foolish to hold out on this symbolic concession to Panamanian sovereignty. They want the Stars and Stripes to continue flying over the Canal Zone, but with the Panamanian flag alongside it.

Truman On Panama

In Independence, Mo., the other day, I reminded Harry Truman that some time ago he had told me how he had once proposed the internationalization of the Panama Canal.

"That was at the Potsdam conference in 1945," he recalled. "I proposed to Stalin and Churchill that all the great waterways be internationalized—the Kiel Canal, the Rhine-Danube waterway from the North Sea to the Black Sea, the Bosporus, the Suez Canal, and the Panama Canal.

"These great waterways, I proposed, should be set aside for the use of all nations. However, neither Stalin nor Churchill would listen."

"Now that we're in so much trouble in Panama," I asked, "what's your solution? If we internationalize now it would look like surrender."

"I've got no solution now," said the ex-President. "I'm just a retired Missouri farmer looking out on life."

Strike It Rich

When the Harris committee gets around to probing TV giveaway shows, its members should take an especially careful look at those who operated "The Big Payoff," sponsored by Colgate-Palmolive on CBS until recently.

Walt Framer, the man who produced "The Big Payoff," is one of the phenomenal characters of television. And the manner in which his front company, "Spotlight Promotions," owned by his children and managed by his brother, collected TV sets, refrigerators, electric ranges, mink coats, and automobiles for the big giveaway, has already been reported in this column.

But since FCC Chairman John Doerfer has now publicly stated that the FCC would probe "accumulative deception," it might be a good idea for the Congressmen to look into the accumulative operations of Walt Framer, particularly his earlier show, "Strike It Rich."

This was a performance calculated to touch the heartstrings of America. Actually, it was about as heartless a TV production as ever exploited human misery. It was rigged from beginning to end.

"Strike It Rich" brought to New York the hungry, the jobless, the man whose wife was dying and needed an operation, the orphan who needed adoption. Then while America watched and listened, Walt Framer answered the telephone from benefactors who volunteered to help those who were suffering. It was a touching program.

10,000,000 Wept

At times almost ten million people started crying as they watched the unfortunate tell their tales of suffering. And as they told them, the master of ceremonies would pick up the telephone which he called the "Heart Line," and receive a call from some generous benefactor. But what the audience didn't know was that the benefactor not only had been coached in advance, but frequently was charged a fee for getting his name mentioned on the air.

When a family came to New York and stayed in a Manhattan hotel, that hotel paid for the publicity. When a family came to New York courtesy of certain airlines usually the airlines paid for the plug.

Thousands of letters flowed into the "Strike It Rich" program. They were culled out by Framer's associates, checked with local mayors, and if they were heartrending enough the writers were brought to New York.

After the program they were sometimes left stranded. One of Framer's associates warned that he would get into trouble with New York's Commissioner of Welfare, and eventually this happened. Complaints from the Welfare Department finally closed the show. But for seven years it had tugged the heartstrings of America.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The Irish are rich in pride and poverty. They starve slowly and snobbishly, never asking for a handout from other nations, hoarding a poetic culture that cannot be eaten, giving their men to other armies and other flags, and exporting the one thing they can afford—their children.

There is a great and tragic story in modern Ireland and, to get it, one would have to roam the broad streets of Dublin, the alleys of Waterford, and the slums of Blackpool-in-Cork. Ireland isn't heaven, nor will it be until the overweening pride and the abject poverty are in balance.

The arms of Ireland are as well muscled as any I've seen, but the faces are gaunt and the eyes are big and deep in the sockets. The men and the women understand hard work and the church and little else. The birth rate is high, but the population declined from 6,000,000 to 3,000,000 in the last century.

Still, the people are living better than formerly. Some have washing machines, but no running water. For several years, a factory has been manufacturing television sets for export, but Ireland is only now getting its first TV station.

Mr. Gary McEoin, who writes a critical article in "America," says that there have never been "so few young workers on the farms. No sooner do they finish school than they emigrate, attracted by high wages and steady work. The money they spend on vacation in Ireland and the substantial remittances they send their families account in large part for the improved living conditions of those who stay."

Our people—the Bishops, the McSwiggens, the Murphies — all came from Ireland and, as far back as I can remember, I've heard of "hard times at home." My forbears worked the rocky land until their hands bled, but they would not complain nor would they ask a favor. They left for the United States and Australia, but they never forgot the green sod and sometimes, when they heard songs of the River Lee and the Boys from Wexford, they hung their heads and thinned their lips.

There is very little risk capital in Ireland. The Germans have two big factories humming, the Birtish manufacture automobiles there, the Americans are building plants to make lipsticks and chewing gum. The Irish build few news plants. Forty per cent of all the people are on farms.

They have done to themselves what Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morganthau wanted to do to Germany—make an agricultural nation in an industrial world. It cannot compete. Each year Ireland consumes more than it can sell and it is driven deeper into poverty.

A journalist friend said to McEoin: "This is the way God meant people to live. We in this country have found a human tempo of living. We're doing fine." It is possible, following that line of reasoning, that the rest of the world is out of step, but unless the emerald hills and the silver lakes can be made into a big tourist attraction, the Irish may have found a human tempo for dying.

There is pride, it seems, in not doing a job well, "Slipshod performance is universal," a priest is quoted in the "America" article, "and still you can't say that it is inherent in our character. The Irish make excellent workers abroad."

McEoin, who has a doctorate in philosophy from the National University of Ireland, writes: "There is no use having modern telephone equipment if a switchboard operator tells you there is no reply rather than make the effort to complete the call, or if the long-distance service in a major city takes ten minutes to look up a number in the London directory. I had both these experiences, and all to whom I recounted them agreed they were normal."

On the other hand, wages are insufferably low and city workers are not encouraged to complain. A handsome and ragged 12-year-old boy ran the elevator in the Hotel Imperial in Cork when I was there. He was polite, aloof and hungry. I offered him a tip and his smile died and he turned it down.

I have a cousin in Upper Scoby and he is close to 75, and a bachelor. He works a 30-acre beet farm and he works it with his bare hands. He asks no favors and he gives none. He faces the dead of winter with patience and equanimity under the crucifix he understands . . .

TB On The Decline But Still Not Extinct

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The end of tuberculosis is in sight but it will take some time to get there. Treatment with rest and sunshine is passe; specific drugs and surgery are more efficient time and life savers. There are empty beds in most tuberculosis sanitoriums and some of these institutions should shut their doors to save the taxpayers' money.

A promising new blood test for tuberculosis is being tried out in many parts of the country. It tells the physician whether the disease exists. In contrast, a positive reaction in the older tuberculin test meant that the individual had been exposed to the disease at some time.

But all of these advances are for nought unless the disease is detected early and treated promptly. The Christmas Seal program has helped make some of these advances possible. Your continued support will go a long way toward eradicating the disease. Meanwhile, there are many things we can do to avoid tuberculosis.

It is important to maintain a high degree of resistance by following the simple rules of health, with particular reference to diet and general living conditions. World War II studies demonstrate that the incidence of TB fluctuated with the nutritional status of the community. The prevalence of the disease among Russian prisoners was 19 per cent; among Birtish, 1.2 per cent.

The marked difference in diet was the distinguishing feature. The mortality from tuberculosis in Denmark declined sharply in World War I with the resumption of meat and dairy products after the blockade was discontinued. Other studies have shown that a deficiency of vitamin A and C may lower resistance to TB.

Much of the credit for the decline in this disease in our country is due to our better housing programs. Tuberculosis is contagious and it is not difficult to imagine what happens in a crowded tenement when one man or woman becomes infected and exposes all the others to the malady.

MILK vs. ALCOHOL

J. H. writes: A recent newspaper story quoted a physician as saying milk is more harmful to adults than alcohol. Can you tell me what this means?

REPLY

Stories are easily twisted to make headlines. There is nothing in alcohol that makes it superior to milk, from the medical point of view. I assume the physician referred to was considering the fat in milk in relationship to cholesterol and hardening of the arteries. In my opinion, an 8-ounce glass of milk—regardless of its fat content—is better than an equil amount of whisky, gin, or Scotch.

RINGWORM PILLS

F. L. writes: Are the athlete's foot pills effective?

REPLY

Early reports on griseofulvin have been encouraging, even in stubborn cases of ringworm of the nails. Time will tell how effective this new product will be on all types of ringworm infection.

RED-EYED

F. R. writes: What should be done about bloodshot eyes?

REPLY

Nothing when there is no obvious cause. Congestion is associated with infection, allergy, irritation of the eyes, or dissipation.

GAS FORMING FOODS

R. L. writes: Should a person with air on the colon be on a special diet?

REPLY

It is normal to have air in the colon because our food ferments during the digestive process. Nervousness, overwork, and fatigue may disturb digestion and contribute to gas. If too much gas is present, certain foods should be avoided. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for list of gas forming foods.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

For many years, historians have been trying to decide which leg it was that doughty old Peter Stuyvesant lost. Some New Amsterdam pictures portray him with a wooden left leg; others show the peg on the right. Today the Hotel Astor, in New York, plays it safe by hanging two portraits in the Stuyvesant room: one depicts him with the left leg missing; the other without the right.

A distinguished surgeon once sought permission to exhume Stuyvesant's body to settle the argument once and for all, but the family descendants were properly outraged. At long last, however, Henry Kessler came upon an authentic Stuyvesant letter which states plainly, "I lost my right leg." And that's that!

Herbert Hoover reluctantly consented to pose for a pre-banquet photograph recently. When it was finished the photographer said reproachfully, "You promised to smile for me."

"Confound it!" exploded Mr. Hoover. "I was smiling."

Anti-Aircraft And His Magic Carpet

The Leadership Of Charles de Gaulle

There is hardly a reasonable man left who can doubt that Gen. Charles de Gaulle has been just about the best thing that has happened to France since World War II—or World War I.

When he took power less than a year and a half ago, France was the "sick man of Europe" with one foot in the grave, afflicted by chronic governmental semi-paralysis and convulsed by the beginnings of civil war.

With careful deference to democratic processes, De Gaulle has given France a new constitution that seems to work well and provides a government capable of governing. He has accomplished the difficult; the impossible is taking him a little longer.

Under his leadership the apparently hopeless and insoluble problem of Algeria now seems to be approaching solution. His new appeal to the Algerian nationalist leaders was statesmanlike and generous, and all signs point to their intention of accepting the invitation to talk things over as soon as they are through checking it carefully for gimmicks.

In effect, he has offered Algeria the right to decide its own future once the Algerian War is called off. De Gaulle wants to stall off a summit meeting with Khrushchev in order to give France time to end the Algerian War and join the atomic club. His cooperation with NATO is less than wholehearted.

But despite such differences, isn't it better for NATO to have a member, for the Anglo-American partnership to have an ally, of increased vitality under strong leadership? Disagreements can be ironed out, but weak governments which lack the leadership to solve their worst problems are of minimal value as allies.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Waste

The principal waste in this country is of brains. The "conflict of interest" rule means that some of the best intellects of the country are not available for service to the American people. Another waste of intellect is the system of retirement. When a man reaches 62 in some firms or 65 in others and similar ages in government positions, out he goes no matter how alert, how wise, how experienced, how capable he may be.

This is utter waste. Some of the most capable men in this country are in their 80's. Bernard Baruch will be 90 on his next birthday and he is thinking more clearly than most of our politicians in Washington. General J. H. Doolittle, in an address nearly a decade ago, said:

"Two thousand years ago, the average individual could expect to live 25 years. The actual and projected average life span for white males in the U.S. was 48 years in 1900, 58 years in 1925, and is 66 for 1950 and 71 for 1975.

"This trend is splendid, but it presents several problems. Along with greater longevity, there has been a continuing increase in educational level and a consequent increase in the age at which individuals enter the labor force. There has also been a decline in the relative number of very old people engaged in productive work. In general, the tendency, after a liberal pension plan is assured, is to decrease retirement age . . ."

The waste is not so much that the middle-aged group have to support the oldsters as it is that we lose the advantage of the experience and wisdom of older men and women. We are depriving ourselves of the advantages of their knowledge and skill. We are casting aside years of training and losing billions of dollars of costly education. This is particularly true of engineers and scholars of various kinds.

It has been suggested by Frederick E. Moskovics, himself an oldster still at work, that it would be sound for the government to take on retired men of great experience in an advisory capacity.

Many such men are financially independent or are living on pensions from their former companies and are capable of 10 or 15 years more of top-notch work. This is what General Doolittle had to say about Moskovics:

". . . Fred had practically retired before the war and was absolutely lost. When the war crisis came up, he went back to work as a full time consultant with the U.S.A.F. and not only found happiness, but health and renewed youth. Having had that experience, he now doesn't want to return to inactivity—Fred is 71 years young (80 in 1959). . . . Age and obsolescence should not be measured chronologically, but by competence and productive capacity. This is sometimes difficult to do in business, where an arbitrary 'par for the retirement age course' is often established. It is particularly those people who are at their mental peak and in good physical condition, but who are forced to retire as a result of company ruling, whom we should attempt to retrieve."

Moskovics tells this:

". . . some years ago when I was vice president of the American Standards Association I was closely associated with Bancroft Gherardi, who was vice president and general manager of the A.T.&T. He was at that time president of the American Standards Association and that particular year received the Edison medal for electrical achievements. At 65 years of age he was retired arbitrarily. Physically he was in splendid shape . . ."

To pull a strong, active man away from his work and to tell him to do nothing is to kill him. Even if he does not die, even if he devotes himself to golf and bridge or some other hobbies, he is no longer constructive; he feels death at his heels. In a country such as ours, where brainpower needs to be mobilized in the public interest, such men should not be wasted.

The reasons why the older and wiser men are pushed aside are that pension funds, insurance policies, the demands of younger men force companies and government offices to adopt rigid rules. Age is no longer a barrier to hard work, particularly in fields which involve mental effort rather than physical activity. We need only look at what Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has done for West Germany to realize the great advantage of orderly thinking at whatever age.

Candidate For Panama Presidency Plans New Anti-American Rioting

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Another big blow-up is scheduled to break loose in and around the Panama Canal today. It is due to be led by Do. Aquilino Boyd, the former foreign minister who has become the Fidel Castro of Panama and is trying to use anti-Americanism to become president of the little country that sits astride the big ditch.

It was Dr. Boyd who incited the recent riot in front of the American Embassy and who personally tore the American flag to shreds.

Boyd is a rabble-rouser pure and simple, has never passed a constructive law while a member of the Panamanian Congress, but knows, like many other Caribbean politicians that the more he kicks Uncle Sam the more popular he becomes politically.

The problem in Panama, however, goes much deeper than mere rabble-rousing. Actually it boils down to the basic fact that problems should be solved before they become crises, not afterward.

When the United States surrenders or makes concessions under pressure after the problems fester, it weakens American prestige all over Latin America and leads to demands for more concessions.

The basic issue on Nov. 3 and again today is the right of the Panamanian flag to fly alongside the Stars and Stripes on territory of the Canal one. Panamanians argue that the Canal Zone is leased by them to the United States. They collect rent. If they are able to lease land, they own it, they argue. Otherwise they could not collect rent.

Many moderate Panamanians who are stanch friends of the United States, argue that we are foolish to hold out on this symbolic concession to Panamanian sovereignty. They want the Stars and Stripes to continue flying over the Canal Zone, but with the Panamanian flag alongside it.

Truman On Panama

In Independence, Mo., the other day, I reminded Harry Truman that some time ago he had told me how he had once proposed the internationalization of the Panama Canal.

"That was at the Potsdam conference in 1945," he recalled. "I proposed to Stalin and Churchill that all the great waterways be internationalized—the Kiel Canal, the Rhine-Danube waterway from the North Sea to the Black Sea, the Bosporus, the Suez Canal, and the Panama Canal.

"These great waterways, I proposed, should be set aside for the use of all nations. However, neither Stalin nor Churchill would listen."

"Now that we're in so much trouble in Panama," I asked, "what's your solution? If we internationalize now it would look like surrender."

"I've got no solution now," said the ex-President. "I'm just a retired Missouri farmer looking out on life."

Unions Are Brazen And Public Is To Blame

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — From coast to coast the news has been blazoned across the front pages that the U.S. government has filed suit agaisnt 18 steel companies for alleged violation of those sections of the antitrust laws which deal with "restraint of trade." There's nothing proved yet, but the average man will believe that maybe the steel companies have done something awful or the government wouldn't have sued them.

The sad truth, on the other hand, is that labor unions, which can do more things that are damaging to the American economy than those of which the steel men now are accused, cannot be prosecuted. For Congress has refused to pass any laws to forbid conspiriacies in restraint of trade among labor unions. Employers in a single industry cannot get together to fix prices or to agree with one another not to buy cheaply produced foreign steel products, but a labor union can shut up all the plants in the same industry and demand a uniform wage. This, of course, means a fixed labor cost throughout the industry, which in turn affects the price.

Why doesn't Congress pass such an antimonopoly law to cover unions, too? Because, in addition to their monopoly power in an industry, most of the big unions are banded together in a huge effort to try to "rig" Congress. This isn't unlawful either. The method is to pour millions of dollars of campaign contributions into the election funds of Senators and Representatives who do the bidding of the unions. Many of the most outspoken defenders of labor unions are among those who have benefited substantially from campaign contributions. James R. Hoffa, the czar of the Teamsters Union, has brazenly announced that a big fund is being collected to help defeat all those Senators and Representatives who recently voted to enact the new labor reform law, which is aimed at racketeers.

What are the steel manufacturing and fabricating companies supposed to have done to bring down the official wrath of the Department of Justice? They are charged with having conspired to control the market in seven states for "reinforcing bars" used to strengthen concrete in heavy construction. The complaint by the government says that, in collusion with the steel companies, the makers of the bars allocated the fabrication jobs among themselves, filed identical bids on projects, agreed not to buy cheaper foreign-made bars, and tried to freeze out general contractors and smaller fabricators.

If true, this is a blow at small business. But it is trivial in effect compared to the plight of small steel manufacturers who are compelled by the unions to pay the same high wages as their well-heeled competitors. The steel companies cannot get together and restrain trade, but the big unions can.

If the principal of antimonopoly laws is valid in the case of the employers, it is sound also in the case of the unions.

The unions, of course, label any such proposal as "union-breaking." Certainly it means breaking up monopolies in labor, but there is no more logic in the argument against it than to say that the antitrust laws break up an individual company's right to do business as a separate company.

The basic point is collusion and conspiracy. Workers have the right to join a union in their own plant and to strike if they cannot agree with the employer through collective bargaining, but have they a right to monopolize an entire industry and, by collusion with all the local unions throughout the country, conspire to bring on an industry-wide strike? This is the real issue that the Congress will have to face at its next session, and it may also be one of the most important controversies in the 1960 Congressional campaign.

Already the leaders of the big steel unions are threatening another nation-wide strike at the end of the 80-day injunction recently invoked under the Taft-Hartley Act. They have arrogantly served warning on the government of the United States that it had better get all the steel it needs for defense right away because a continuation of the strike is contemplated by the union.

It is strange to see a body of Americans warning their own government that the interests of a labor union would supersede the interests of the whole country in the event that the employers do not surrender before the 80 days expire. Yet, unless antimonopoly rules are applied to labor unions under federal law, there is a chance that another economic debacle such as the country has just witnessed will ensue in the winter months of 1960. How cocky can any economic group get? As cocky as the indifferent voters of the United States will let such a bloc grow, as some of the members of that group brazenly try to buy the votes of a majority in the Congress of the United States.

Inside Washington

INTERNATIONAL CLIMATE—The attention of the nation's capital seems to be focused most these days on foreign affairs, and the atmosphere is hopeful.

President Eisenhower holds the center of the stage to a greater degree than he has in almost seven years in the White House. His efforts at personal diplomacy has so overshadowed the activities of his secretary of State, Christian A. Herter, that Herter's doings are only briefly chronicled in the current press.

There is a perceptible pause in the partisan bickering over foreign policy as Republicans and Democrats alike await the outcome of Ike's travels, his presummit meeting with other western leaders in Paris, and the summit meeting itself.

It is almost as if Democrats were waiting to shout "me too" if things go well, and to condemn them if they go badly. But even the Democrats, except the handful vying for the presidential nomination, are hopeful for a better international climate.

Officially, the government continues a policy of caution and almost of warning against expectations from the forthcoming tour. As in the case of the Khrushchev visit last September, the administration seems fearful of too much public optimism on a lack of concrete developments.

Among seasoned diplomats, current world developments are considered to be most preliminary and exploratory. To them the road to international accommodation is still long and tortuous. But even they cannot wholly conceal their own hopes that the world is standing on the brink of an easier, more peaceful era.

The Irish are rich in pride and poverty. They starve slowly and snobbishly, never asking for a handout from other nations, hoarding a poetic culture that cannot be eaten, giving their men to other armies and other flags, and exporting the one thing they can afford—their children.

There is a great and tragic story in modern Ireland and, to get it, one would have to roam the broad streets of Dublin, the alleys of Waterford, and the slums of Blackpool-in-Cork. Ireland isn't heaven, nor will it be until the overweening pride and the abject poverty are in balance.

The arms of Ireland are as well muscled as any I've seen, but the faces are gaunt and the eyes are big and deep in the sockets. The men and the women understand hard work and the church and little else. The birth rate is high, but the population declined from 6,000,000 to 3,000,000 in the last century.

Still, the people are living better than formerly. Some have washing machines, but no running water. For several years, a factory has been manufacturing television sets for export, but Ireland is only now getting its first TV station.

Mr. Gary McEoin, who writes a critical article in "America," says that there have never been "so few young workers on the farms. No sooner do they finish school than they emigrate, attracted by high wages and steady work. The money they spend on vacation in Ireland and the substantial remittances they send their families account in large part for the improved living conditions of those who stay."

Our people—the Bishops, the McSwiggens, the Murphies — all came from Ireland and, as far back as I can remember, I've heard of "hard times at home." My forbears worked the rocky land until their hands bled, but they would not complain nor would they ask a favor. They left for the United States and Australia, but they never forgot the green sod and sometimes, when they heard songs of the River Lee and the Boys from Wexford, they hung their heads and thinned their lips.

There is very little risk capital in Ireland. The Germans have two big factories humming, the British manufacture automobiles there, the Americans are building plants to make lipsticks and chewing gum. The Irish build few news plants. Forty per cent of all the people are on farms.

They have done to themselves what Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morganthau wanted to do to Germany—make an agricultural nation in an industrial world. It cannot compete. Each year Ireland consumes more than it can sell and it is driven deeper into poverty.

A journalist friend said to McEoin: "This is the way God meant people to live. We in this country have found a human tempo of living. We're doing fine." It is possible, following that line of reasoning, that the rest of the world is out of step, but unless the emerald hills and the silver lakes can be made into a big tourist attraction, the Irish may have found a human tempo for dying.

There is pride, it seems, in not doing a job well, "Slipshod performance is universal," a priest is quoted in the "America" article, "and still you can't say that it is inherent in our character. The Irish make excellent workers abroad."

McEoin, who has a doctorate in philosophy from the National University of Ireland, writes: "There is no use having modern telephone equipment if a switchboard operator tells you there is no reply rather than make the effort to complete the call, or if the long-distance service in a major city takes ten minutes to look up a number in the London directory. I had both these experiences, and all to whom I recounted them agreed they were normal."

On the other hand, wages are insufferably low and city workers are not encouraged to complain. A handsome and ragged 12-year-old boy ran the elevator in the Hotel Imperial in Cork when I was there. He was polite, aloof and hungry. I offered him a tip and his smile died and he turned it down.

I have a cousin in Upper Scoby and he is close to 75, and a bachelor. He works a 30-acre beet farm and he works it with his bare hands. He asks no favors and he gives none. He faces the dead of winter with patience and equanimity under the crucifix he understands . . .

Racing Calendar For Maryland Will Be Unveiled Monday

Cumberland And Bel Air Shift Urged

Commission Would Favor Only Three Half Mile Tracks

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission huddled with operators of four of the State's five half-mile tracks Friday, then announced it will unveil the 1960 racing calendar Monday.

The announcement by Chairman R. Bruce Livie came after a give-and-take discussion of reports that the commission wants to transfer the Bel Air and Cumberland half-mile track meets to one of the State's three major tracks.

Livie made his views clear when Bernard Polan, president of Bel Air, began expressing his preference for certain dates in 1960.

Transfer Is Urged

"Let me get you off the hook," said Livie. "There's no use in us throwing the ball around about your dates right now. The commission's thinking is that Bel Air and Cumberland will do best to transfer their dates to another track for a 24-day meeting in August."

"Well, we did very well last year at Bel Air," replied Polan. "Naturally, we don't like giving up our plant."

Asked by Albert Shuger, another commission member, about transferring Bel Air's dates to Laurel or Pimlico, Polan said, "We would prefer to run at Bel Air."

"Do you prefer a $750,000 a day mutuel handle or one of $300,000?" asked Livie. A $750,000 handle, naturally, replied Polan.

"Well, then you favor a transfer," said Livie.

Under questioning by Polan, the commission chairman said such a transfer would be permanent, with Bel Air's owners setting a price on their holdings and negotiating with one of the mile tracks.

"The commission wouldn't attempt to take dates away from you," said Shuger. "You would have to make the decision. We can't do that."

Dr. Robert Snavely, representing Hagerstown, said the half-mile track there was not interested in any transfer. Although Hagerstown had been mentioned along with Cumberland and Bel Air in original reports of the commission proposal, it was not included in Friday's detailed discussion by the commission and track operators.

Cumberland Not Present

Cumberland was not represented at the meeting.

Marlboro and Timonium, as well as Hagerstown, would continue to operate their half-mile tracks under the latest commission proposal.

In their discussion, Livie and Shuger made clear they were thinking in terms of transferring Cumberland and Bel Air operations to either Laurel or Pimlico but not to the other mile track, Bowie.

GAFFNEY TOUCHDOWN BOUND—Bob Gaffney of Allegany, on the right, is shown on his 64-yard touchdown run which produced the first score in the third period as Coach Ed Schwarz's Campers defeated Fort Hill High School's gridders on Thanksgiving Day at the local stadium by the score of 20-0. It was Allegany's first win over the Sentinels since 1945. Gaffney accounted for two touchdowns and gained 155 yards for the Campers, newly crowned city champions and co-champions of the CVAL for 1959. Other players identified in the picture are Richard Peck (49) of Fort Hill and Tom Cecil (37) Allegany, in the background. (News Photo)

Campers Dethrone Fort Hill, Gaffney, Cawood Stand Out

Allegany Cops City Title, Shares CVAL Crown In 20-0 Win

Allegany High School returned to the football spotlight after an absence of 14 years by exploding for 20 points in the second and third periods to defeat Fort Hill High School's defending champions before an outpouring of 7,000 persons on Thanksgiving Day in the Greenway Avenue bowl. The score was 20-0.

It was Allegany's first victory in a Turkey Day game since 1945 and snapped a five-game winning streak of the Sentinels since the tie of 1953. In 14 previous contests Fort Hill had won 11 times and two contests ended in ties.

First Loss Since 1956

By winning the holiday classic Coach Ed Schwarz's Campers handed Fort Hill its first setback since late in the 1956 season and snapped a 28-game string during which the Hilltoppers had posted 26 wins and played two tie contests. The Campers victory prevented Fort Hill from completing its third straight season undefeated.

And last but not least, Allegany knocked Fort Hill out of first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League and thereby shared the championship with Westminster High's Owls for the 1959 campaign, each school having won five games and lost one. Fort Hill, which won or shared the title three years in a row, wound up its league schedule with a 4-1-1 mark. As the new city champions, Allegany was 2-0, having beaten LaSalle, 21-0, earlier in the season.

In marching to its double title, Allegany handed Fort Hill its first shutout in 31 games. North High of Hagerstown was the last team to skunk the Sentinels and that was by the score of 20-0 in 1956.

Gaffney Scores Twice

Allegany's record of 8-2 for the current season was the Campers' best performance since the 1955 team won seven games and lost one. Last season, the first under Coach Schwarz, Allegany wound up with a 7-3 mark.

Bob Gaffney, Allegany halfback, who won a "double" scoring title for the season, rang up two touchdowns in the championship battle on runs of 64 and 61 yards. The other AHS six-pointer was credited to Frank Cawood who smashed over from the two. Tommy Miller and Ronnie Evans accounted for the conversions on runs.

After a scoreless first half, Allegany broke the ice in the third period on the first place after the kickoff when Gaffney, on a pitchout, sprinted 64 yards from his own 36 for the initial six-pointer. Miller's run for the point was stopped.

Cawood Runs 59 Yards

A 59-yard gallop by Frank Cawood to the six set up the Campers' second score in the same period after Fort Hill had been stopped within shadow of the Allegany goal line. After Tommy Miller gained one yard, Cawood raced into the end zone with the Campers' second score. Evans ran the point to give AHS a 13-0 advantage.

Fort Hill threatened late in the third period but lost the ball on downs deep in Allegany territory. Starting on their own 32 in the final period, the Campers drove to their last score in four plays, capped by Bob Gaffney's sensational 61-yard jaunt to paydirt. Miller converted the extra point on a run and that conciuded the scoring in the 24th Thanksgiving Day game between the schools. Fort Hill still leads in wins, 12 to 10. Two games ended in draws.

Gaffney wound up the season with 12 touchdowns and 72 points to pace the CVAL scorers while his 14 tds and 84 points gave him the city championship.

Pile Up 360 Yards

Allegany held a 12-9 edge in first downs and rolled up a total of 360 net yards gained to Fort Hill's 144. Fort Hill completed one of five aerials for 10 yards and had one intercepted while the victors completed one of two passes for 23 yards. Coach Schwarz's team reeled off 337 net yards on the ground to the losers' 134.

The No. 1 ground gainer was Gaffney who piled up 155 yards in 17 carries for an average of 9.1 yards. Frank Cawood was the runner-up in this department with an average of 7.4 yards for 118 yards in 16 carries.

Bush Sparkles As Beall Tops LaSalle, 20-13

Don's Three Third Period Touchdowns Win Holiday Game

Beall High School's Mountaineers spotted LaSalle two touchdowns in the second period then rallied for 20 points in the third period to beat the Explorers by the score of 20-13 before 1,300 persons on Thanksgiving Day in Beall High School Stadium.

The victory was Beall's fourth straight over LaSalle in a holiday contest.

Ron Speir and Tom Finan scored LaSalle's touchdowns in the second period and Tommy Simpson kicked the extra point from placement. Speir's touchdown came on a five-yard run while Finan dashed 54 yards for his score.

Don Bush was the "whole show" for Coach Jerry Calhoun's team in the third quarter when he scored all three touchdowns and Jim Robertson place-kicked two extra points to give the Mountaineers a season record of 5-4-1.

Bush's scores came on a 75-yard kickoff return and gallops of 67 and 40 yards.

The defeat was the ninth against one victory for the Explorers. The nine losses for LaSalle is the most ever charged against a Cumberland team in one season.

Beall chalked up seven first downs to six for the Explorers.

Each team chalked up seven first downs. The Mountaineers gained a total of 275 net yards to 115 for LaSalle. The Frostburg eleven tried five passes and completed none while the Explorer completed 3 of 7 aerials for 42 yards. The Mountaineers accumulated 275 net yards on the ground to LaSalle's 83.

Clemson Seeks Bowl Contest, Faces Furman

N.C. State To Play Maryland On Dec. 5

By The Associated Press

Clemson's Atlantic Coast Conference football champions, still in the running for a bowl bid, close out their regular season away from home Saturday, meeting Furman of the Southern Conference at Greenville, S.C.

Wake Forest and South Carolina settle their differences on the neutral turf of Memorial Stadium at Charlotte, N.C., in the only game matching conference rivals.

After these games go into the record books, only the North Carolina State at Maryland game Dec. 5 will remain before the regular season is completed.

Clemson has clinched its second ACC title in a row with a 6-1 conference record and is 7-2 for all games, ranking 14th nationally.

Coach Frank Howard, commenting "I don't know a thing about our bowl chances," said that feelers have been received from several post-season game sponsors in recent weeks. If the Tigers are to go bowling their best chances appear to be in the Dec. 19 Blue Bonnet Bowl at Houston, the Philadelphia Liberty Bowl, also Dec. 19, and the Jan. 2 Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

But much depends not only on how impressive Clemson is against Furman but on what other teams in the running for invitations do in their games.

Clemson is heavily favored over a Furman team that has lost six of nine starts and hasn't tamed the Tigers in more than 20 years.

South Carolina can gain a second place tie with North Carolina with a victory over Wake Forest. The Gamecocks are 4-2 in ACC play and 6-3 for all games. Wake Forest, 33-31 loser to Clemson last week, has a 3-3 league record and has won five of nine. A victory would give Wake Forest its best record in eight years.

Norman Snead, Wake's ace quarterback, will be gunning for four conference records in total offense, passing yardage, pass completions and touchdown passes.

Potomac State Beaten By West Liberty, 63-60

Catamounts Beaten In New Martinsville Jaycee Tournament

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — Wheeling and defending champion West Liberty turned in come-from-behind victories Friday night to advance to the finals of the annual Jaycee Basketball tournament here.

Mike McGivern tipped in a field goal with 15 seconds remaining in an overtime period to give Wheeling a 72-71 victory over Beckley College while West Liberty opened up in the second half to gain a 63-60 win over Potomac.

The Catamounts from Keyser held a 33-27 halftime margin over the Hilltoppers. But West Liberty started a comeback shortly after the final half began and Jim Tegley's field goal put them in front 45-44 to stay. Tegley was highpoint man with 19, following by Dickie Pannett at 17. Frank Neal with 18 led Potomac's scoring.

Falcons Whip Concord Five

Score 84-80 Win In Antlers Event

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI)—Fairmont came from behind Friday night to defeat Concord 84-80 in a first round game of the Antlers Basketball tournament here.

The Falcons advanced to the Saturday finals against the winner of the Davis-Elkins—Glenville game.

Concord took a 10-2 lead early in the opening period but Joe Tristani put Fairmont ahead to stay to 20-18 when he sank two foul shots.

Fairmont held a 48-43 halftime lead, but Concord closed the gap in the closing minute of play, 82-80. Then Ron Everhart stole the ball from a Concord player and sank a two - pointer to stretch the victory margin.

Five Fairmont players hit in double - figures headed by Curtis Guin, whose 20 points was the game's high. Tristani with 16 was second high Fairmont scorer. Tony Mandeville with 19 and Jim Poterfield with 16 led the Mountain Lions.

Trainer Testifies In Race Fixing Case On Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Horse trainer Chuck Wells testified Friday he was present when private investigator Fred Otash asked to be "counted in" on buying a horse for a fixed race at Santa Anita last spring.

Wells, 34, brother of Don Wells, who turned state's evidence, took the stand as trial resumed for Otash and five others charged with attempting to fix races.

The witness said he met Otash and Richard Gach, another state's witness formerly charged in the case, at a Hollywood drug store last Feb. 10.

"Gach said he would like to purchase a race horse at Santa Anita and said he wanted to dope the horse to win some money on a bet," Wells testified. Otash asked if it could be done. Chuck Wells testified he answered "I believe it could."

The prosecution maintains Otash supplied money for the purchase of Wonder Boy, allegedly doped for a race March 4. The horse finished ninth.

D&E led by eight points throughout most of the game, holding a halftime 35-22 advantage. At one point in the final period they were 18 points ahead.

Bob Ferrell with 19 and Rex Shreve with 15 led the Senator scoring while Eberbaugh with 13 was high for Glenville.

The Indians, hitting only six field goals in 38 tries, stayed in the game with some accurate shooting from the foul line. They made 29 of their 38 foul shots.

Jim Bower, with 16 points, and Gary Bangard with 15 led the Middies' attack from out front. Jeff Cohen paced the Indians with 14 points, getting 4 of their six field goals.

Billy Hunter Beats Miteff In Garden Go

Floored In Ninth, Gets Split Verdict

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Hunter, a technical knockout winner over Alex Miteff in September, won a split decision over the Argentine Friday night at Madison Square Garden in a blood-spattered 10-rounder.

Hunter weighed 191½, Miteff 203½.

Miteff, his left eye a circle of blood from the seventh round on, dropped Hunter for an automatic eight count in a wild ninth-round rally. But he couldn't put away the lanky Detroit boxer who survived the worst and went on to win.

Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 5-4-1 for Hunter and Judge Leo Birnbaum voted for Hunter by a 6-4 margin. Judge Charlie Rosen had Miteff out front 6-4.

Hunter seemed to be headed for a decisive victory when he staggered Miteff in the seventh and opened a gash over his left eye.

The referee called Dr. Samuel Swetnick into the ring to look at the eye at the end of the seventh and again at the end of the eighth. Each time he waved the bout on.

Miteff, a savage body puncher, finally brought down his prey in the ninth with a thumping hook. Hunter fell quickly and jumped up again looking to see if Referee Goldstein had called it a knockdown. Goldstein said it was a knockdown and tolled off the automatic eight while Hunter stood and waited.

Miteff who had been stopped by Hunter in seven rounds on cuts Sept. 25 at Syracuse, N.Y., confused his opponent by switching from right handed style to southpaw and back again in the early rounds. Hunter's superior boxing skill began to pay off in the second.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mississippi, Southern California and Army rate an edge in the top games on college football's wind-up weekend.

It's well to remember it's still November—the month of upsets—but away we go:

Army over Navy — Joe Caldwell's passing and Lonely End Bill Carpenter's receiving hold the key to Cadet hopes.

Southern California over Notre Dame—Izo is back in harness for the Irish but that's probably not enough.

Mississippi over Mississippi State—Those roaring Rebels are terrors both ways—on offense and defense.

Georgia Tech over Georgia—weakest vote of the week.

Florida over Miami — but Miami is on a hot streak now and has the bowl incentive.

Texas Christian over Southern Methodist—Frogs on the ground to outscore Meredith and SMU in the air.

Holy Cross over Boston College—series history shows anything can happen.

Auburn over Alabama — Auburn's muscle should do it.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt—Vols must be due to bounce back with some of that mid-season football.

Wake Forest over South Carolina—Snead's passes to win a tight one.

Air Force over Colorado—shapes up now as a toughie for the Falcons.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State—Sooners have rubbed out the rough spots and are rolling in high.

Baylor over Rice—both losers but Baylor's statistics are a bit more impressive.

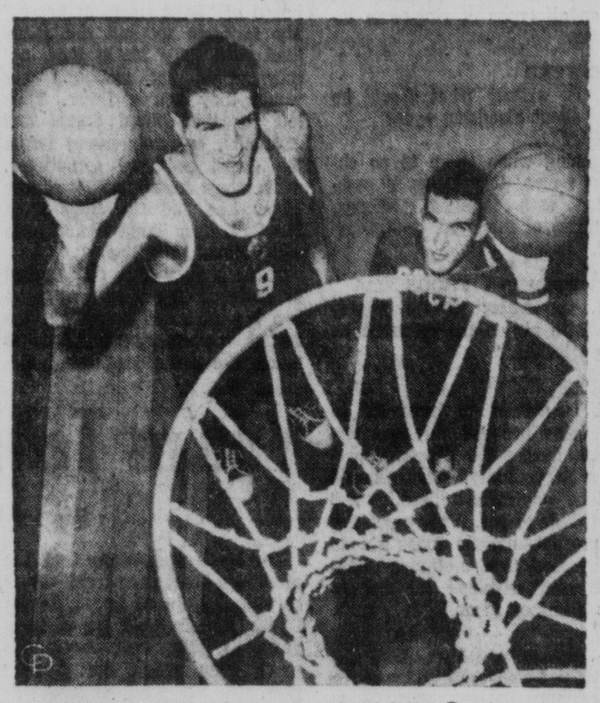
Also: Clemson over Furman, Florida State over Tampa, UCLA over Utah, Arizona State over Arizona.

Liked Southpaws

The Pirates picked on two southpaw pitchers for the most homeruns in 1959—Johnny Podres of the Dodgers yielded seven round-trippers to the Bucs and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants gave up five homers to the Pirates.

Stuart Ties Record

Sophomore slugger Dick Stuart tied a Pittsburgh club record in 1959 for most homeruns as a pinch hitter in one season with three, set in 1913 by Hamilton Hyatt and equaled by Bob Skinner in 1956.



RUSSIAN UP THERE — Tallest member of the Russian cage team, which is touring the U. S. in an exhibition jaunt, is Yan Kruminsh, who is 7'3" and weighs 320 pounds. Kruminsh here works out in New York with one of the smallest members of the squad, Maigonis Valomanis, who is 5'11".

Racing Calendar For Maryland Will Be Unveiled Monday

Cumberland And Bel Air Shift Urged

Commission Would Favor Only Three Half Mile Tracks

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Racing Commission huddled with operators of four of the State's five half-mile tracks Friday, then announced it will unveil the 1960 racing calendar Monday.

The announcement by Chairman R. Bruce Livie came after a give-and-take discussion of reports that the commission wants to transfer the Bel Air and Cumberland half-mile track meets to one of the State's three major tracks.

Livie made his views clear when Bernard Polan, president of Bel Air, began expressing his preference for certain dates in 1960.

Transfer Is Urged

"Let me get you off the hook," said Livie. "There's no use in us throwing the ball around about your dates right now. The commission's thinking is that Bel Air and Cumberland will do best to transfer their dates to another track for a 24-day meeting in August."

"Well, we did very well last year at Bel Air," replied Polan. "Naturally, we don't like giving up our plant."

Asked by Albert Shuger, another commission member, about transferring Bel Air's dates to Laurel or Pimlico, Polan said, "We would prefer to run at Bel Air."

"Do you prefer a $750,000 a day mutuel handle or one of $300,000?" asked Livie. A $750,000 handle, naturally, replied Polan.

"Well, then you favor a transfer," said Livie.

Under questioning by Polan, the commission chairman said such a transfer would be permanent, with Bel Air's owners setting a price on their holdings and negotiating with one of the mile tracks.

"The commission wouldn't attempt to take dates away from you," said Shuger. "You would have to make the decision. We can't do that."

Dr. Robert Snavely, representing Hagerstown, said the half-mile track there was not interested in any transfer. Although Hagerstown had been mentioned along with Cumberland and Bel Air in original reports of the commission proposal, it was not included in Friday's detailed discussion by the commission and track operators.

Cumberland Not Present

Cumberland was not represented at the meeting.

Marlboro and Timonium, as well as Hagerstown, would continue to operate their half-mile tracks under the latest commission proposal.

In their discussion, Livie and Shuger made clear they were thinking in terms of transferring Cumberland and Bel Air operations to either Laurel or Pimlico but not to the other mile track, Bowie.

GAFFNEY TOUCHDOWN BOUND—Bob Gaffney of Allegany, on the right, is shown on his 64-yard touchdown run which produced the first score in the third period as Coach Ed Schwarz's Campers defeated Fort Hill High School's gridders on Thanksgiving Day at the local stadium by the score of 20-0. It was Allegany's first win over the Sentinels since 1945. Gaffney accounted for two touchdowns and gained 155 yards for the Campers, newly crowned city champions and co-champions of the CVAL for 1959. Other players identified in the picture are Richard Peck (49) of Fort Hill and Tom Cecil (37) Allegany, in the background. (News Photo)

Campers Dethrone Fort Hill, Gaffney, Cawood Stand Out

Allegany Cops City Title, Shares CVAL Crown In 20-0 Win

Allegany High School returned to the football spotlight after an absence of 14 years by exploding for 20 points in the second and third periods to defeat Fort Hill High School's defending champions before an outpouring of 7,000 persons on Thanksgiving Day in the Greenway Avenue bowl. The score was 20-0.

It was Allegany's first victory in a Turkey Day game since 1945 and snapped a five-game winning streak of the Sentinels since the tie of 1953. In 14 previous contests Fort Hill had won 11 times and two contests ended in ties.

First Loss Since 1956

By winning the holiday classic Coach Ed Schwarz's Campers handed Fort Hill its first setback since late in the 1956 season and snapped a 28-game string during which the Hilltoppers had posted 26 wins and played two tie contests. The Campers victory prevented Fort Hill from completing its third straight season undefeated.

And last but not least, Allegany knocked Fort Hill out of first place in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League and thereby shared the championship with Westminster High's Owls for the 1959 campaign, each school having won five games and lost one. Fort Hill, which won or shared the title three years in a row, wound up its league schedule with a 4-1-1 mark. As the new city champions, Allegany was 2-0, having beaten LaSalle, 21-0, earlier in the season.

In marching to its double title, Allegany handed Fort Hill its first shutout in 31 games. North High of Hagerstown was the last team to skunk the Sentinels and that was by the score of 20-0 in 1956.

Gaffney Scores Twice

Allegany's record of 8-2 for the current season was the Campers' best performance since the 1955 team won seven games and lost one. Last season, the first under Coach Schwarz, Allegany wound up with a 7-3 mark.

Bob Gaffney, Allegany halfback, who won a "double" scoring title for the season, rang up two touchdowns in the championship battle on runs of 64 and 61 yards. The other AHS six-pointer was credited to Frank Cawood who smashed over from the two. Tommy Miller and Ronnie Evans accounted for the conversions on runs.

After a scoreless first half, Allegany broke the ice in the third period on the first place after the kickoff when Gaffney, on a pitchout, sprinted 64 yards from his own 36 for the initial six-pointer. Miller's run for the point was stopped.

Cawood Runs 59 Yards

A 59-yard gallop by Frank Cawood to the six set up the Campers' second score in the same period after Fort Hill had been stopped within shadow of the Allegany goal line. After Tommy Miller gained one yard, Cawood raced into the end zone with the Campers' second score. Evans ran the point to give AHS a 13-0 advantage.

Fort Hill threatened late in the third period but lost the ball on downs deep in Allegany territory. Starting on their own 32 in the final period, the Campers drove to their last score in four plays, capped by Bob Gaffney's sensational 61-yard jaunt to paydirt. Miller converted the extra point on a run and that concluded the scoring in the 24th Thanksgiving Day game between the schools. Fort Hill still leads in wins, 12 to 10. Two games ended in draws.

Gaffney wound up the season with 12 touchdowns and 72 points to pace the CVAL scorers while his 14 tds and 84 points gave him the city championship.

Pile Up 360 Yards

Allegany held a 12-9 edge in first downs and rolled up a total of 360 net yards gained to Fort Hill's 144. Fort Hill completed one of five aerials for 10 yards and had one intercepted while the victors completed one of two passes for 23 yards. Coach Schwarz's team reeled off 337 net yards on the ground to the losers' 134.

The No. 1 ground gainer was Gaffney who piled up 155 yards in 17 carries for an average of 9.1 yards. Frank Cawood was the runner-up in this department with an average of 7.4 yards for 118 yards in 16 carries.

Billy Hunter Beats Miteff In Garden Go

Floored In Ninth, Gets Split Verdict

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Hunter, a technical knockout winner over Alex Miteff in September, won a split decision over the Argentine Friday night at Madison Square Garden in a blood-spattered 10-rounder.

Hunter weighed 191½, Miteff 203½.

Miteff, his left eye a circle of blood from the seventh round on, dropped Hunter for an automatic eight count in a wild ninth-round rally. But he couldn't put away the lanky Detroit boxer who survived the worst and went on to win.

Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 5-4-1 for Hunter and Judge Leo Birnbaum voted for Hunter by a 6-4 margin. Judge Charlie Rosen had Miteff out front 6-4.

Hunter seemed to be headed for a decisive victory when he staggered Miteff in the seventh and opened a gash over his left eye.

The referee called Dr. Samuel Swetnick into the ring to look at the eye at the end of the seventh and again at the end of the eighth. Each time he waved the bout on.

Miteff, a savage body puncher, finally brought down his prey in the ninth with a thumping hook. Hunter fell quickly and jumped up again looking to see if Referee Goldstein had called it a knockdown. Goldstein said it was a knockdown and tolled off the automatic eight while Hunter stood and waited.

Miteff who had been stopped by Hunter in seven rounds on cuts Sept. 25 at Syracuse, N.Y., confused his opponent by switching from right handed style to southpaw and back again in the early rounds. Hunter's superior boxing skill began to pay off in the second.

Bush Sparkles As Beall Tops LaSalle, 20-13

Don's Three Third Period Touchdowns Win Holiday Game

Beall High School's Mountaineers spotted LaSalle two touchdowns in the second period then rallied for 20 points in the third period to beat the Explorers by the score of 20-13 before 1,300 persons on Thanksgiving Day in Beall High School Stadium.

The victory was Beall's fourth straight over LaSalle in a holiday contest.

Ron Speir and Tom Finan scored LaSalle's touchdowns in the second period and Tommy Simpson kicked the extra point from placement. Speir's touchdown came on a five-yard run while Finan dashed 54 yards for his score.

Don Bush was the "whole show" for Coach Jerry Calhoun's team in the third quarter when he scored all three touchdowns and Jim Robertson place-kicked two extra points to give the Mountaineers a season record of 5-4.

Bush's scores came on a 75-yard kickoff return and gallops of 67 and 40 yards.

The defeat was the ninth against one victory for the Explorers. The nine losses for LaSalle is the most ever charged against a Cumberland team in one season.

Beall chalked up seven first downs to six for the Explorers.

Each team chalked up seven first downs. The Mountaineers gained a total of 275 net yards to 117 for LaSalle. The Frostburg eleven tried five passes and completed none while the Explorer completed 3 of 7 aerials for 42 yards. The Mountaineers accumulated 275 net yards on the ground to LaSalle's 83.

Clemson Seeks Bowl Contest, Faces Furman

N.C. State To Play Maryland On Dec. 5

By The Associated Press

Clemson's Atlantic Coast Conference football champions, still in the running for a bowl bid, close out their regular season away from home Saturday, meeting Furman of the Southern Conference at Greenville, S.C.

Wake Forest and South Carolina settle their differences on the neutral turf of Memorial Stadium at Charlotte, N.C., in the only game matching conference rivals.

After these games go into the record books, only the North Carolina State at Maryland game Dec. 5 will remain before the regular season is completed.

Clemson has clinched its second ACC title in a row with a 6-1 conference record and is 7-2 for all games, ranking 14th nationally.

Coach Frank Howard, commenting "I don't know a thing about our bowl chances," said that feelers have been received from several post-season game sponsors in recent weeks. If the Tigers are to go bowling their best chances appear to be in the Dec. 19 Blue Bonnet Bowl at Houston, the Philadelphia Liberty Bowl, also Dec. 19, and the Jan. 2 Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

But much depends not only on how impressive Clemson is against Furman but on what other teams in the running for invitations do in their games.

Clemson is heavily favored over a Furman team that has lost six of nine starts and hasn't tamed the Tigers in more than 20 years.

South Carolina can gain a second place tie with North Carolina with a victory over Wake Forest. The Gamecocks are 4-2 in ACC play and 6-3 for all games. Wake Forest, 33-31 loser to Clemson last week, has a 3-3 league record and has won five of nine. A victory would give Wake Forest its best record in eight years.

Norman Snead, Wake's ace quarterback, will be gunning for four conference records in total offense, passing yardage, pass completions and touchdown passes.

Potomac State Beaten By West Liberty, 63-60

Catamounts Beaten In New Martinsville Jaycee Tournament

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — Wheeling and defending champion West Liberty turned in come-from-behind victories Friday night to advance to the finals of the annual Jaycee Basketball tournament here.

Mike McGivern tipped in a field goal with 15 seconds remaining in an overtime period to give Wheeling a 72-71 victory over Beckley College while West Liberty opened up in the second half to gain a 63-60 win over Potomac.

The Catamounts from Keyser held a 33-27 halftime margin over the Hilltoppers. But West Liberty started a comeback shortly after the final half began and Jim Tegley's field goal put them in front 45-44 to stay. Tegley was highpoint man with 19, following by Dickie Pannett at 17. Frank Neal with 18 led Potomac's scoring.

Falcons Whip Concord Five

Score 84-80 Win In Antlers Event

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI)—Fairmont came from behind Friday night to defeat Concord 84-80 in a first round game of the Antlers Basketball tournament here.

The Falcons advanced to the Saturday finals against the winner of the Davis-Elkins—Glenville game.

Concord took a 10-2 lead early in the opening period but Joe Tristani put Fairmont ahead to stay to 20-18 when he sank two foul shots.

Fairmont held a 48-43 halftime lead, but Concord closed the gap in the closing minute of play, 82-80. Then Ron Everhart stole the ball from a Concord player and sank a two - pointer to stretch the victory margin.

Five Fairmont players hit in double - figures headed by Curtis Guin, whose 20 points was the game's high. Tristani with 16 was second high Fairmont scorer. Tony Mandeville with 19 and Jim Poterfield with 16 led the Mountain Lions.

Trainer Testifies In Race Fixing Case On Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Horse trainer Chuck Wells testified Friday he was present when private investigator Fred Otash asked to be "counted in" on buying a horse for a fixed race at Santa Anita last spring.

Wells, 34, brother of Don Wells, who turned state's evidence, took the stand as trial resumed for Otash and five others charged with attempting to fix races.

The witness said he met Otash and Richard Gach, another state's witness formerly charged in the case, at a Hollywood drug store last Feb. 10.

"Gach said he would like to purchase a race horse at Santa Anita and said he wanted to dope the horse to win some money on a bet," Wells testified. Otash asked if it could be done. Chuck Wells testified he answered "I believe it could."

The prosecution maintains Otash supplied money for the purchase of Wonder Boy, allegedly doped for a race March 4. The horse finished ninth.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mississippi, Southern California and Army rate an edge in the top games on college football's wind-up weekend.

It's well to remember it's still November—the month of upsets—but away we go:

Army over Navy — Joe Caldwell's passing and Lonely End Bill Carpenter's receiving hold the key to Cadet hopes.

Southern California over Notre Dame—Izo is back in harness for the Irish but that's probably not enough.

Mississippi over Mississippi State—Those roaring Rebels are terrors both ways—on offense and defense.

Georgia Tech over Georgia—weakest vote of the week.

Florida over Miami — but Miami is on a hot streak now and has the bowl incentive.

Texas Christian over Southern Methodist—Frogs on the ground to outscore Meredith and SMU in the air.

Holy Cross over Boston College—series history shows anything can happen.

Auburn over Alabama — Auburn's muscle should do it.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt—Vols must be due to bounce back with some of that mid-season football.

Wake Forest over South Carolina—Snead's passes to win a tight one.

Air Force over Colorado—shapes up now as a toughie for the Falcons.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State—Sooners have rubbed out the rough spots and are rolling in high.

Baylor over Rice—both losers but Baylor's statistics are a bit more impressive.

Also: Clemson over Furman, Florida State over Tampa, UCLA over Utah, Arizona State over Arizona.

Stuart Ties Record

Sophomore slugger Dick Stuart tied a Pittsburgh club record in 1959 for most homeruns as a pinch hitter in one season with three, set in 1913 by Hamilton Hyatt and equaled by Bob Skinner in 1956.

The Pirates picked on two southpaw pitchers for the most homeruns in 1959—Johnny Podres of the Dodgers yielded seven round-trippers to the Bucs and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants gave up five homers to the Pirates.

Colts Favored To Win Over Los Angeles Rams Sunday

Forty Niners Play Browns In Cleveland

Ohioans' 10-Point Choice; Redskins Visit New York

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco 49ers, who hit the road and found it a road to ruin, limp into Cleveland's Municipal Stadium Sunday to face to face the Browns. It figures to be a bust-up game for the loser's title hopes in the National Football League.

San Francisco was the surprise club of the season just three weeks ago, riding a four-game streak for a 6-1 record as the 49ers rolled east. But they now have lost two straight — 14-3 at Chicago against the Bears and 45-14 at Baltimore, a loss that cost them quarterback Y. A. Tittle and left them tied with the Colts for the Western Conference lead.

The 49ers and Colts, defending NFL champs, have 6-3 records with three to play. Baltimore could eliminate the 49ers in a return match at San Francisco next week if the Colts can couple a victory over Los Angeles with a San Francisco defeat Sunday. The Colts are 9½-point favorites over the tailend Rams (2-7) at Baltimore.

Cleveland, tied with Philadelphia for second place in the Eastern race after last weekend's 21-20 upset by Pittsburgh, is a 10-point favorite over San Francisco. The Browns and Eagles have 6-3 records and trail the New York Giants (7-2) by a game.

Philadelphia plays at Pittsburgh, with the Steelers (4-4-1) favored by 4. The Giants are at home against Washington (3-6) and are 10-point favorites over the Redskins.

The Bears (5-4) and Chicago Cardinals (2-7) stage another meeting in their anything-can-happen city series in the only other game scheduled. The Bears are favored by 7.

Woolpert Gets Year's Leave

Ross Giudice Takes Over As Dons' Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Phil Woolpert, who coached the university of San Francisco to two NCAA basketball championships, Friday took a year's leave of absence for health reasons.

Friends doubted he ever would return to coaching. A clue was that he also took leave from his post as athletic director.

Ross Giudice, freshman coach, was named head coach for one year.

Woolpert said he requested leave because of a recent back injury and "the effects and rigors of coaching upon my health." He fell while with his squad was touring the Philippines.

In nine years, Woolpert's Dons won 154 games and lost 74; won the NCAA in 1955 and 1956; won 60 straight in 1954-55-56, still an NCAA record; won 104 and lost only 10 in 1954-58.

Giants Will Open New Stadium Apr. 12

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's new 15-million-dollar baseball stadium, seating 45,000, will be opened April 12 as the San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals start play in the National League.

The stadium, Candlestick Park, has been built on the bay near the city's southern boundary.

The Giants said Friday there will be 77 home games next season, including 23 night games.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Merrill Gainer, who coached Bluefield to the state Class AAA football championship in his first season there, has been named as West Virginia's 1959 High School Coach of the Year.

Gainer's selection by the West Virginia Sports Writers Assn. was announced Friday. He will receive the Morgantown Dominion-News award in recognition of his selection.

The presentation will be made in Charleston the night of Dec. 7 the 15th annual Victory Awards Dinner sponsored by the sports writers.

The balloting was conducted just before the Class AAA title playoff in Charleston last Saturday in which Bluefield beat Parkersburg 19-13.

Ragan Leads West Palm Beach Open

Florida Pro Shoots 65 In First Round

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla., a lanky young newcomer to the professional golf ranks, shot a seven under par 65 Friday to take a surprise three-stroke lead in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open.

Ragan, a 22-year-old former captain of the University of Florida golf team, has been a professional only 18 months. But his 65 with his first day 70 gave him 135 and an advantage over a field that includes some of the golf world's top names.

Another comparative unknown, Jay Brewer of Crystal River, Fla., shot a 66 for a 138 and second place.

Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., shot 67 for a 139 total and a third place tie with Gardner Dickinson of Palm Beach, Fla., and Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., the defending champion. Dickinson had a 68 Friday and Cooper a 69.

John Berry of Tallahassee, Fla., in a three way tie for the opening day lead with a 68, slipped to a 73 Friday and dropped to a three-way tie for fifth place. The other two who shared the first day lead with him, Frank Wharton of Dallas and George Bayer of Gleneagles, Ill., fared even worse. Both came in with scores of 74 Friday for two day totals of 142.

Palmer was consistent with nine hole scores of 33-34. His iron shots were nearly perfect. On the first hole he dropped the ball three feet from the cup. He did the same on the five. Palmer made his only bogey on the eighth when he chipped over the green, came back, and two putted.

Camilli Named Yankees' Coach

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees announced the signing of former Brooklyn Dodger star Dolph Camilli Friday as a scout in the northern California area, plus Utah and Idaho.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

TOSS OUT THE RECORDS, good or bad, for when Army and Navy meet it's always a great football game.

And, the annual meeting of the service teams comes up Saturday, the 60th in the series and the Navy hopes it can ring the bells and bring the standings a bit closer.

Ringing the bells for the Midshipmen is part of the glamorous fixings surrounding the Army-Navy games.

One of them is the Japanese bell, which was presented to the Academy in 1858 upon the death of Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry. This bell rings only when the Navy beats the Army in football although it was used on another occasion just once—VJ Day.

The other bell is what is known as the "Big E" bell, which was brought to the Naval Academy nine years ago. The two-foot bell came from the bridge of the famed aircraft carrier Enterprise, now mothballed. It rings out the news any day on which Navy wins the majority of its athletic contests with Army and also on the day when Navy beats the Army in football.

The Army, of course, will do all it can to keep those bells silent again this year.

• • •

HOW CLOSE THIS FAMED series has been over the years is seen by the statistics, which show that Army has won 30, Navy 24 with five ties. And, how close the battles have been is highlighted by the records which show that only five times in the 59 years of history of the game has a winner been able to score as many as 30 points.

Accenting the battle a bit more, 21 games in the series have been won by a touchdown or less.

Neither Army nor Navy go into the 60th game with good records for the service clubs. Army is 4-4-1 for the season and Navy is the same, 4-4-1. Army won last year's game.

The series started in 1890. It had lapses in the late 1890s, in 1909, in 1917-18, and in 1928-29.

For the first time in several years, both academies will have new coaches guiding their teams in this big classic, which will draw 100,000 as usual.

Army, TCU And Mississippi Are Choices In Games Today

Cadets Meet Navy, Miami And Trojans Are Picked To Win

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

Army's pass-conscious Cadets are a six-point favorite over Navy in Saturday's service classic, vying for headlines on the final big football week end of the season with five games involving bowl berths.

Georgia and Georgia Tech are rated even money in their battle at Atlanta with scouts from the Orange Bowl, Gator Bowl, Liberty Bowl, and Blue Bonnet Bowl tripping over each other in the stands. If Georgia, Southeastern Conference champ, is the loser, both teams could wind up with bids.

Texas Christian is rated a seven point pick over SMU, and could wind up in one of several bowls.

Records Are Forgotten

Mississippi is a 24-point favorite to beat Mississippi State, thus clearing the way for a probable rematch against Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl.

But the national spotlight, and national television, will be focussed on Philadelphia where three-times beaten Army and four times beaten Navy forget about their mediocre records and settled down for an all-out battle before an anticipated crowd of 97,000.

Army will look to the skies for victory, banking on its Joe Caldwell-to "Lonely End" Bill Carpenter air arm. Navy is expected to stick closer to the ground with speedster Joe Bellino sparking a solid running attack. It's the first meeting between the two first-year coaches of the academies—Dale Hall of Army and Wayne Hardin of Navy. Army holds a 31-24 edge in the series with five ties.

But the Cadets are worried about a bad "omen." The "Goats" (Cadets in the lower half academically) beat the "Engineers" (upperhalf students) in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game at West Point, and that's supposed to presage a Navy victory.

Miami Eyes Oranges

Miami (Fla.) is a three point favorite over Florida in another game with bowl overtones. If Miami wins, it probably will receive a bid to oppose Missouri in the Orange Bowl. But a Miami defeat could open the Orange Bowl to the Georgia-Georgia Tech or TCU-SMU winner.

The Air Force Academy, a possibility for several bowls is favored by two points over Colorado.

Southern California is a one-point favorite over Notre Dame, the Trojans seeking to bounce back from their surprise loss to UCLA and Notre Dame hoping to retain the good form it showed in beating Iowa when George Izo returned to passing chores.

Traditional rivalries are the order of the day as the season comes to a close for most teams.

Other leading games include Holy Cross-Boston College in the East, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State in the Midwest, Alabama-Auburn, Clemson-Furman, South Carolina-Wake Forest, and Vanderbilt-Tennessee in the South, Baylor-Rice in the Southwest, and UCLA-Utah in the Far West.

Lenoir Rhyne Named NAIA Team Of Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., is the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics' No. 1 football team of the year, the NAIA announced Friday.

Lenoir Rhyne, which will host Southern Connecticut State Dec. 5 in the Eastern NAIA championship playoff semifinals, wound up the season with a 9-0 record.

The Bears polled 326 points, most ever given any team in the NAIA ratings.

Western Illinois, also undefeated and untied in nine games, came in second. Hillsdale, Mich., College, which will play Texas A. & I. at Kingsville, Tex., in the other end of the playoff semifinals will meet in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 19 for the NAIA football championship.

Girl, Struck By Steel Goal Post, Dies

Injured Following Melee After Game

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — A 14-year-old high school freshman died Friday of injuries suffered when she was struck by a steel goal post in a melee following a Thanksgiving Day football game.

The girl, Jane Puffer, apparently was struck on the head as she tried to push another girl from the path of the toppling, 250-pound post. A spectator said she saw Jane save the other girl's life.

A group of fans had surged around the posts after the Foxboro-Mansfield High School game and lifted the goal posts from their cement sleeves.

The steel posts were erected two years ago to replace wooden ones since they were considered safer and easier to maintain, officials said.

Police Chief Dennis F. Dolan said he had asked Norfolk County District Attorney Myron N. Lane for a full investigation of the circumstances leading to the girl's death. No arrests have been made as yet.

"With that big a group of people around the goal posts there was no way of telling just who was responsible," Dolan said.

Some 3,000 persons attended the game, won by Mansfield 14-6. Mansfield won the small schools state championship with the triumph.

The Puffer girl was one of five children. Her mother, Marie, is a laundress at Foxboro State (mental) Hospital. Her parents are separated.

Wheeling Cops Tourney Game

Defeats Beckley College, 72 To 71

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — Mike McGivern tipped in a field goal with 15 seconds remaining in an overtime to give Wheeling a 72-71 victory over Beckley College in the first round of the 2nd annual Jaycee Basketball tournament Friday night.

The victory advances Wheeling to the finals Saturday against the winner of the West Liberty-Potomac State contest, second on Friday night's twin-bill action.

Beckley held a 38-35 halftime advantage but could not keep it in the final minutes of play. Don Mercer sank a foul and McGivern a field goal to knot the count at 64-all. Mercer then put Wheeling ahead 66-64 with seconds left before Beckley's Vernon Hurt sank a two-pointer to send the game into overtime.

Hurt was the game's leading scorer getting 30 points. Mercer led the winners with 27.

Bridgeport Goes To Soccer Finale

STORRS, Conn. (UPI)—University of Bridgeport defeated West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers, 2-1, Friday and will meet St. Louis Saturday for the National NCAA soccer championship.

Friday's game was a continuation of a deadlock Thursday which extended through two overtime periods.

A goal by John Majesko of Kearney, N.J., decided the game.

St. Louis gained the finals by defeating City College of New York Thursday, 2-1.

Fight Is Postponed

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — World welterweight champion Don Jordan's nontitle 10-rounder with Brazil's Fernando Barreto Thursday was postponed from this Saturday to Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Californian's request. Jordan, of Los Angeles, has been suffering from the flu.

60TH TIME—For the 60th time, Army and Navy clash in the annual service game, set this time for Philadelphia's Municipal stadium Saturday, November 28. Now with new head coaches and records equal, Army is expected to be led by Joe Caldwell and Bob Anderson and Navy by Joe Tranchini and Joe Bellino. Army has won 30, Navy 24, with five ties.

Julmar Wins At Pimlico

Frankie Northcutt Is Aboard Victor

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Idle Hour Farm, of Lexington, Ky., sent out the winner of the featured Sparrows Point Purse here at Pimlico today in Julmar, a stakes-winning colt who traveled one mile on grass in 1.45. The winner, Julmar, paid $4.60 as the program's fifth winning favorite.

Apprentice Frankie Northcutt, leading "bug rider" of the country, rode a confident race on Julmar despite the fact his mount won by only a nose from Rodger Leslie's Sword Woman, with Rokeby Stable's Harvest Singing taking third.

Northcutt sat still on Julmar until the stretch drive despite the fact his mount had only a narrow lead over Sword Woman for the final three-quarters of the one-mile turf attraction.

Julmar, therefore, had some speed left and responded to the whip to run the once-around in 1:45 which is eight seconds slower than the four-year-old track record of 1.37 set by Bay of Bengal.

The winner was definitely dropping down in class since he won the Ventnor Turf Handicap at Atlantic City last summer and was third in the $20,000 Turf Cup at Laurel.

Merrill Saddles His 149th Winner

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Nov. 27 (AP)—F. H. Merrill, Jr. of Toronto, leading trainer of North America last year and in 1955, today saddles his 149th winner of the season, Sol Rottenberg's Bill Huey which won the feature at Narragansett Park.

Merrill currently is second to V. R. Wright in the race for 1960 honors. Wright is racing at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans as is W. H. Bishop who is third on the list.

Favorite of the 8,426 crowd, Bill Huey ran in front practically throughout the six-furlong race which he won by 5½ lengths at 7 to 10. His time on the slow track was 1.13 1/5. Bill Huey paid $4.80, $4.00 and $3.00.

A late rally through the stretch brought second money to Mrs. L. A. Grills' Makes Perfect which nosed out the Dunroaming Stable's Hy-Skeeter. The payoff on Makes Perfect was $5.80 and $4.20 and $3.80 on Hy-Skeeter.

Montreal Loses Richard For Month

MONTREAL (AP) — Doctors predicted Friday that hockey star Maurice (Rocket) Richard will be lost to the Montreal Canadiens for about a month.

The team made the announcement Friday shortly before the 38-year-old right winger underwent surgery to correct a depressed fracture of the left cheekbone.

He was injured Thursday night in Detroit when a puck fired by Red Wing rookie Murray Oliver struck him in the face.

Brooklyn May Get American League Berth

Circuit Planning To Add Two Teams

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York World-Telegram and Sun reported Friday that the American League is considering expanding to 10 teams with new franchises in Brooklyn and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Should such a move come to reality, the World-Telegram and Sun predicted that the loss of two of its five founding cities would deal the proposed Continental Baseball League "a killing blow."

The report, under the byline of baseball writer Dan Daniel, said the proposal of Brooklyn and Minneapolis - St. Paul additions was made by one of the American League's "high officials." The so-called Brooklyn entry would be located at the Flushing Meadow Stadium the city is considering building.

Daniel said this proposal will be considered by the league at its annual meeting at Miami Beach, Dec. 17.

In Boston Joe Cronin, American League president, said a fact-finding committee is scheduled to report Dec. 7-9 on problems of expansion. He said many problems have to be ironed out before specific cities could be discussed.

In New York, William A. Shea, chairman of the founders group of the Continental League, conceded that establishment of an American League team in New York would kill his league "because New York is the key." But he contended this "never will happen."

"The American League has no intention of expanding," said Shea. "This is another erroneous report to harass us."

New York state leads in American Bowling Congress members with 83,494. California is second with 77,530 pinmen.

Colts Favored To Win Over Los Angeles Rams Sunday

Forty Niners Play Browns In Cleveland

Ohioans' 10-Point Choice; Redskins Visit New York

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Francisco 49ers, who hit the road and found it a road to ruin, limp into Cleveland's Municipal Stadium Sunday to face to face the Browns. It figures to be a bust-up game for the loser's title hopes in the National Football League.

San Francisco was the surprise club of the season just three weeks ago, riding a four-game streak for a 6-1 record as the 49ers rolled east. But they now have lost two straight — 14-3 at Chicago against the Bears and 45-14 at Baltimore, a loss that cost them quarterback Y. A. Tittle and left them tied with the Colts for the Western Conference lead.

The 49ers and Colts, defending NFL champs, have 6-3 records with three to play. Baltimore could eliminate the 49ers in a return match at San Francisco next week if the Colts can couple a victory over Los Angeles with a San Francisco defeat Sunday. The Colts are 9½-point favorites over the tailend Rams (2-7) at Baltimore.

Cleveland, tied with Philadelphia for second place in the Eastern race after last weekend's 21-20 upset by Pittsburgh, is a 10-point favorite over San Francisco. The Browns and Eagles have 6-3 records and trail the New York Giants (7-2) by a game.

Philadelphia plays at Pittsburgh, with the Steelers (4-4-1) favored by 4. The Giants are at home against Washington (3-6) and are 10-point favorites over the Redskins.

The Bears (5-4) and Chicago Cardinals (2-7) stage another meeting in their anything-can-happen city series in the only other game scheduled. The Bears are favored by 7.

Woolpert Gets Year's Leave

Ross Giudice Takes Over As Dons' Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Phil Woolpert, who coached the university of San Francisco to two NCAA basketball championships, Friday took a year's leave of absence for health reasons.

Friends doubted he ever would return to coaching. A clue was that he also took leave from his post as athletic director.

Ross Giudice, freshman coach, was named head coach for one year.

Woolpert said he requested leave because of a recent back injury and "the effects and rigors of coaching upon my health." He fell while with his squad was touring the Philippines.

In nine years, Woolpert's Dons won 154 games and lost 74; won the NCAA in 1955 and 1956; won 60 straight in 1954-55-56, still an NCAA record; won 104 and lost only 10 in 1954-58.

Giants Will Open New Stadium Apr. 12

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's new 15-million-dollar baseball stadium, seating 45,000, will be opened April 12 as the San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals start play in the National League.

The stadium, Candlestick Park, has been built on the bay near the city's southern boundary.

The Giants said Friday there will be 77 home games next season, including 23 night games.

The balloting was conducted just before the Class AAA title playoff in Charleston last Saturday in which Bluefield beat Parkersburg 19-13.

Lenoir Rhyne Named NAIA Team Of Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Lenoir Rhyne College of Hickory, N.C., is the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics' No. 1 football team of the year, the NAIA announced Friday.

The Bears polled 326 points, most ever given any team in the NAIA ratings.

Western Illinois, also undefeated and untied in nine games, came in second. Hillsdale, Mich., College, which will play Texas A. & I. at Kingsville, Tex., in the other end of the playoff semifinals will meet in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 19 for the NAIA football championship.

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI) — Mike McGivern tipped in a field goal with 15 seconds remaining in an overtime to give Wheeling a 72-71 victory over Beckley College in the first round of the 2nd annual Jaycee Basketball tournament Friday night.

Beckley held a 38-35 halftime advantage but could not keep it in the final minutes of play. Don Mercer sank a foul and McGivern a field goal to knot the count at 64-all. Mercer then put Wheeling ahead 66-64 with seconds left before Beckley's Vernon Hurt sank a two-pointer to send the game into overtime.

Successful free-throw attempts on both sides gave Wheeling a 70-69 advantage with seconds left in the overtime. Hurt then sank a field goal to give Beckley the edge and set the stage for McGivern's game-winning goal.

Hurt was the game's leading scorer getting 30 points. Mercer led the winners with 27.

Julmar Wins At Pimlico

Frankie Northcutt Is Aboard Victor

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Idle Hour Farm, of Lexington, Ky., sent out the winner of the featured Sparrows Point Purse here at Pimlico today in Julmar, a stakes-winning colt who traveled one mile on grass in 1.45. The winner, Julmar, paid $4.60 as the program's fifth winning favorite.

Apprentice Frankie Northcutt, leading "bug rider" of the country, rode a confident race on Julmar despite the fact his mount won by only a nose from Rodger Leslie's Sword Woman, with Rokeby Stable's Harvest Singing taking third.

Northcutt sat still on Julmar until the stretch drive despite the fact his mount had only a narrow lead over Sword Woman for the final three-quarters of the one-mile turf attraction.

Julmar, therefore, had some speed left and responded to the whip to run the once-around in 1:45 which is eight seconds slower than the four-year-old track record of 1.37 set by Bay of Bengal.

The winner was definitely dropping down in class since he won the Ventnor Turf Handicap at Atlantic City last summer and was third in the $20,000 Turf Cup at Laurel.

Merrill Saddles His 149th Winner

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Nov. 27 (AP)—F. H. Merrill, Jr. of Toronto, leading trainer of North America last year and in 1955, today saddles his 149th winner of the season, Sol Rottenberg's Bill Huey which won the feature at Narragansett Park.

Merrill currently is second to V. R. Wright in the race for 1960 honors. Wright is racing at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans as is W. H. Bishop who is third on the list.

Favorite of the 8,426 crowd, Bill Huey ran in front practically throughout the six-furlong race which he won by 5½ lengths at 7 to 10. His time on the slow track was 1.13 1/5. Bill Huey paid $4.80, $4.00 and $3.00.

A late rally through the stretch brought second money to Mrs. L. A. Grills' Makes Perfect which nosed out the Dunroaming Stable's Hy-Skeeter. The payoff on Makes Perfect was $5.80 and $4.20 and $3.80 on Hy-Skeeter.

Montreal Loses Richard For Month

MONTREAL (AP) — Doctors predicted Friday that hockey star Maurice (Rocket) Richard will be lost to the Montreal Canadiens for about a month.

The team made the announcement Friday shortly before the 38-year-old right winger underwent surgery to correct a depressed fracture of the left cheekbone.

He was injured Thursday night in Detroit when a puck fired by Red Wing rookie Murray Oliver struck him in the face.

Brooklyn May Get American League Berth

Circuit Planning To Add Two Teams

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York World-Telegram and Sun reported Friday that the American League is considering expanding to 10 teams with new franchises in Brooklyn and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Should such a move come to reality, the World-Telegram and Sun predicted that the loss of two of its five founding cities would deal the proposed Continental Baseball League "a killing blow."

The report, under the byline of baseball writer Dan Daniel, said the proposal of Brooklyn and Minneapolis - St. Paul additions was made by one of the American League's "high officials." The so-called Brooklyn entry would be located at the Flushing Meadow Stadium the city is considering building.

Daniel said this proposal will be considered by the league at its annual meeting at Miami Beach, Dec. 17.

In Boston Joe Cronin, American League president, said a fact-finding committee is scheduled to report Dec. 7-9 on problems of expansion. He said many problems have to be ironed out before specific cities could be discussed.

In New York, William A. Shea, chairman of the founders group of the Continental League, conceded that establishment of an American League team in New York would kill his league "because New York is the key." But he contended this "never will happen."

"The American League has no intention of expanding," said Shea. "This is another erroneous report to harass us."

New York state leads in American Bowling Congress members with 83,494, California is second with 77,530 pinmen.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

TOSS OUT THE RECORDS, good or bad, for when Army and Navy meet it's always a great football game.

And, the annual meeting of the service teams comes up Saturday, the 60th in the series and the Navy hopes it can ring the bells and bring the standings a bit closer.

Ringing the bells for the Midshipmen is part of the glamorous fixings surrounding the Army-Navy games.

One of them is the Japanese bell, which was presented to the Academy in 1858 upon the death of Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry. This bell rings only when the Navy beats the Army in football although it was used on another occasion just once—VJ Day.

The other bell is what is known as the "Big E" bell, which was brought to the Naval Academy nine years ago. The two-foot bell came from the bridge of the famed aircraft carrier Enterprise, now mothballed. It rings out the news any day on which Navy wins the majority of its athletic contests with Army and also on the day when Navy beats the Army in football.

The Army, of course, will do all it can to keep those bells silent again this year.

• • •

HOW CLOSE THIS FAMED series has been over the years is seen by the statistics, which show that Army has won 30, Navy 24 with five ties. And, how close the battles have been is highlighted by the records which show that only five times in the 59 years of history of the game has a winner been able to score as many as 30 points.

Accenting the battle a bit more, 21 games in the series have been won by a touchdown or less.

Neither Army nor Navy go into the 60th game with good records for the service clubs. Army is 4-4-1 for the season and Navy is the same, 4-4-1. Army won last year's game.

The series started in 1890. It had lapses in the late 1890s, in 1909, in 1917-18, and in 1928-29.

For the first time in several years, both academies will have new coaches guiding their teams in this big classic, which will draw 100,000 as usual.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Everything's coming up roses for Yves Montand—and it's all right to borrow that expression from the Jules Styne song hit because it is Jules himself, in association with Milton Krasner, who will star Yves on Broadway in "The Story of George Carpentier." I heard Montand, the French singing star husband of Simone Signoret again when he starred in his one man show at the Huntington Hartford Theatre. What an artist!

It's surprising that he will do no singing playing the role of Carpentier, the former heavyweight champion of France. I repeat it's surprising there will be no music because Styne is a songwriter and Yves a singer. But Jules says that he will function solely as co-producer along with Krasner of the Carpentier story on the stage and claims that Montand is as good an actor as he is a singer. Later, the Carpentier story will become a movie.

Quietly and earnestly Bryan Foy has been working on the life of Blessed Martin Deporres, the famous Dominican priest who died in 1639. Brother Deporres was beatified, but never canonized. A move is on now, however, for the canonization of this priest whose deeds are still talked about. His father was a Peruvian knight, and his mother was a Negress. As a boy he was interested in healing and later spent his life helping those who needed aid.

Bryan said an item I wrote some time ago brought forth thousands of letters urging him to make this story. He'd like Nat King Cole for the role.

Next Thursday in the crystal room of the Beverly Hills Hotel there will be a repeat of the luncheon Joseph Levine gave at the Plaza Hotel in New York to introduce the score of "Jack, The Ripper."

Levine was so enthusiastic he telephoned me from New York saying it's one of the best musical scores he ever heard. He is so pleased that he's engaged Jimmy McHugh and Pete Rugolo again to write the music for his new picture coming up.

Levine is a shot in the arm to this industry, the way he goes about selling his product. He knows the more you spend the more you get, and he pre-sells his product by great showmanship and exploitation. He arrived in town Thursday.

From the tone of Jayne Mansfield's hand-written letter, England seems to have gone for her in a big way. She stepped right out of "The Challenge," into a second picture, and she says that she and Mickey (Hargitay) have a part in "The Loves of Hercules" which will be made in Rome.

"The exciting thing about it," writes Jayne, "is that I will play the three leading women's parts myself, with blonde, red, and black hair. We start January 1st, but I'm coming home for Christmas. My father and mother will fly in from Texas to be with us."

Mickey Jr. celebrates his first birthday December 21st. I must say our town is a little quiet since Jaynie, who has the same flair for publicity as Zsa Zsa Gabor, has been away.

A very sentimental token Shirley MacLaine received from Maurice Chevalier is the photograph of Mistinguette taken in 1903. Mistinguette was said, by many, to be the first love of Chevalier's life, and when she died he was so broken up that he went into seclusion.

The photograph, which was given Shirley at the conclusion of "Can Can," in which they worked together, was inscribed: "Thank you, dear Shirley. Hope we can work together again soon." This is the only thing that took Shirley's mind for two minutes off "Operation Typhoon." She's been working like mad on that.

Local Man Given Jail Term

A local man was sentenced to 60 days in the county lockup yesterday in default of $150 in fines on three charges resulting from an early morning fracas at a South Cumberland establishment.

James Hendershot, 407 Race Street, was fined $50 at a hearing before Trial Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt on charges of being drunk, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Testimony at the hearing in Police Court disclosed that Officer James Brown called for reinforcements when notified that a "free for all" was taking place at the South End Democratic Club.

Officers Harold Gibson and Royce Clayton said they arrived at the site shortly afterward and were leaving the club when Richard Fox, of Utah Avenue, began abusing them verbally and spoke disparagingly of the Police Department.

Fox forfeited $80 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing yesterday.

After pronouncing sentence, Weatherholt advised Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney to send a copy of the arresting officer's report to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for their consideration.

County Board Invited To Elks Memorial

Cumberland Lodge 63, B.P.O. Elks, has invited the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to attend the lodge's annual memorial services, Sunday, December 6 at 2 p. m.

A letter of invitation was sent to the board by George A. Caswell, memorial committee chairman.

Traffic Club To Hold Christmas Party

The Tri-State Traffic Club will hold its annual Christmas party following a dinner meeting Wednesday, December 9, at 6:30 p. m. in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The event will be for members and their wives and a dance will start at 9 p. m. to a seven-piece band.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is a freshman in college. He was always shy and we hoped college would bring him out.

Last week Robert came home for the weekend. It was the first time we'd seen him since he left home September 12th. Now, every sentence has H-E double toothpicks or a damn in it. He never used these words before and my husband and I don't know how to handle the situation.

We decided to ignore it and neither of us said anything. Robert left yesterday. His departing words were "I had a he— of a good time." If he is still swearing when he comes home for Christmas shall we say something?

—SMALL TOWN FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: Give Robert at least until Easter to return to normal. He's trying to demonstrate that he's a grown up man now and he thinks this is the way to do it.

Robert wants to make sure you notice "a change" in him. "This, too, shall pass."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For the past two years I've been corresponding with a young man who lives in a foreign country. In February he is coming to the United States as an exchange student. I am sure my letters encouraged him and therefore I feel somewhat responsible for him.

When I told Mother I wanted to meet him at the airport she was very disturbed. She claims I shouldn't give him any ideas since he has a different religion.

Believe me, Ann, I'm not interested in this boy as a sweetheart. I want only to give him a friendly welcome. He is going to stay in a college dormitory and doesn't know a soul in America. Would it be wrong to meet him at the airport? Please give me your opinion.

—BERNICE

DEAR BERNICE: I think it would be very nice if you met him at the airport. May I suggest you invite a few friends along so the greeting will be more festive and less "personal." Mom will feel better about it, too.

DEAR ANN: I'm 60 but could pass for 50 any day. My wife died several years ago and for the past two years I've been seeing a widow 48.

We enjoy each other's company and have similar backgrounds. There is no reason why we shouldn't marry except that she doesn't want to. She says she likes me but she doesn't love me. I know she is not seeing anyone else. I want a wife not a pal. Shall I break up with her or keep hoping?

—YOUNGER THAN SPRINGTIME

DEAR YOUNGER THAN: Give the pal three months to re-tool. If at the end of that period she still is not interested in marriage, tell her it's been charming, then find a woman who wants to share your life.

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNSOLD: Sorry, your friend is correct. There's no such thing as "pure teasing" or "100% kidding." In every joke is a germ of seriousness. People often "kid" to cover up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEEP THINKER: You're not thinking deeply enough. The correct quote is "THE LOVE OF money is the root of all evil."

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNNERVED MOTHER: A swat on the back porch never hurt a three-year-old. There's a difference between a beating and a well-timed, strategically placed wallop.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

13,756 Tibetans Flee To India, Nehru Says

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru informed Parliament here that 13,756 Tibetan refugees had fled to India since the Chinese Communists began their repression of the anti - Communist revolt in Tibet.

He said 1,623 refugees entered India from Bhutan, one of the Himalaya kingdoms now under Communist threat.

Nehru said the refugees were being employed in road building and handicraft programs and that the old, infirm and sick refugees were being housed and maintained by the Indian government.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Everything's coming up roses for Yves Montand—and it's all right to borrow that expression from the Jules Styne song hit because it is Jules himself, in association with Milton Krasner, who will star Yves on Broadway in "The Story of George Carpentier." I heard Montand, the French singing star husband of Simone Signoret again when he starred in his one man show at the Huntington Hartford Theatre. What an artist!

It's surprising that he will do no singing playing the role of Carpentier, the former heavyweight champion of France. I repeat it's surprising there will be no music because Styne is a songwriter and Yves a singer. But Jules says that he will function solely as co-producer along with Krasner of the Carpentier story on the stage and claims that Montand is as good an actor as he is a singer. Later, the Carpentier story will become a movie.

Quietly and earnestly Bryan Foy has been working on the life of Blessed Martin Deporres, the famous Dominican priest who died in 1639. Brother Deporres was beatified, but never canonized. A move is on now, however, for the canonization of this priest whose deeds are still talked about. His father was a Peruvian knight, and his mother was a Negress. As a boy he was interested in healing and later spent his life helping those who needed aid.

Bryan said an item I wrote some time ago brought forth thousands of letters urging him to make this story. He'd like Nat King Cole for the role.

Next Thursday in the crystal room of the Beverly Hills Hotel there will be a repeat of the luncheon Joseph Levine gave at the Plaza Hotel in New York to introduce the score of "Jack, The Ripper."

Levine was so enthusiastic he telephoned me from New York saying it's one of the best musical scores he ever heard. He is so pleased that he's engaged Jimmy McHugh and Pete Rugolo again to write the music for his new picture coming up.

Levine is a shot in the arm to this industry, the way he goes about selling his product. He knows the more you spend the more you get, and he pre-sells his product by great showmanship and exploitation. He arrived in town Thursday.

From the tone of Jayne Mansfield's hand-written letter, England seems to have gone for her in a big way. She stepped right out of "The Challenge," into a second picture, and she says that she and Mickey (Hargitay) have a part in "The Loves of Hercules" which will be made in Rome.

"The exciting thing about it," writes Jayne, "is that I will play the three leading women's parts myself, with blonde, red, and black hair. We start January 1st, but I'm coming home for Christmas. My father and mother will fly in from Texas to be with us."

Mickey Jr. celebrates his first birthday December 21st. I must say our town is a little quiet since Jaynie, who has the same flair for publicity as Zsa Zsa Gabor, has been away.

A very sentimental token Shirley MacLaine received from Maurice Chevalier is the photograph of Mistinguette taken in 1903. Mistinguette was said, by many, to be the first love of Chevalier's life, and when she died he was so broken up that he went into seclusion.

The photograph, which was given Shirley at the conclusion of "Can Can," in which they worked together, was inscribed: "Thank you, dear Shirley. Hope we can work together again soon." This is the only thing that took Shirley's mind for two minutes off "Operation Typhoon." She's been working like mad on that.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Radio Corp. of America has announced development of an electronic device that the company said is small and uses less power and operates at faster speeds than the transistor. RCA also said the device should play an important role in missile control and guidance systems.

Local Man Given Jail Term

A local man was sentenced to 60 days in the county lockup yesterday in default of $150 in fines on three charges resulting from an early morning fracas at a South Cumberland establishment.

James Hendershot, 407 Race Street, was fined $50 at a hearing before Trial Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt on charges of being drunk, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Testimony at the hearing in Police Court disclosed that Officer James Brown called for reinforcements when notified that a "free for all" was taking place at the South End Democratic Club.

Officers Harold Gibson and Royce Clayton said they arrived at the site shortly afterward and were leaving the club when Richard Fox, of Utah Avenue, began abusing them verbally and spoke disparagingly of the Police Department.

Fox forfeited $80 bond when he failed to appear for a hearing yesterday.

After pronouncing sentence, Weatherholt advised Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney to send a copy of the arresting officer's report to the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for their consideration.

County Board Invited To Elks Memorial

Cumberland Lodge 63, B.P.O. Elks, has invited the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to attend the lodge's annual memorial services, Sunday, December 6 at 2 p. m.

A letter of invitation was sent to the board by George A. Caswell, memorial committee chairman.

Traffic Club To Hold Christmas Party

The Tri-State Traffic Club will hold its annual Christmas party following a dinner meeting Wednesday, December 9, at 6:30 p. m. in the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The event will be for members and their wives and a dance will start at 9 p. m. to a seven-piece band.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is a freshman in college. He was always shy and we hoped college would bring him out.

Last week Robert came home for the weekend. It was the first time we'd seen him since he left home September 12th. Now, every sentence has H-E double toothpicks or a damn in it. He never used these words before and my husband and I don't know how to handle the situation.

We decided to ignore it and neither of us said anything. Robert left yesterday. His departing words were "I had a he— of a good time." If he is still swearing when he comes home for Christmas shall we say something?

—SMALL TOWN FOLKS

DEAR FOLKS: Give Robert at least until Easter to return to normal. He's trying to demonstrate that he's a grown up man now and he thinks this is the way to do it.

Robert wants to make sure you notice "a change" in him. "This, too, shall pass."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For the past two years I've been corresponding with a young man who lives in a foreign country. In February he is coming to the United States as an exchange student. I am sure my letters encouraged him and therefore I feel somewhat responsible for him.

When I told Mother I wanted to meet him at the airport she was very disturbed. She claims I shouldn't give him any ideas since he has a different religion.

Believe me, Ann, I'm not interested in this boy as a sweetheart. I want only to give him a friendly welcome. He is going to stay in a college dormitory and doesn't know a soul in America. Would it be wrong to meet him at the airport? Please give me your opinion.

—BERNICE

DEAR BERNICE: I think it would be very nice if you met him at the airport. May I suggest you invite a few friends along so the greeting will be more festive and less "personal." Mom will feel better about it, too.

DEAR ANN: I'm 60 but could pass for 50 any day. My wife died several years ago and for the past two years I've been seeing a widow 48.

We enjoy each other's company and have similar backgrounds. There is no reason why we shouldn't marry except that she doesn't want to. She says she likes me but she doesn't love me. I know she is not seeing anyone else. I want a wife not a pal. Shall I break up with her or keep hoping?

—YOUNGER THAN SPRINGTIME

DEAR YOUNGER THAN: Give the pal three months to re-tool. If at the end of that period she still is not interested in marriage, tell her it's been charming, then find a woman who wants to share your life.

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNSOLD: Sorry, your friend is correct. There's no such thing as "pure teasing" or "100% kidding." In every joke is a germ of seriousness. People often "kid" to cover up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEEP THINKER: You're not thinking deeply enough. The correct quote is "THE LOVE OF money is the root of all evil."

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNNERVED MOTHER: A swat on the back porch never hurt a three-year-old. There's a difference between a beating and a well-timed, strategically placed wallop.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

13,756 Tibetans Flee To India, Nehru Says

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru informed Parliament here that 13,756 Tibetan refugees had fled to India since the Chinese Communists began their repression of the anti - Communist revolt in Tibet.

He said 1,623 refugees entered India from Bhutan, one of the Himalaya kingdoms now under Communist threat.

Nehru said the refugees were being employed in road building and handicraft programs and that the old, infirm and sick refugees were being housed and maintained by the Indian government.

Two Keyser Men Injured In Crash

Two Keyser area men were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital late Wednesday night when the car in which they were riding crashed into the Patterson Creek Bridge on W. Va. Route 46, about 10 miles east of Keyser.

The car was driven by George W. McCarty, 29, of RD 1, Keyser, who sustained lacerations of the left knee and chin. McCarty was traveling east on the highway when the mishap occurred about 11:25 p. m.

Wayne D. Shreve, 20, also of RD 1, was a passenger in McCarty's 1954-model car and suffered a fracture of the right leg and loss of several teeth.

Both men were reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Trooper Charles Oliver of the West Virginia State Police who is investigating, estimated the property damage at $1,000.

LaVale PTA To Show Movies

Announcement was made at the meeting of the LaVale PTA group that movies will be shown each Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the school.

Mrs. Paul Keller, ways and means chairman, said plans are also being made for a smorgasbord dinner in January. Paul Buchanan presided at the meeting and the program was under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Rice.

A style show was presented by the Jack and Jill Shop of Cumberland. Pupils of the school modeled the clothes. The 5th Grade Home Room Mothers served refreshments.

Tobaccos And Space Age Stocks Feature Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Strength in space age stocks and weakness among the tobaccos featured a generally firm and quiet stock market.

The shares of cigaret makers took a severe pasting on the statement of Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney linking lung cancer to smoking.

American Tobacco was off nearly 6 at its low but recovered part of its loss to close at 104½ off 4¾. Liggett & Myers at 90 was off 1⅞; Lorillard trading ex-dividend fell a half to 38½; Reynolds lost 2⅝ to 62⅛ and Philip Morris dropped ⅜-point to 62¾.

The space age group set the pace from start to finish. Consolidated Electronics added more than 6, while Motorola gained more than 4, General Time 3, Litton nearly 6, and Varian and Ampex more than 2 each.

The industrial average posted its eighth straight advance in a session that restored nearly $1,500,000,000 to market valuations.

Trading shrank to 3,030,000 shares from 3,550,000 shares on Wednesday as many traders stretched Thanksgiving into a four day holiday. The market narrowed somewhat to 1,207 issues traded, of which 593 advanced, 407 declined and 207 held unchanged.

There were 34 new lows reached as against 23 new highs.

Curtiss-Wright, which gyrated widely on Wednesday, up first on its new engine and then down sharply on a dividend cut, again featured the market in turnover. It was the most active with 107,000 shares, closing at 36½, up 1⅝.

Steels perked up and their gains ran to more than a point each in Lukens and Carpenter and a half or more in U.S. Steel and Youngstown. In the chemicals, Thiokol jumped 2 to 61 and International Salt 3 to 140, while Martin featured in the aircrafts with a gain of 2⅞. Lockheed and General Dynamics moved up more than a point each.

Railroad shares joined the upturn with gains of more than 2 in Western Maryland and a point or more in Union Pacific, Norfolk & Western and Baltimore & Ohio.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved irregularly higher in slightly reduced trading volume Friday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures trading was slow and mostly lower Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to off ¾; corn off ⅛ to ½; oats unchanged to off ¼; rye off ¼ to up ¼; soybeans off ⅛ to 1⅜.

Wheat finished easier. December encountered liquidation inna small trade. Monday will be the first day of delivery notices. There was some changing from December to March.

News that Brazil had postponed the purchase of a sizable amount of U.S. wheat had a temporary demoralizing effect on the market. Offers on 660,000 cwts. Of flour went out to the United Arab Republic, and a new wheat authorization was issued to Pakistan and India.

Corn was also slow and easier. Commercial houses were the main sellers, while buying came from local and commission houses. Export subsidies were granted on 319,000 bushels of corn.

Nearby oats deliveries eased after a steady start. There was moderate cash house buying of December. Longs sold.

Rye prices eased on liquidation and commission selling. Winnipeg was also lower.

Soybeans ran into stop loss selling orders and liquidation. Prices fell more than a cent in most contracts. Meal prices were also weak.

Export circles reported Japan bought soybeans and West Germany took a parcel of dark hard wheat.

Outside markets were mostly lower.

Tobaccos And Space Age Stocks Feature Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Strength in space age stocks and weakness among the tobaccos featured a generally firm and quiet stock market.

The shares of cigaret makers took a severe pasting on the statement of Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney linking lung cancer to smoking.

American Tobacco was off nearly 6 at its low but recovered part of its loss to close at 104½ off 4¾. Liggett & Myers at 90 was off 1⅞; Lorillard trading ex-dividend fell a half to 38½; Reynolds lost 2⅝ to 62⅛ and Philip Morris dropped ⅜-point to 62¾.

The space age group set the pace from start to finish. Consolidated Electronics added more than 6, while Motorola gained more than 4, General Time 3, Litton nearly 6, and Varian and Ampex more than 2 each.

The industrial average posted its eighth straight advance in a session that restored nearly $1,500,000,000 to market valuations.

Trading shrank to 3,030,000 shares from 3,550,000 shares on Wednesday as many traders stretched Thanksgiving into a four day holiday. The market narrowed somewhat to 1,207 issues traded, of which 593 advanced, 407 declined and 207 held unchanged.

There were 34 new lows reached as against 23 new highs.

Curtiss-Wright, which gyrated widely on Wednesday, up first on its new engine and then down sharply on a dividend cut, again featured the market in turnover. It was the most active with 107,000 shares, closing at 36½, up 1⅝.

Steels perked up and their gains ran to more than a point each in Lukens and Carpenter and a half or more in U.S. Steel and Youngstown. In the chemicals, Thiokol jumped 2 to 61 and International Salt 3 to 140, while Martin featured in the aircrafts with a gain of 2⅞. Lockheed and General Dynamics moved up more than a point each.

Railroad shares joined the upturn with gains of more than 2 in Western Maryland and a point or more in Union Pacific, Norfolk & Western and Baltimore & Ohio.

Stocks on the American Exchange moved irregularly higher in slightly reduced trading volume Friday.

Two Children Are Overcome By Gas Fumes

Mother Collapses At Keyser Hospital

Two small children of a Westernport family who were overcome by gas fumes in their home Thursday afternoon were later revived after being taken to Potomac Valley Hospital Keyser where their mother collapsed because of the fumes.

Mrs. Patricia (Robinson) DeVore, 206 Smoot Street, collapsed shortly after being taken to the emergency room at the hospital, her mother-in-law said.

Her three-year-old daughter, Devra DeVore, and 15 months old son, Russell DeVore III, were both overcome by the fumes from the gas furnace in the basement of the home.

They were kept at the hospital for about two and a half hours and later discharged. Mrs. Pearl DeVore, 26 Howard Street, Westernport, grandmother of the children, received a call from her daughter-in-law about 2 p.m. Thursday.

The daughter-in-law told her something had happened to the two youngsters. Mrs. DeVore rushed to the home and found the little boy unconscious on a bed on the second floor and the little girl unconscious on the sofa in the living room. They had been getting ready to take their afternoon nap.

She rushed the mother and her two children to the Keyser hospital for treatment. The father was on their farm near Burlington looking after some stock at the time. He returned home about 5 p. m.

On Thursday morning a repairman had been called to fix the furnace. He repaired the furnace and the family thought the heating equipment was in good shape. Meanwhile the family has had the furnace double-checked by the repairman.

Two Men Held For Questioning In Area Theft

Ridgeley Service Station Entered

Two Soddy, Tenn., men were arrested yesterday evening by city police and are being held for questioning in the breaking and entering of a service station early yesterday in Ridgeley.

City Police Detective Kenneth Morrissey said one of the men is visiting in Wiley Ford. Assistant Police Chief John Sherry spotted their car parked on Liberty Street and the men were taken into custody in a business establishment on that street.

Police said the two men admitted being in Ridgeley Thursday night. A pickup was issued on their car that night after police received a complaint from a local service station operator concerning two men who are being sought by West Virginia State Police at Romney.

Seek Fingerprints

Yesterday Jack Cornett, chief of police of Ridgeley asked City Police Detective Lieutenant James E. Van for an assist in solving the breaking and entering.

Chief Cornett said Frank Magruder's service station at the intersection of Third Avenue and West Virginia Route 28 was broken into around 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

Missing are a 410-gauge shotgun, a .30 calibre rifle, a semi-automatic .22 calibre rifle with a scope, and about $10 in cash which was taken from a church collection container.

The service station was entered through a window in the rear of the establishment. Sections of the broken glass were brought to local police headquarters yesterday afternoon by Chief Cornett for pictures of fingerprints.

Home Is Entered

The police chief said the intruder apparently was scared away from the service station, since tools and merchandise was found in the back of the establishment, where it evidently had been placed for loading into a vehicle.

The home of a local physician also was entered and ransacked. City Police said the home of Dr. James G. Stegmaier, 904 Louisiana Avenue, was broken into after 5 p. m. Thursday.

Entry was made by cutting the screen from a storm door and then breaking the glass in the back door. Nothing apparently was taken.

In another attempted breaking and entering in Ridgeley someone tried to get into Firemen's Hall. The rear screen door was broken but an attempt to force the back door was interrupted by the night watchman.

Local Hunter Accidentally Shot In Leg

David McFarland, 23, In 'Good' Condition

A 23-year-old local hunter was accidentally shot in the left leg by a companion Thursday morning while they were chasing a wounded rabbit across a field on Mexico Farms, police said.

David McFarland of 749 Maryland Avenue, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital, is reported in "good" condition. Police said the man was shot in the left leg below the knee about 11:10 a.m.

He was wounded by a 16-gauge shotgun and was given first aid by a nurse at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch, said police. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Trooper George Robinett of the State Police said McFarland was hunting rabbits with three companions in the vicinity of the glass plant.

One of the other companions had shot a rabbit and wounded it. McFarland and Leo Williams, 22, of 700 Lafayette Avenue, began running across the field to catch the crippled animal.

While running, Williams fell to the ground. His shotgun accidentally discharged and pellets struck McFarland, who was about 60 feet in front of Williams.

The dispatcher's office reported that a knuckle, a connecting link, between two cars was broken and some difficulty was experienced in removing it. Yule Shopping Season Gets Off To Wet Start

The Christmas shopping season officially opened here last night.

The steady rain which fell all day dampened but failed to quench the spirit of Christmas shoppers.

Downtown Christmas street decorations were lighted at 7 p. m. by Santa Claus in the presence of officials of the Retail Merchants Association, which is providing the street decorations on Baltimore Street and portions of North Centre and North Mechanic streets.

The prevalence of bundles being protected by umbrellas proved that hundreds of tri-state area shoppers were able to find part of the treasures needed to fill the area's Christmas stocking.

Merchants report that choice items are in good supply this year.

Wise shoppers, however, are expected to make their purchases early in the season, while the choicest items are available and while there is time to wrap and mail gifts to distant points.

Stores will be open Mondays and Fridays until 9 p. m. during the next two weeks. Beginning December 14, they will be open every night until 9 p. m. except Saturday, when the usual 5 or 6 p. m. closing hours will be observed.

During Christmas week, stores will be open until 9 p. m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and will close at 5 p. m. on Christmas Eve.

Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club Gathers Food For Needy

Over 600 cans of food and $70 was collected by the Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club during its annual White Thanksgiving Drive.

Cans which were collected were given to the Associated Charities and were distributed to needy families in the area. The money was used to buy perishable foods such as meat, bread and milk. The cans were gift-wrapped in white tissue paper.

Joyce Hamner and Bitsy Mank headed the drive, which was sponsored by the service committee. Assisting them were Sandy Abramson, Linda Lewis, Donna Walker and Donna Stine.

The money and canned goods were collected by Tri-Hi-Y representatives in each home room at the school. Junior high girls who were selected by their teachers assisted in the drive.

The club also raised funds by selling mums for the Thanksgiving Day football game. Carolyn Hamner was in charge of the project and she was assisted by Kitty Koegel, Adela Roberts and JoAnn Carscaden.

The Allegany Tri-Hi-Y Club is a service organization and Mrs. Margaret Zembower and Miss Helen McFerran serve as advisors.

The club also is making plans for a Little Sister Party at Christmas time for the benefit of needy children in the area.

Dystrophy Canister Nets $40

Over $40 was deposited in one of the canisters distributed among business places in Cumberland during the current muscular dystrophy drive.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter, said yesterday the amount was the largest he has ever seen in one canister.

The other day one of the city firemen walked into Boggs' Delicatessen at 235 Henderson Avenue and noticed the canister was filled to the brim.

When the money was counted there was $40.36, including about $21 in half dollars. Chief Parker said most of the money apparently was contributed by young people.

Meanwhile, marchers' kits have been mailed to local volunteers who will take part in the door-to-door canvass next Monday night in charge of Arthur Nave, city fireman.

Kits also are being sent to Mrs. George Kennedy of Frostburg who will be in charge of the house-to-house canvass in that community the same night.

Contributions in the annual campaign will be used toward research, clinics and patient care of those with the crippling disease which victimizes both young and old, Chief Parker said.

Medical Care Survey To Be Conducted Here

A survey is being planned to determine how wisely or unwisely Maryland's Medical Care Program is being used in Allegany County.

Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, said the study will be made by the staff of the county unit with the assistance of the State Health Department.

He said it will get under way as soon as the office staff of the Allegany County Health Department, now reduced by illness, is at full strength.

Preliminary plans for the study were made recently as Dr. Alice Tobler and Dr. Charlotte Silverman, division heads of the state unit, conferred with County Health Department officials.

Will Study Use

The study is being made to determine the extent of use and possible overuse of abuse of the program set up to provide health services for those who cannot afford to pay.

Dr. van Strien said Medical Care expenditures in Allegany County are the highest of any county in the state, regardless of size.

He added that administration is complicated in this county, due to the absence of an active County Medical Care Advisory Committee.

The Medical Care program provides free medical services and drugs, and limited dental services to two groups of citizens.

Two Groups Eligible

They include the indigent and those carried on public assistance rolls, who are automatically certified for the free services; and the medically indigent — those who cannot meet the cost of medical care but who are self-supporting in other respects.

Physicians who participate in the program are paid at reduced rates, and pharmacists who supply drugs prescribed by physicians receive a comparatively small mark-up.

The limited dental services available are used chiefly for children and young adults.

Technically termed the Maryland Home and Office Medical Care Program, the services have been available for 14 years.

It usually serves about two per cent of the population in Maryland's 23 counties.

Two Children Are Overcome By Gas Fumes

Mother Collapses At Keyser Hospital

Two small children of a Westernport family who were overcome by gas fumes in their home Thursday afternoon were later revived after being taken to Potomac Valley Hospital Keyser where their mother collapsed because of the fumes.

Mrs. Patricia (Robinson) DeVore, 206 Smoot Street, collapsed shortly after being taken to the emergency room at the hospital, her mother-in-law said.

Her three-year-old daughter, Devra DeVore, and 15 months old son, Russell DeVore III, were both overcome by the fumes from the gas furnace in the basement of the home.

They were kept at the hospital for about two and a half hours and later discharged. Mrs. Pearl DeVore, 26 Howard Street, Westernport, grandmother of the children, received a call from her daughter-in-law about 2 p.m. Thursday.

The daughter-in-law told her something had happened to the two youngsters. Mrs. DeVore rushed to the home and found the little boy unconscious on a bed on the second floor and the little girl unconscious on the sofa in the living room. They had been getting ready to take their afternoon nap.

She rushed the mother and her two children to the Keyser hospital for treatment. The father was on their farm near Burlington looking after some stock at the time. He returned home about 5 p. m.

On Thursday morning a repairman had been called to fix the furnace. He repaired the furnace and the family thought the heating equipment was in good shape. Meanwhile the family has had the furnace double-checked by the repairman.

Two Men Held For Questioning In Area Theft

Ridgeley Service Station Entered

Two Soddy, Tenn., men were arrested yesterday evening by city police and are being held for questioning in the breaking and entering of a service station early yesterday in Ridgeley.

City Police Detective Kenneth Morrissey said one of the men is visiting in Wiley Ford. Assistant Police Chief John Sherry spotted their car parked on Liberty Street and the men were taken into custody in a business establishment on that street.

Police said the two men admitted being in Ridgeley Thursday night. A pickup was issued on their car that night after police received a complaint from a local service station operator concerning two men who are being sought by West Virginia State Police at Romney.

Seek Fingerprints

Yesterday Jack Cornett, chief of police of Ridgeley asked City Police Detective Lieutenant James E. Van for an assist in solving the breaking and entering.

Chief Cornett said Frank Magruder's service station at the intersection of Third Avenue and West Virginia Route 28 was broken into around 1:30 a. m. yesterday.

Missing are a 410-gauge shotgun, a .30 calibre rifle, a semi-automatic .22 calibre rifle with a scope, and about $10 in cash which was taken from a church collection container.

The service station was entered through a window in the rear of the establishment. Sections of the broken glass were brought to local police headquarters yesterday afternoon by Chief Cornett for pictures of fingerprints.

Home Is Entered

The police chief said the intruder apparently was scared away from the service station, since tools and merchandise was found in the back of the establishment, where it evidently had been placed for loading into a vehicle.

The home of a local physician also was entered and ransacked. City Police said the home of Dr. James G. Stegmaier, 904 Louisiana Avenue, was broken into after 5 p. m. Thursday.

Entry was made by cutting the screen from a storm door and then breaking the glass in the back door. Nothing apparently was taken.

In another attempted breaking and entering in Ridgeley someone tried to get into Firemen's Hall. The rear screen door was broken but an attempt to force the back door was interrupted by the night watchman.

Yule Shopping Season Gets Off To Wet Start

The Christmas shopping season officially opened here last night.

The steady rain which fell all day dampened but failed to quench the spirit of Christmas shoppers.

Downtown Christmas street decorations were lighted at 7 p. m. by Santa Claus in the presence of officials of the Retail Merchants Association, which is providing the street decorations on Baltimore Street and portions of North Centre and North Mechanic streets.

The prevalence of bundles being protected by umbrellas proved that hundreds of tri-state area shoppers were able to find part of the treasures needed to fill the area's Christmas stocking.

Merchants report that choice items are in good supply this year.

Wise shoppers, however, are expected to make their purchases early in the season, while the choicest items are available and while there is time to wrap and mail gifts to distant points.

Stores will be open Mondays and Fridays until 9 p. m. during the next two weeks. Beginning December 14, they will be open every night until 9 p. m. except Saturday, when the usual 5 or 6 p. m. closing hours will be observed.

During Christmas week, stores will be open until 9 p. m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and will close at 5 p. m. on Christmas Eve.

The money and canned goods were collected by Tri-Hi-Y representatives in each home room at the school. Junior high girls who were selected by their teachers assisted in the drive.

The club also raised funds by selling mums for the Thanksgiving Day football game. Carolyn Hamner was in charge of the project and she was assisted by Kitty Koegel, Adela Roberts and JoAnn Carscaden.

The other day one of the city firemen walked into Boggs' Delicatessen at 235 Henderson Avenue and noticed the canister was filled to the brim.

Meanwhile, marchers' kits have been mailed to local volunteers who will take part in the door-to-door canvass next Monday night in charge of Arthur Nave, city fireman.

Kits also are being sent to Mrs. George Kennedy of Frostburg who will be in charge of the house-to-house canvass in that community the same night.
